TONGUE FOR SENATE

Indian War Veterans of His Country Indorse Him

ASK SUPPORT OF DELEGATION

HILLSBORO, Or, July 21.—The Indian War Veterans of Washington County met in this city Saturday and conferred with Representative Tongue as to methods of procedure in getting their pensions under the recent bill passed by Congress.

"We, the undersigned, constituting the Indian War Veterans of Washington county, Oregon, being fully cognizant of the untiring efforts of Congressman Hon T H Tongue, to secure for the Indian War Veterans those rights which are granted to soldiers of all wars, and being grateful for the efforts which have led to success in pensions being granted to them, do, irrespective of party, hereby resolve: "That, inasmuch as in Mr Tongue is found all the qualifications necessary for a successful representative of a state of the great Northwest, we do hereby give him a vote of confidence and ask the Washington county legislative delegation to support him for the high office of United States senator, and to that end we pledge our influence and support for his elevation to that honorable position, which, in our opinion, he has earned by his indefatigable labors."

WAS TRACY AT ASHLAND?

Paper There Thinks He and Two Pals Were in That City.

The Ashland Town Talk of Saturday says: Many people believe that Tracy, the escaped convict, was in Ashland last night. A man answering the published description of Tracy was here, and he had two companions. The three entered the cigar store of Thornton & Hildreth and after leaving Constable M N Long and others came to the conclusion that Tracy had been right here and had fled.

There is ample reason to believe that it was Tracy and his pals, for they have been lost to the Washington posse for two or three days.

FOUND GUILTY.

Murder in First Degree Was Verdict Against James Gibson.

FORMER LANE COUNTY MAN.

GRANTS PASS, Or., July 21.—The Gibson murder case went to the jury Saturday evening about 7 o'clock, and the jury returned a verdict of murder in the first degree after about three hours' deliberation.

THE CRIME

The crime for which Gibson is convicted was committed last April. He and his nearest neighbor, John Schonbachelor, quarreled over the matter of the dividing line between their farms, and about Gibson's stock, which Schonbachelor alleged was allowed to run at large over his fields. These disagreements led up to a standing feud, resulting in the killing of Schonbachelor one evening by Gibson. Gibson was tried at the April term of court but the jury was unable to agree on a verdict. The case was again taken up last Monday and occupied the attention of the court all last week. The courtroom was jammed with an interesting crowd every hour of the trial. There was a number of relatives and acquaintances here from the vicinity of Eugene, Gibson's old home.

Since his confinement Gibson has become a physical wreck. Several times during his trial he has fallen in a swoon to the floor and a physician was called in to revive him. At other times he would wail and cry out aloud in his anguish. He has a wife and two young children, who were in the courtroom throughout the trial. The verdict of the jury created considerable surprise in Grants Pass, and many express the opinion that it was too severe. The crime of Gibson was not cold blooded. Schonbachelor had threatened his life on a number of occasions. The case is the most important that has attracted the attention of Josephine Circuit Court for many years.

James Gibson, the man who has just been found guilty of murder in the first degree, formerly lived 10 miles west of Eugene where he was born and raised, being the son of Louis Gibson, a well known and highly respected citizen of this county. He has many relatives and friends throughout the country who do not believe that he willfully and deliberately committed the murder but that he acted in self defense.

AT SPRINGFIELD.

Rural Free Delivery to Be Established.

BUSINESS TRANSFER.

SPRINGFIELD, Or., July 21.—Postmaster Clark has received word from E C Clement, inspector of rural free mail delivery routes, that he will arrive here Wednesday or Thursday to look into the feasibility of establishing two routes out of this place, petitions having been sent in for them. One route is to run up the McKenzie through Thurston, crossing the McKenzie ferry and back on the Camp Creek side of the river. The other one is up this side of the Mohawk, crossing the river at Donna and back down on the other side of the river.

WORK ON NEW MILL.

Work on the Booth-Kelly Lumber Co's big new sawmill here commenced in earnest this morning, about 50 men being at work. It will be rushed to completion and when finished will be one of the most up-to-date and finest mills in the United States.

