G. N. CASTLE.

G. N. Castle of Saginaw, Democratic candidate for the legislature in Lane county, is a native of the state of New York where he first saw light fifty-four years ago. His parents resided in New York City most of the time till 1868, when they removed to Iowa. There young Castle became a granger in every sense that the word implies. Was married in 1871. Six children blessed the union, but two of whom are living. Four sons died from diphtheria, three of them in one week.

Was elected first trustee of Danbury, Iowa, in 1882. Afterwards was elected city recorder two terms, then mayor two terms. Was elected to the lower house of the legislature in 1892; was appointed postmaster of Danbury in 1893 and served four years and six months, being superseded by a Republican on the election of President McKinley. Came to Oregon in 1899 where, as he writes the GUARD, "I expect to live until called upon to join the loved ones gone before." Mr. Castle's father was a member of the 72nd New York in the War of the Rebellion. Mr. Castle closes a letter to us with sentences that have a sterling ring:

"I have always tried in politics and offices of public trust to act and vote so as to conserve the best interests of the people, not forgetting my political principles. And I saw the time in Iowa when it required moral courage to stand up for Democratic principles. We were few and far between, too."

"I have a personal acquaintance with two citizens of your town, formed in Iowa. They are the Lombard brothers, Lyman and Almer. Both these gentlemen are good Republicans, but I am willing to abide by the name and character they may give me."

We believe the reader will agree with us that Mr. Castle's letter has the "right ring." Farther that his Cottage Grove neighbors made no mistake when they recommended him as a fit person to represent Lane county in the Oregon legislature.

ADVERTISERS CLING TO ESTABLISHED PAPERS.

Advertisers are conservative. They cling to the old. That is why an old journal often grows richer after the number of readers has decreased, while a newer paper with lower advertising rates and perhaps equal circulation fails to get even a fair share of advertising patronage. Confidence is a plant of slow growth.

Fourteen Oregon City factory girls, weavers of plain cloth, are out on a strike. Yesterday forenoon, so the Portland Journal states, the girls were seated on the top of the bluff, with their lunch baskets, watching operations at the mill. That is much more sensible than the usual procedure of their striking brothers—to loiter about to destroy property, else beat or kill someone.

It takes some lumber to build Eugene's crosswalks for a year. The city council has just entered into a contract for eighty thousand feet, enough, it is thought, to build such walks for the next twelve months.

San Francisco's business interests are sadly disarranged by the general streetcar strike. Twenty-eight hundred men are out.

IN GOOD OLD GEORGIA.

COLONEL PASSENGER—That last station was my destination, said Why in heaven's name, said, didn't you stop there?

CONDUCTOR—We don't stop there any more; the engineer's mad at the station agent.

A GENTLE HINT.

SHE—I want you to see my new piano the next time you call.
 HE—When do you expect to get it?

SHE—Oh, in about six months.

If you have not registered with the county clerk at the courthouse do so right away. Registration closes May 15, then if unregistered you will be put to the trouble of hunting up six citizens to vouch for your citizenship before you will be allowed to vote on election day. It is less trouble to register now than to get the necessary certification on election day.

"DOES MOTHER WANT ME?"

The little fellow has blown with all his strength, and the downy tufts still cling to the dandelion stem. According to the oracle of childhood mother does not want him. But mother would tell a different story. She has noticed the weakness of the lungs, and now it is a matter of life and death. She has seen him now flushed with his unusual effort and struggling to stifle the cough which followed it. She'd feel how much she wanted him, and wanted those "weak" lungs made strong, that she might not lose him.

For "weak" lungs, obstinate cough, hemoptysis, weakness and emaciation there is no medicine so healing and so strengthening as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is especially valuable for children, building up weak bodies with sound, healthy flesh. It is entirely free from alcohol and narcotics.

"Winter before this, my oldest boy (who is now nearly five years old) had a terrible cough, and he had it the whole winter and all summer. I wrote J. M. Pierce, Esq., of Cambridge, Mass., and he sent me a box of his Golden Medical Discovery. I gave it to him and he took it and he got well. I am sure it is the best medicine I ever gave him. I am sure it is the best medicine I ever gave him. I am sure it is the best medicine I ever gave him."

ASHLAND OIL WELL.

Will be Put Down 3000 Feet if Necessary.

ASHLAND, April 21.—The stockholders of the Southern Oregon Oil Co., at Ashland, have decided to continue their well to a depth of 3000 feet if necessary. A few days ago H. Hirschburg, the Independence capitalist, who has been boring for oil in Polk county where, according to reports, success has crowned his efforts, was in Ashland and inspected carefully the workings of the plant here. He was struck with the favorable indications found thus far and urged the advisability of the well being put down deeper, and predicted success in striking oil if the well is carried to a greater depth.

A Horrible Outbreak

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head" writes C. D. Lebl, of Morgan, Tenn. But Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, pimples, sores, ulcers and piles. Only 25 cents at W. L. DeLano's.

How to Make Black Ink.

With black ink selling at 5 cents or so a bottle it seems hardly worth while for one to use homemade ink, but the trouble is that all black ink is not black by any means. The following recipe, however, which, by the way, is some 200 years old, tells you how to make a black ink that will not fade and which is dead black in hue. Here is the recipe:

One quart of rainwater filtered through a clean woven cloth, three ounces of bruised galls, one and one-half ounces of sulphate of iron (green copperas) and two and one-half ounces of gum arabic. Coarsely powder the galls and put into a bottle with the other chemicals; stir them up and add the water. Securely close the bottle and place in the sunlight, letting the bottle stand until the gum arabic and copperas have dissolved, occasionally stirring the contents to bring this about. Shake the bottle each day for a month or six weeks, then add some 20 drops of carbolic acid to prevent mold, and your ink is ready for use.

A Curious Puzzle.

The following is a very curious puzzle. Try it, all of you:
 Open a book at random and select a word within the first ten lines and within the tenth word from the end of the line. Mark the word. Now double the number of the page and multiply the sum by five. Then add 20.
 Then add the number of the line you have selected. Then add five. Then multiply the sum by ten.
 Add the number of the word in the line. From this sum subtract 250, and the remainder will indicate in the units column the number of the word, in the tens column the number of the line and the remaining figures the number of the page.
