WHICH PRECINCT?—Lebanon Criticism: It was reported that there was a certain precinct in Lane county where the judges of election found a section in the primary election law, which requires each voter to declare his politics before he is given a ticket. The judge thought this applied to a general election and required several voters to make known their politics before the error was discovered.

HORSE BONNETS.—The latest thing out is a bonnet for horses. Hampton Bros have distributed quite a number among the horses about town, and they look quite becoming with them on.

They are just the thing for this warm weather. In the East where horses die from the heat wet sponges are put to the tops of the bonnets thus keeping the horses' heads cool.

LOST.—On road between Eugene and Elmira a gray eton jacket and two straw hats. Finder please leave at the GUARD office.

SENT FROM LANE.—Charles Smith, the convict recently turned out of the penitentiary, and who is supposed of being implicated in the poisoning of the rifle to Tracey and Merrill, was sent up for two and one-half years by Judge Hamilton from Lane county. Judge watch Croner arrested Monte while he was endeavoring to effect an escape through Frank Dunn's back about about 1:30 o'clock in the morning. He had a 44 calibre revolver which he was burglarized from a Medford store, in his possession when arrested. He was a hard citizen when bent on it is not probable that his experience in the pen effected any reformation.
