MONDAY - JULY 14

Johnstown, Pennsylvania, seems to be getting more than her share of misfortune. The last is the mine explosion which occurred there last week, killing two hundred miners. She is getting more than her share of the bitter cup of disaster. She and Paterson, N J can sympathize with each other.

The administration of the city of Tien Tsin, China, has been in the hands of the united powers since the war two years ago. It is now said the surrender of the ad ministration to the Chinese is ex pected shortly. France has es pecially been in favor of such a course for several months past.

Great Britain is beginning ex tensive defensive works at Halifax N S which leads some to suggest she may have fear of a war with the United States. Great Britain is long headed, and knows that the present season of fooling and loving between the two countries may at any time turn into a sharp spat.

The day seems to be near at hand when the lands of this country which have until recently been considered of little value will be the highest priced lands we have. Even now timber lands in the mountains sell at $12 to $15 per acre. There are many fairly good farms in the valley that will not bring this price exclusive of improvements. Down in Wash ington the other day timber sold at $50 per acre. We venture there is not an unimproved acre of farm land in Washington that will bring more. Yet these lands are assessed at about $1.00 an acre or less, while farm lands of no greater market value are assessed at from ten to twenty times as much.

Professor Washburn is reported by Minnesota papers as offering a remedy or preventive for the ravages of the chinoh bug on the crops of that state. He suggests the sowing of a strip of millet around the field to be protected, so that the bugs will feed upon the millet and leave the grain alone. That is all right, but the professor should not claim, or the papers should not claim for him, that there is anything new about this pre ventative. More than twenty years ago, to our certain knowledge, farmers in the chinoh bug regions of Iowa and Illinois used to leave a quantity of foxtail grass, which is about the same as millet, growing among the rows of corn for several rows from the boundary of the field. This foxtail did not hurt the corn much, y being left at the time of the last cultivating, and so long as it was green the bugs would work upon it in preference to the corn. It is a good idea, but must not be considered new.

Portland people are not all agreed that the selection of the city park for the 1905 exposition is the proper one. A very good argument against the use of that site is that the park is now one of the greatest attractions the city has, and it should not be destroyed for any other purpose. The park was always intended as a pleasant resort and resting place for the people of the city and is admirably adapted for that purpose. If it is used for exposition grounds its natural beauty will be destroyed. As it is at present, if the exposition were located on other grounds, this park would be a place of interest to nearly all visitors, who would take delight in spending a few hours there for the purpose of rest ing and enjoying the beauties of the surrounding landscape. This is a strong argument against it as a place for the 1905 exposition; and, taken together with the difficulty of transporting materials, exhibits, etc, is one which many of Port land's citizens would study on for some time. There ought to be other places equally desirable, un less the owners of the real estate are determined to have exorbitant prices for their dirt.