Springfield is on the move and is growing fast. Property is changing hands rapidly and new people are coming to nearly every day. At present there is a great demand for dwelling houses, at least 20 or 30 men enquiring for houses to rent during the last day or two. It would be a good investment for someone to erect a number to rent.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

N A Skeels has sold out his livery and transfer business to Mac Davis and Chas Lewis, who took charge today and will hereafter conduct it.

Salem Journal: G B Downing and family with Judge Waldo and his family, will leave Monday for Belknap Springs on a month's outing.

HEATON'S CAPTURE.

Sheriff Withers Arrested Him in a Barber Shop.

TOLD BY A NEVADA PAPER.

The Nevada State Herald, published at Wells, tells of the capture of Bert Heaton, alias Ray, by Sheriff Withers, of this city, as follows:

"A man named Bert Heaton, alias Bert Ray, wanted for murder committed on the 19th day of May last of Ben Tracey at Junction City, Ore, was arrested here this morning by W W Withers, sheriff of Lane county, Ore, assisted by Constable Moore, of Wells. Heaton came here about a month ago together with his wife, and has been rooming at J R Nottall's lodging house where he gave the name of Heaton.

The capture was effected in T C Brandon's barber shop. Heaton was in the chair in the act of getting shaved, when the officers entered and commanded him to throw up his hands which mandate he obeyed without resistance. He was then lodged in the Wells jail and will be taken to Elko tonight for safe keeping, and then to Reno to await the arrival of the requisition papers from Carson, when the sheriff will leave with him for Oregon.

Sheriff Withers has been on Heaton's trail, day and night, and now feels highly elated over his capture.

Mr Withers says he undoubtedly has the right man and that there is no question of his conviction as the evidence is very strong.

The pursuit, as related by the sheriff, is too long to portray in these columns but shows Mr Withers to be a competent and fearless officer of the law, and a credit to the people of Lane county as well as a terror to the evil doers of that section.

A WOULD-BE FORGER.

Robt. Leland, a Logger, Not so Slick as He Might Be at The Business.

Robt L Leland, a logger recently in the employ of Williams' Bros of Dexter, tried his hand at the art of forging Saturday evening and is now safe in the county jail.

Leland, it appears, came to town in the afternoon Saturday, and put up at the Mulkey boarding house on Willamette street where he got his dinner. At about 7 p m he went into the store of Paine & Kay and asked Mr Paine for a blank check on the First National Bank. He was given one, then sat down at the desk and wrote out a check. As he went out he bought a knife and paid for it; but soon returned and wanted to buy pistols, shotguns or anything if he could get some money on his check, but Mr Paine refused the would-be forger. He went into almost every store on the west side of Willamette street trying to buy with his check. He finally returned to Mulkey's boarding house and got $25 on the check. The figures on the check called for $41.35, but the writing said $40.85. However Mr Mulkey did not notice the inconsistency until the next morning.

Young Leland went to F A Rankin, where he called for blank checks. After having two fixed out for $10 and $25 respectively, he talked freely and freely invested in $7 worth of musical instruments, receiving $15 in return for his $10 check. He took his $25 check to T C Luckey, of the Reception saloon where he got it cashed.

But all this time the officers were on to him and only wanted a warrant of arrest. One was finally issued and Deputy Sheriff Fiek and Brown made the arrest while the fellow was eating his lunch at 11 p m in the Uachou Cafe.

FORGERY DISCOVERED.

Mr Rankin became suspicious of his check, and when he met P E Snodgrass, cashier of the First National Bank, on the street he showed the check to him. Immediately Mr Snodgrass saw the signature was not that of Williams' but would not say it was a forgery. But he then went to the bank to see whether or not Williams had given anyone authority to draw checks on him. A record of such permission was not found and then Mr Rankin saw there was something wrong. As such men must be caught, Mr Rankin immediately issued a warrant of arrest and the officers soon got their man.

Leland was brought before the justice court this afternoon at 2 p m and waived examination. His case will come up at the next term of circuit court.
