HEADS NEARLY

BLOWN OFF

Albert Abel, Eugene Boy, Probably Fatally Injured by Powder Explosion.

Two men, Albert Abel and Jesse Cheshire, nearly had their heads blown off at Astoria last Friday afternoon in an attempt to burn some powder. One of the men had been given about a pound of powder to throw in the river, but he and his companion decided to burn it if possible, it having been damaged. They spread the powder out on the street and ignited a fuse that had been attached to it. As it did not burn immediately they approached, and while their faces were over the powder it exploded. Cheshire had his face, ears and hair badly burned, while Abel had his mouth open and inhaled some of the burning powder. The latter's condition is critical and he is not expected to recover from the shock. Abel's home is in Eugene and he was in the Philippines with one of the volunteer regiments. Cheshire's home is at Grants Pass. Abel's many friends here regret to hear of the accident and hope he may recover.

Off to Crater Lake.

Yesterday's Portland Journal: A party of fifteen, including Gov. Geer and wife, Congressman Thomas H. Tongue, of the First District; C. H. Sholes, Miss Merriman and F. H. Newell, chief hydrographer of the United States Geological survey, departed today for a two weeks' trip to Crater Lake and surrounding country in Southern Oregon. Will G. Steel, an enthusiastic mountain climber, will act as supervisor and guide of the expedition, as he has been to the lake several times before. A National Park was created at a late session of Congress which takes in the lake and surrounding country. The lake itself is one of great beauty, intermixed with weird effects, and is well worth a visit. It is 80 miles distant by wagon road from Medford on the Southern Pacific Railroad.
