ROSEBURG WILL ADVERTISE.—Review: "At a special meeting of the board of trade Tuesday evening the principal topic discussed was the matter of advertising Douglas county and its resources. The special committee on advertising reported favorably on the issuance of a 20-page illustrated booklet for distribution in the East and elsewhere. After considering various motions it was decided to adopt the recommendations of the committee and issue 5000 copies of such booklet." Roseburg, together with nearly every town of importance in Western Oregon, realizes the value of such a manner of advertising. When is Eugene going to get a move on in this matter?

DON'T WANT A ROADMASTER.—At the present term of commissioners' court there have been presented to that body recommendations against the appointment of a county roadmaster from 15 different precincts, with a total of 599 names attached thereto. It seems to be the general wish among the taxpayers of the county that a roadmaster is unnecessary, and that office will probably remain unfilled in Lane county.

"DAD'S GIRL."

The Old Story of Success Repeated at the Parker Last Night.

The Parker was packed to the doors again last night, and in "Dad's Girl" the Shirley Company has found another vehicle in which to continue its journey to success. The play is a clever little domestic story of modern times, in which pathos and comedy struggle amiably for a supremacy, with a slight advantage in favor of the latter. The plot revolves upon the efforts of a young girl to save her father's reason by causing him to believe that his only son, who was the apple of the old man's eye, and who fell into criminal ways and was sentenced to prison for life, had run away from home, enlisted and been killed at Shiloh. The son's escape from prison and his subsequent blackmailing of his adopted sister to gether with her schemes to keep her father from learning the truth, form a story of more than ordinary interest.

Miss Shirley invested the title role with an admixture of simplicity and shrewdness, pathos, comedy, effervescent youth and womanly sweetness which won the heart of all.

The support was excellent throughout and the play moved with a smoothness that proved conclusively that it was being handled by a company of artists.

This evening, D'Ennery and Carman's masterpiece, "The Two Orphans" will be presented with an array of special scenery and costumes seldom shown by a travelling company.
