THE GOOD SIDE.—Wm Royce is on the pleasant side of wagers on the governorship to the extent of about $800. The money was lost by local Republicans who had too much confidence in Mr Furlish's political printing abilities. It goes without saying that Mr Royce is glad of it.

ASHAMED OF THEIR VOTES.

Many Ashamed to Tell That They Voted for Furlish.

A lady who keeps boards tells the Salem Journal of one man who came to her table confessing he voted for Furlish, as a party duty, but feeling heartily ashamed of it.

That is about the size of the political pride felt by many voters who do not express themselves.

The state of Oregon may be set down as having as nearly an impermeable Republican majority, and a majority that is calculated to appeal any but the stoutest heart when the party gets wrong, and any attempt is made to set it right.

Under the circumstances there is more honor in the vote Chamberlain got than in any vote ever given any man who ran for office in Oregon.

Consider the majority he had to overcome, consider the state with one city and one newspaper, consider the way people felt ashamed to vote for the Republican standard-bearer, and yet did it.

There is more glory for a man like Chamberlain in defeat than for a man like Furlish and his friends in victory.

J. J. WALTON FOR DIRECTOR.

He is Petitioned to Allow His Name to Be Used, and Accepts.

A petition was circulated this forenoon asking Judge Walton to permit the use of his name for school director. It would be a very fit selection. The location of the State University was due in no small measure to his untiring labor, and I feel he was one of the foremost and most pronounced advocates of the building of the Central School structure. Strangely as it may appear to our people now, there was a determined opposition to the building of that pioneer of the Eugene public schools. Judge Walton has never faltered in his loyalty to our educational interests.

MR. WALTON ACCEPTS.

EUGENE, June 6, 1902.

To F G YOUNG, C S FRANK, R MOUNT, E C SMITH, THOMAS CONDON, GEO DILLARD, JOHN STRAUB AND OTHERS:

At your request by petition I hereby consent to allow my name to be submitted to the voters of this district for school director. If selected as one of the directors I shall do all in my power to advance the interests of the schools of Eugene.

JOSHUA J. WALTON.

BASEBALL GAME.

Arranged Between Hampton Bros. and Mt. Angel.

A game of baseball has been arranged between Hampton Bros' team of this city and the Mt. Angel college team to be played at Bangs' Park on Sunday, June 16th.

The Mt. Angel team is considered to be a "crackerjack," having defeated Portland Academy and the Chemawa Indians this spring.

Hampton Bros' team will be about a match for the visitors, however, it is thought. It will be greatly strengthened with new material for that game, and it is expected that it will give a good account of itself.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The Cottage Grove Leader, in its wrap-up of the C M Alband concert there Saturday night, says: "Miss Daisy Gilbert, of Eugene, sang 'Ave Maria' mezzo soprano in E by H Millard, and in response to a hearty encore rendered 'Awake' by Mr William Davenport. Miss Gilbert is a very pretty singer and her appearance on the stage in Cottage Grove is always greeted with applause." Miss Daisy Dillard, of Eugene, rendered a select piano solo which was greatly appreciated.
