An arch will be made in the wall through which entrance will be made, as the front door will be closed. This will give much additional room for the display and sale of goods.

Buffalo Bill's Show Coming.

There are various ways, practiced by different peoples, for teaching young horses the unwelcome lessons of submission, obedience and toil. The cowboy's way is probably the most quickly effective, as it is the roughest. He simply fights the beast to a finish. The Gauchos or Uruguay, whose profession is analogous to that of the cowboy, are at the work in very different style. He does not awaken the animal's obstinacy, but persuades him gently. It is no doubt a good way if one has time for it. Anyway, the Gauchos with Buffalo Bill's Wild West show themselves superb horsemen. If they were not they could not be there. The Wild West will be seen here on August 29.

To Prepare Agricultural Exhibit.

The committee on agriculture display for Eugene's street fair and carnival will hold a meeting in the office of Svarverud & Fisher, real estate agents, this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The meeting is called for the purpose of arranging for a creditable display of the county's products. All the real estate men in the city constitute a part of this committee and it is desired that a full attendance be had.

M Svarverud this morning informed the GUARD that it is the intention of the committee to get up a splendid exhibit, one that will attract attention from everyone.

While in the city he attended a meeting of the Elks' lodge there and was surprised to see at the meeting Rev Father Przbylski, formerly rector of the Eugene Catholic church. The Reverend Father informed Mr Graham that he had received his letters at La Grande where he is now stationed, and said that he had a very strong desire to come up to Eugene and meet with the lodge here.

NOTED SCOUT AND INDIAN FIGHTER

Major John Murphy Burke Makes the City a Visit—Advance Agent for Buffalo Bill.

Major John Murphy Burke, the advance man for Buffalo Bill's Wild West aggregation, is in Eugene. You will know him when you see the gigantic, distinguished looking bunch of averdups which carries the foregoing title—you can't help it. He is a character—and an interesting one. In an interview today the major wanted to impress the public through the valuable volumes of the GUARD the real difference between mimic and real shows. In the great shows, or exhibitions, as he prefers to call them, he represents there are the very famous people who are advertised. The man who fires the first shot in the mimic assault on an imaginary San Juan Hill in Eugene next Friday will be the very man who fired the first shot and killed the first Spaniard at the terrible encounter in Cuba in 1898—the man spoken of in President Roosevelt's book. Other features are the same.

The major says that the public does not like to be humbugged as Barnum said they did. Therefore Col Cody and his shows are the real thing.

Last evening's Telegram has a fine picture of and a long interesting interview with the major. We acknowledge the pleasure of meeting the distinguished gentleman. His record in military circles is a wonderful one as he has been associated with Col Cody for over 30 years.

Minstrels.

At the opera house, Eugene, August 28. Sweeney-Alvino big white minstrels, an attraction composed of artists of Eastern reputation, introducing a strong first part, a strong olio and many novelty features. The press in speaking of Sweeney Alvino minstrels say they are a success artistically as well as financially, one of the big winners in minstrelsy. Don't fail to see the golf parade headed by Prof Maurer's band at noon on day of arrival in this city. Reserved seats now on sale at the Corner Drug Store.

No Cause for Alarm.

The rumor that there was a concealed case of scarlet fever on East Eleventh street is reported untrue, according to the attending physician, Dr Lulu Marquam. The case in question is said to be inflammatory rheumatism and the patient is improving rapidly.

The Social Realm.

Upon the eve of the departure of Prof F H Dunn to take advantage of the year's leave of absence granted him by the board of regents of the State University, a most fitting tribute was paid to his popularity and esteem by the numerous friends who gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs F M Wilkins last evening to bid God speed and farewell to the professor and his estimable wife. The Epworth League of the Humphrey Memorial M E church was represented in receiving by Misses Carrie Hall, Ione McClung, Etta Learned and Sadie Atwood. Miss Leola Bartley presided over the refreshments. A fine set of silver spoons were presented to the departing friends as a token of esteem by the League. Mr Dunn left this morning for Portland where he will be joined by his family next week. A year's study at Harvard in ancient Latin archeology and a trip to Europe for further studies are the plans of the zealous professor. The well wishes of Eugene go with him.

Last evening's open air concert by the Fourth Regiment band under the direction of W E McElroy was a repetition of former successes. Several numbers were encored by the large concourse of listeners. The clarinet solo "Sommambula" by W H Dowman called forth special applause. The boys now have an extensive repertoire with which to regale the visitors to the state fair at Salem. Constant practice is the watchword and the results are prominent. The cool evening after the concert was an inducement to numbers of young people to join the orchestra in the army for what proved to be one of the most pleasant dancing parties enjoyed this summer.

The W R P League met this afternoon at the home of Mrs Mary Gray, Eleventh and Oak streets. Great interest was manifested concerning the Rest Cottage which will be formally opened in a few days. Mrs Alexander Patterson read a splendid paper on "The Story of a Great Feast in American Politics." Delightful refreshments were dispensed by the hostess assisted by Misses Lella Russell and Zida Goldsmith. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs Geo T Hall, Sr.

Carnival Banners.

Eugene's carnival and street fair to be held September 24-25-26-27 will be well advertised in surrounding towns. Besides placing advertisements in the newspapers and sending out literature, the general committee is having painted four large street banners, similar to the ones here, and will have them hung across the principal business streets of each of the following towns: Albany, Junction City, Cottage Grove and Roseburg.

Once More.

The Corvallis & Eastern Railroad Co., recognizing the value of a day's recreation and relaxation to the busy merchant, the overworked clerk and the toil-worn farmer, and knowing that both brain and muscle will be refreshed and strengthened by a visit to the briny deep, have decided to run another of their popular Sunday excursions from Albany, Corvallis and all points west of Newport on Sunday, Aug. 24, 1902, leaving Albany at 7:00 a. m. and Corvallis at 7:30. Returning leave Newport at 5:30 p. m.

This will probably be the last excursion of the season, and the low fare of $1.50 from Albany, Corvallis and Philomath has placed it within the reach of all. The numerous attractions at Newport are too well known to need further reiteration; suffice it to say, that the celebrated Chemawa Indian band of 15 pieces, both of which will discourse music during the day, will make the trip a pleasant one and all will come home from the excursion feeling they have received a new lease of life and with renewed energy to resume their daily avocations.

Don't forget the date, Sunday, Aug. 24, 1902, and that the fare is only $1.50. This may be your last chance, so take advantage of it while you can.
