Fielding and "Tom Jones."

Notwithstanding the good prices he received for his books, Fielding was always more or less in difficulties from his reckless mode of living. "Tom Jones," however, was nearly being sacrificed in one of his impetuous fits for the sum of $25. The publisher fortunately asked for a day to consider if he could risk such a sum, and Fielding in the meantime met Thomson, the poet, to whom he told the transaction. Thomson scorned the idea of Fielding parting with his brains for such a sum and offered to get him better terms, but Fielding felt himself better pledged. Never did author wait more anxiously on a publisher hoping to be accepted than did Fielding hoping to be refused. He was refused!

Joyfully he carried his manuscript to Thomson to fulfill his promise. The poet introduced Fielding to Andrew Miller, who handed the book over to his wife to read. She discerned its merits and advised her husband to keep it. Over a pleasant dinner given by Miller to Fielding and Thomson the bargain was made which secured Fielding, to his great delight, $200 for the story. Miller is said to have cleared $18,000 by "Tom Jones," out of which he paid Fielding from time to time various sums to the amount of $2,000, bequeathing him also a handsome legacy.

The Structure of Ferns.

When flowering plants usually make seed, that is generally the last effort for plant life. The seed is the beginning of the life of the new plant. Ferns, however, only produce spores for reproductive purposes. These spores germinate and go through the same process subsequently that flowers go through in the production of seeds. The spores expand when the germinating time comes and form a flat, green membrane. What are then really the flowers appear on this membrane. As a general rule after these fern flowers have matured the membrane dries up and disappears. In one family of ferns, however, natives of New Holland, named platerium, this green blade is permanent and continues to enlarge, becoming really a portion of the plant. Every year a new blade is formed which spreads over the old ones. The large plant is of a totally different character, having the fronds of ordinary ferns.

Habits of the Wildcat.

To say that a dog can "whip his weight in wildcats" is to pay about the highest tribute to his strength, courage and activity, and there are very few dogs that would care to earn such a tribute if they understood all it implied. Not that a wildcat is of a specially aggressive disposition. On the contrary, he would sooner mind his own business any time than fight. So anxious is he as a rule to keep out of trouble that he has often been accused of cowardice, but he has on so many occasions given evidence of the most desperate courage that it is doubtful if the accusation is a fair one. When wounded or at bay, he is perhaps as dangerous as any creature of his size.

A Pillet of Beef.

For a fillet of beef, cut two pounds into round slices half an inch thick and sprinkle with pepper and salt. Fry in two ounces of butter seven minutes at the most and brush over each piece with glaze. Place a border of mashed potatoes on a dish, lay the fillets on it with alternate slices of baked tomato and the fried beef fat. Also have a piece of maitre d'hotel butter on each fillet. Fill the center with nicely cooked vegetables and pour around a little good beef gravy.

Cures For Sleeplessness.

Horne in his satires recommended swimming the Tiber three times! Sir Thomas Browne was accustomed to repeat some verses of a certain hymn. Franklin took an air bath. Sir John Sinclair counted, while Sir John Renneville when engaged upon any public works never went to sleep until his head had been combed and gently rubbed by a soft hand.

A Hard Domestic Knut.

"I'm in a dudge of a fix. My wife's got the telephone craze." "Well?" "If I put one in, she'll swear I'm sweet on the telephone girl." "Certainly." "And if I don't, she'll say it's because I'm afraid the thing'll expose my duplicity."—Baltimore News.

When the Worm Turned.

In a little town there dwells a man of exceedingly shiftless disposition, and recently he got his "come-uppance." His wife had borne with his shiftlessness for some years. Sometimes she scolded him sharply, but it had no effect. So long as he could shuffle down to the village store and gossip with other men he did not care for a sharp tongue.

He never worked, and the wife supported her husband and did the housework, cooking good meals for his laziness to greedily devour. One day he had a chance to work and did not take it. His wife heard about it and gave him a piece of her mind, but he received it as a kindly as ever. He went down to the store that morning, as usual, as placid and as self-satisfied as ever.

When he returned at noon, a strange sight greeted his eyes. The house was empty, bare as Mother Hubbard's cupboard. He went into the bedrooms. Bedsteads, bureaus, all the furniture, the curtains, everything had been removed. It was the same bareness down stairs. He crept into the kitchen, hoping that there at least he might find something comfortable. Here, too, emptiness greeted him, but directly in the center of the floor was a little white mug, and on it in gilt letters were the words, "Think of me."

Why Americans Think Quicker.

