Curran and Sir Boyle Roche.

Sir Boyle Roche, a famous Irish character of a century ago, was proud of his alliance with an English family of ancient lineage and was fond of referring to his titled father-in-law's kinship in giving him his eldest daughter, a boast which provoked Curran's retort, "Aye, Sir Boyle, and depend on it, if he had had an older one he would have given her to you."

Whether it was this sarcasm which provoked Sir Boyle's hostility or that an enemy had already been created between Roche and Curran, it is certain that the two men were perpetually sparring at each other in the house of commons, as the debates of the Irish parliament testify.

Nor was the witty advocate and orator always successful in these encounters. Curran had observed one night, somewhat magnificently, that he needed aid from no one and could be "the guardian of his own honor," whereupon Sir Boyle instantly interjected his sarcastic congratulations to the honorable member on his possession of a sinew.

Babies and Monkeys.

A frequent action with babies is to turn the soles of the feet sideways, opposite to one another, while the legs remain straight. Just this attitude would be assumed by a monkey when climbing a tree or walking on a branch in order to grasp the stem with its hind legs.

The inherited effects of thus grasping tree trunks or limbs with the hind hands are often very marked in young babies. The bow legs, which are a feature of infancy and a matter of some anxiety to mothers, are no more than the relics of the tree climbing stage, and the mother need not be frightened about this character; any normally healthy baby will grow out of it soon enough.

Then, if a young baby be held so that its feet touch the ground, one may see that the feet are not put flat to the surface. Instead, the outer portions of the feet rest on the ground, while the soles of the feet are more or less opposed to one another; they have the bough grasping attitude. — Pearson's Magazine.

Old English Police Tax.

The chief authorities of towns in past ages incurred much responsibility. At Ripon we have a good example of their liabilities. Here formerly, after the blowing of a horn at 9 o'clock at night and until sunrise next morning, if a house were robbed and the owner and his servants had taken proper precautions for its safety, the wakenman had to make good the loss sustained. Each household paid an annual tax of two pence if he had one door and fourpence if he had two doors to his dwelling for maintaining a watch over the city. The tax has long since been discontinued, but the horn is still blown at night.

Lashed For His Discovery.

According to an old document discovered some time ago in Australia, gold was first found by a convict near Paramatta in 1780. The unfortunate fellow was at once charged with having stolen a watch and "holed it down" and, being convicted by the rude court of those early days, was given 150 lashes for his pains. In later years the record of this incident was closely examined by an undoubtedly competent authority, who was quite convinced of the genuineness of the convict's story.

A Peculiar Politician.

"He's a mighty hard man to get along with," said the practical politician sadly. "Mighty hard."

"Of course he is. That's what makes him so erratic and unsatisfactory. Every once in awhile he insists on doing something simply because he thinks it is right, without waiting to figure out what its effect on his political prospects is liable to be." — Washington Star.

Interrupted Grieving.

A woman in Scotland had lost her husband, and the minister, calling to console with her, found her sitting in front of a large bowl of porridge.

"Terrible loss, terrible loss!" sighed the minister.

"Aye," was the reply. "It's a terrible loss to me. I've just been greivin' a' night, and as soon as I finish this wee drop porridge I'm just goun to begin again."

The Encroaching Lake.

One of the humorously attractive characteristics of a child is his large sense of personal importance. A little girl was walking with her father on the shore of a large lake, where the waves were gently lapping up on the beach. Suddenly one came up higher than the others and swept over her foot, when she exclaimed, "Oh, papa, the lake stepped on my foot!"

His Position in Politics.

"He's going in for politics. Wouldn't he make a splendid diplomat, though?"

"What? Why, he's a deaf mute."

"Exactly. Just think how easy it would be for him to be absolutely dumb when it was expedient."

"Yes, but then he could never talk without showing his hand." — Philadelphia Record.

DEXTER ITEMS.

Leander Cruzan's Residence at Dexter Destroyed—Other Notes.

Special to the OREGONIAN.

DEXTER, June 17.—Some of the Dexter people went to the memorial exercises at Pleasant Hill cemetery Sunday. An excellent address was delivered by Deputy Sheriff Fred Fisk.

Messrs. Fred Dillard and James Berkshire, of Eugene, are building a new barn for C. M. Parker.

While the men were gone away from home last Saturday Leander Cruzan's house near Zion, caught fire on the roof and before help could be summoned the house and nearly all its contents were destroyed. There was no insurance on the property.

Miss Belle Kelsey, who has been attending school at Trent, returned to her home at Lowell Saturday.

D. C. Mathews and sons raised a large barn for Willis Gilist last Friday.

Everyone who has not done so in the past around here, is whooping it up to good earnest; that is, they are having the whooping cough in great style.

Mr. Mooney has purchased the Hunter place of Wm. Preston and will take possession of the same Oct. 1st.

Ernest Mooney, who has been working at Hyland's mill above Marcola, has returned home. He will not go back to work as yet.

