DEATH OF ALEXANDER McMARTIN

Alexander McMARTIN, aged 60 years, died at his home at the corner of West Eleventh and Charnelton streets in this city last night about 8:30 o'clock from the effects of a stroke of paralysis received about a year ago. The funeral services by Rev. Lobdell will be held tomorrow with interment in the Young cemetery near Lancaster. Prayer will be held at the residence and the services at the grave.

The deceased, before he came to Eugene with his family a week ago, was a well known resident of Junction City, having come there from Wisconsin in 1894.

He leaves a wife and five sons to mourn his demise. The deceased was a member of the Christian church at Junction City.

Coming to Eugene.

One of the highly recommended attractions to appear at the opera house this coming season is Henry Beresford in Geo. H. Broadbent's laugh-lug success, "The Wrong Mr. Wright." The past season Mr. Beresford toured the Western country, and from reports he made such an impression that his next visit is anxiously looked for. It has been said that he has a method entirely his own and unlike that of any comedian on the American stage; as distinctive as Nat Goodwin or Joseph Jefferson, and every bit as enjoyable. He will be surrounded by a first-class supporting company and under the direction of J. J. Coleman, manager of the American Theatre, New York.

Defends Football.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Benjamin Andrews, chancellor of the university of Nebraska, and ex-superintendent of Chicago schools, thoroughly believes in football as part of the necessary education of young men.

"If I had 100 or 1000 children I would want every one of them to play football if they were strong enough, and to play it hard and strenuously," said Chancellor Andrews, in a lecture to the university of Chicago. "Football ought to be trained in strenuousness," he said, "that is the great value of football; it is a school in which courage and resolution are taught. I thoroughly believe in the game."

A BIG TIMBER LAND SUIT

Horace McKinley Sues Wisconsin Capitalists in Marion County —4120 Acres Involved.

The Salem Statesman of today has a long account of a suit just brought in the Marion county circuit court in which Horace McKinley, the well known timber land operator, is the plaintiff.

McKinley alleges that early in 1901 he entered into an agreement with George L and Clyde D Lloyd and Willis H Gilbert, Wisconsin capitalists, whereby he was to hunt out desirable timber lands, they to furnish the money for the purchase thereof while he was to receive a half interest in the lands, paying 8 per cent interest on his half of the investment until the lands could be sold or in case of no sale that he should have the right at any time he should elect to pay the defendants with interest and receive a deed for one-half the land.

McKinley claims that 4120 acres of land were purchased under the agreement at an average of about $9 an acre and that it has advanced to $15 per acre. He asks that the defendants be required to deed him a half interest on payment of one-half the purchase price, or if that is impossible, be compelled to pay the difference between the purchase price and the present value.

A GOLDEN AVALANCHE

Harvesting This Year's Hop Crop Will Release it in Oregon.

An avalanche of gold will be showered into Oregon as the result of the sale of the hop crop this year. It will yield $5,000,000. Fully $600,000 will be paid out for picking alone, and fully $1,000,000 will be expended within the state for expenses attendant upon handling the crop, says the Portland Telegram.

This places hops well up in the long list of Oregon's principal industries along with grain, wool, lumber, flour, salmon, etc. The present estimate of the crop is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Location, Bales. Oregon..... 25 000, Washington..... 38 000, California..... 63 000, New York State..... 85 000, England ext..... 400 000

The price for picking generally agreed upon for this season is from 40 to 45 cents per box. There are heavier burs and less leaves this year, so that picking will prove more profitable.

The prices of hops remain firm but there is very little doing. Advances have been received to the effect that the Boston brewers are in a bad way, owing to the strike and their sales have fallen off 60 per cent, and owing to labor troubles throughout the country the sales of beer have been cut down 20,000,000 barrels already this year.

Early Morning Runaway.

This morning about 7 o'clock the Cochon Bakery's delivery horse while standing in the alley in the rear of the bakery waiting for the wagon to be loaded with bread for the morning's delivery became frightened at an approaching wood-saw engine and dashed down the alley at a 2:40 gait. Running for half a block the wagon collided with a telephone pole at the alley crossing at the corner of the Armory block on West Seventh street and was piled up in a heap while the horse ran on for a short distance and stopped. The vehicle was badly wrecked.

An Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 — Advice received here indicate that President Roosevelt will call the senate in extraordinary session early in November. Ever since it became evident that nothing would be accomplished as to reciprocity with Cuba at the recent session of congress, rumors of a more or less definite nature have been in circulation that the president would call an extra session either of the entire congress to enact Cuban reciprocity legislation or of the senate to ratify, if possible, a reciprocity treaty with Cuba.