The American people can think quicker and more to the point than any other people in the world. This statement was made recently in a New York newspaper, but the reason given was wide of the mark. The American people read in the aggregate ten times more than any other people. The American boy gets his inspiration, his energetic disposition, his ambition, his keen snapshot judgment and his quick wit largely from his newspaper reading. The poise and culture and refinement and solidity come later in life from the reading of books and magazines and from contact with men and things. It is the American newspaper which sets the initial pace. Push and pluck are contagious, and push and pluck are in the average American newspaper office than anywhere else.—Booklovers' Bulletin.

Unimpressed.

"What kind of ducks are these?" asked the visitor in the ornithological department at the museum. "Labrador," said the attendant. "We paid $1,000 for those two specimens." "Gosh!" exclaimed the visitor, turning to his wife. "He says they paid $1,000 for 'em. I've bought finer ducks for half a dollar many a time. What have you got 'em in that glass case for?" he inquired, addressing the guide again. "Because they are about the most notable exhibit we have. Those birds were shot in 1856. Labrador ducks are now extinct." "He says," exclaimed the visitor, turning to his wife once more. "They put 'em in that glass case because they haven't a pleasant odor. And I don't wonder at it. They were shot in 1856."—Chicago Tribune.

Two Strong Reasons.

A certain Scotch minister in a west highland parish has never yet been known to permit a stranger to occupy his pulpit. Lately, however, an Edinburgh divinity student was spending a few days in the parish, and on the Saturday he called at the manse and asked the minister to be allowed to preach the following day. "My dear young man," said the minister, laying a hand gently on the young man's shoulder, "gin I let ye preach the morn and ye gie a better sermon than me my fowk will never again be satisfied wi' my preaching, and gin ye're na a better preacher than me ye're no' worth listening ta."

His Open Eye.

A man the other day went to a Boston dentist to have a tooth extracted and decided to take gas. The doctor administered the hypnotic, and the man soon appeared to be under its influence, but he continued to keep one eye open. This worried the doctor, and he gave the man more gas. Still the eye remained open. "Shut that eye," said the doctor finally, losing patience. "Can't," said the man in a drowsy voice; "it's glass."

To Color Mahogany.

The natural color of mahogany when it is too light may be deepened by applying a mixture composed of a half gallon of water, four ounces of madder and two ounces of fustic. Boil and apply while hot. While it is wet streak the grain with black. This will give new mahogany quite the coloring of old.

Precocious Youth.

City Property for Sale

HENDERICKS' ADDITION TO EUGENE.—To those desiring to purchase city lots, I have laid out an addition on the south side of the city and north of College Hill Park. I have 120 lots in this addition, and am selling them very low so as to enable every one to have a home of their own. The price of these lots is from $50 up.

ELIAS STENWANT ADDITION TO EUGENE.—To those desiring to purchase city lots in this addition, in the very heart of the city and within a few blocks of Willamette street.

WRIGHTMAN'S ADDITION TO EUGENE.—I have a few lots in this addition within two blocks of the First National Bank.

COLLEGE HILL PARK.—I have 100 lots in this addition. The price now is $50 each. I will advance the price soon. We expect College Hill Park to become the most desirable residence property in or near the city.

HENDERICKS' ADDITION TO COLLEGE HILL PARK.—We have 70 lots for sale cheap in this addition; also 40 or 50 acres of very choice fruit land. I have on this place 1300 young pruned trees, about 400 Bartlett pear trees, and 200 black walnut trees, also apples, plums and small fruits. This place has a good farm house, barn and out-houses, and is a most beautiful suburban piece of property. It is known as the Locust Hill farm, and there is no place in the state more beautifully and pleasantly situated.

I am not in real estate business as a business—we sell our own lands only. I employ no agents. Any one desiring to purchase any of this property will find me at the First National Bank. I will be pleased to show property and give prices. I might exchange some of this property for good timber land. Come and see me.

ADDITIONAL BARGAINS.—I have the following farm property for sale:

THE GORDON RANCH.—A farm of 227 acres eleven miles west of Eugene. This property has a house and barn and about 20 acres in cultivation with a small orchard in bearing, and two good springs of living water. Is timbered with a nice second growth of fir and oak timber and is adapted to farming and stockraising. It is a snap at $5 per acre.

WILSON PLACE.—I own the Wilson farm of 144 acres two miles west of Elmira. It has a log house and barn and is covered with timber. We offer this place at $400 for the tract. A bargain.

GRANGER RANCH.—I am offering this ranch of 160 acres for $500. This place has a house and barn and about 10 acres in cultivation. It is 18 miles southwest of Eugene and will make a fine home for someone wishing to go into the stock business.

ACREAGE TRACTS.—I have three ten-acre tracts within one mile of the court house. These places are partly planted in young growing fruit trees and are very desirable for one who wants to live in the country and yet enjoy the benefits of city life. Just outside the city limits. Price on these lands, $100 an acre.

T. G. HENDERICKS.

Eugene, May 16.
