EXPENSIVE LITERATURE.

A London publisher of Christmas cards has just taken Rudyard Kipling down a peg or two by declaring that Kipling's shilling a word rate for his lucubrations is not nearly up to the record. This, he says, was held by Lord Tennyson, who once received an offer of twenty shillings a word for a dozen Christmas card verses of eight lines each.

For these verses—which could hardly have run into a thousand words—$5,000 would have been paid; but the poet declined the offer in a charming letter to the publishers. He could not square his poetical conscience with the picture card industry.

Right after an election there is always talk of contests. That is the easy way by which the losers let themselves down.

With several revolutions on hand and two volcans doing business, Central American people do not have the opportunity to get dull.

The Aberdeen, Washington, man who got caught in a bear trap, set in a path and covered with leaves, probably would not have survived the experience had he not been accompanied by a companion. The man who sets such a trap in a path is careless, worse, criminal.

The Chicago Housewives' Association has been formed to meet the "servant girl" problem. One of the solutions is for members of the Association to require diplomas of satisfactory service from the girls. The girls should organize and require "diplomas" as to satisfactory treatment by employers.

While the Republicans have generally won in the election it is by very narrow majorities. For instance New York's ten thousand votes would be evened up by a change of one vote out of every 320 cast. The even balance of the parties is for the best. It puts them on good behavior.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union is progressive in its ideas and work. For instance the Salem Union has carried on an employment bureau connected with its reading room a number of years. As a rule loud-mouthed agitation hurts the cause in which it is employed. Care for a man's temporal necessities and you get his good will.

The economist who figured out that keeping a dog costs as much as sixty hens probably never had a hen in his life. The poor and needy reformer who figured out that his companion could have owned a brown-stone property before which they were passing if he had not smoked for forty years of his lifetime, had no answer when asked about his own brown-stone property.

In the Molineux trial at New York City the state's handwriting experts swore that the writing on the poison package was that of the defendant. Now his experts are swearing that Molineux could not have changed his writing to conform with that in evidence. So much for expert testimony! It is practically valueless. Both sides can get exactly what they want if they will pay for it.

At last the timber land frauds have been held up and Secretary Hitchcock has issued an order suspending further entries in The Dalles, Lakeview and Roseburg.

districts. Entrymen against whom evidence has been obtained will be prosecuted and the land offices will be investigated to see if there has been official collusion to promote the fraud. It is probable that the present timber and stone act will be repealed.

HE WAS TOO HONEST.

"She broke the engagement, eh?"
"Yes; she asked him to guess her age."
"Well?"
"He guessed it."

STATE UNIVERSITY NOTES

Experiments With Liquid Air—
The Football Game Tomorrow.

Prof Friedel announced to his classes yesterday that it is very probable that the lecture and experiments with liquid air will be given at the University soon. So great a number have signified their intention of attending that its success, financially, is assured. If a sufficient number of tickets can be sold at the University a reduced rate will be given to the students.

Prof Campbell is arranging a new schedule for recitations to take effect at the beginning of next year. This will do away with the many conflicts which have bothered so much this year.

Intense interest manifested in University circles as to the outcome of the Oregon-O A C game to be played at Corvallis Saturday. The home team has been practicing faithfully all this week and went through a hard practice yesterday afternoon, the last regular one before the big game. All the men are in excellent trim, with the exception of Murphy, who has not yet fully recovered from his injury received in the Whitman game. Kerron who had a wrenched shoulder, is in his usual place. The ends under the efficient coaching of Zigler, are both playing a good steady game. In the line there is not a weak place and the backs who for a week have had the exclusive coaching of Dolph are greatly improved. Taken all in all the outlook for an Oregon victory is flattering. A reduced rate of $2.80 for the round trip has been made and a large number of rooters will accompany the team.
