Letter From Superintendent.

Following is a letter from the superintendent of the Good Samaritan Hospital of Portland concerning the case of Chas Griffin which we mentioned a few days ago. The explanation concerning drugs used is gladly received. As stated yesterday the article referred to does not necessarily imply criticism of any physicians connected with the case. Following is the letter:

PORTLAND, Ore, Aug 20, 1902.

TO THE EDITOR: Our attention being called to a short article appearing recently in the columns of your paper in regard to the sickness of Charles Griffin of your city, we are anxious to correct the impression that we had criticised the treatment which had been pursued by his former medical attendants. The members of our staff who examined Mr Griffin are confident that his case could not have been handled with other or less drugs and look upon his condition now as a very unusual and perplexing one. We are pleased to announce that he is slowly improving but hardly hope for other than a slow convalescence.

MRS EMMA J WAKEMAN.

Supt. Good Samaritan Hospital.