School Superintendent Miller was at Dexter Saturday seeking to decy the deceptive trout, but none of them were hungry at just that particular time.

The Dexter school closed Friday. Prof McKinzy has given very good satisfaction.

Alva Addington, who has been at Saginaw for some time has returned home. They intend building a new house soon in place of the one burned down last summer.

We understand that Henry Cain has sold his ranch near here to Clarence McElroy, of Winberry.

Messrs. S. Carr, Jonathan Vincent and W. R. Parker attended the reunion at Eugene last week.

Bert Kelsey who had his ankle severely injured by a wagon running over it a week ago, returned from Eugene Saturday. He is still unable to walk without a crutch.

Parvin & Cruzan intend putting in a new planer in their saw mill soon.

James Parvin made a business trip to Cottage Grove Friday, returning Saturday. He reports that J. F. Taylor who formerly resided here intends starting soon to Nebraska to make his future residence.

A goodly number of people met at the Trent school house Friday evening to attend the graduating exercises. Superintendent Miller presented the diplomas with well chosen remarks. Director H. C. Wheeler also made a most lively address, after which the class received the congratulations of their friends in a most beautiful flower. This is the first class from Trent, but we trust there may be others in the future.

FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Established Through Persistent Efforts of Fortnightly Club Women.

The regular meeting of the library committee was held in the library room in the Journal office Saturday afternoon. The librarian reported a steady increase of subscribers, the total number drawing books at the present time being two hundred and thirty-three.

The Eugene Circulating Library, or Free Public Library, which it has grown into, was started several years ago by the members of the Fortnightly Club with the hope that some time it might grow to be a free public library. This has been their aim from the beginning and the society has worked to accomplish this end.

The library owes its beginning to the energy of the Fortnightly women and the generosity of the public spirited business men of the city, and it has been housed free of charge till the Fortnightly Club obtained rooms for their home in the Journal building.

At the last meeting of the legislature an act was passed creating a fund for free public libraries. The Fortnightly Club availed itself of this opportunity and made itself free and accepted the money provided by the legislative act from the city council for its maintenance. The mayor and one councilman, representing the city, were added to the library committee and a regular librarian was employed and the library is now open to the public two afternoons each week instead of one as formerly.

The Fortnightly members have not relaxed their efforts or interest in building up the work of the library. During last fall they gave a library benefit from which they realized the largest sum of money ever made at any one time by them. This money has been expended in the purchase of books for the library.

The list of subscribers has increased so rapidly that it became necessary during the spring to provide larger rooms for the books and magazine. It is the hope of the Fortnightly women that the library may grow to become so large and useful in accomplishing good for the city that some day, in the near future, it may be established in a home of its own, and to this end the Fortnightly women are working.

Virulent Cancer Cured.

Startling proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by druggist G. W. Roberts of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters and applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. Bitters 50c, Salve 35c at W. L. DeLano's.

Pure Home Made Brandy.

For liver, kidney or stomach troubles, colds, lagrippe or biliousness there is nothing better than Francis' pure brandies. All orders promptly filled with prune, apple or pear brandy at 75 cents per quart, or $2.50 per gallon. Orders by stage or express will be securely boxed. Made and sold to consumers only.

I. M. FRANCIS,
Fifth and Blair streets, Eugene, Or.

Teachers Institute.

The annual county teachers institute will be held in Eugene June 25, 26, 27 and 28, 1902. All teachers are requested by law to attend at least 16 hours. Boards of directors are required to allow teachers at least three days to attend county institutes. Programs will be sent teachers later.

City Property for Sale

HENDRICKS' ADDITION TO EUGENE.—To those desiring to purchase city lots, I have laid out an addition on the south side of the city and north of College Hill Park. I have 120 lots in this addition, and am selling them very low so as to enable every one to have a home of their own. The price of these lots is from $50 up.

ELIAS STEWART ADDITION TO EUGENE.—I have some very desirable lots in this addition, in the very heart of the city and within a few blocks of Willamette street.

WHITAKER'S ADDITION TO EUGENE.—I have a few lots in this addition within two blocks of the First National Bank.

COLLEGE HILL PARK.—I have 100 lots in this addition. The price now is $50 each. I will advance the price soon. We expect College Hill Park to become the most desirable residence property in or near the city.

HENDRICKS' ADDITION TO COLLEGE HILL PARK.—I have 70 lots for sale cheap in this addition, also 40 or 50 acres of very choice fruit land. I have on this place 1300 young prune trees, about 400 Bartlett pear trees, and 200 black walnut trees, also apples, plums and small fruits. This place has a good farm house, barn and out-houses, and is a most beautiful suburban piece of property. It is known as the Locust Hill farm, and there is no place in the state more beautifully and pleasantly situated.

I am not in real estate business as a business—we sell our own lands only. I employ no agents. Any one desiring to purchase any of this property will find me at the First National Bank. I will be pleased to show property and give prices. I might exchange some of this property for good timber land. Come and see me.
