SATURDAY - FEBRUARY 21

Of course the Lane county legislative delegation is happy. They picked the winner in the senatorial race.

Sheik Hadji Tahir is in Portland with a troupe of performing Arabians. This is not by any means the first "tahir" witnessed in Portland.

It was a very graceful act that of the legislature appropriating one thousand dollars each to the widows of the guards killed at the penitentiary by convict Tracy.

For twenty-five years, since Italy wrested temporal power from the Pope, the aged pontiff has never been beyond the Vatican and St Peter's cathedral grounds.

San Francisco Chinese merchants will make a move to force admittance of their native-born sons to the public schools. Why not? They are citizens.

Senator Fulton it is well that the state does not go partially represented in the national senate, also that the senatorship is eliminated from state politics for some time to come.

Charles W Fulton of Astoria is a happy man today with his senatorial prize. There are others who are not happy, notably ex-Governor Geer and Editor Scott of the Oregonian.

The House very sensibly concluded it wanted no more game law, especially considering the eleven thousand-dollar appropriation for game wardens that seemed to be the principal part of the bill.

Geo Hawkins, a Chicago turfman, is in bankruptcy court with $814,618 of liabilities. He claims assets of about $11,000. He should have spent it all so there would have been nothing for his creditors to worry over.

They loved not Fulton more but Scott less. So when it came to a choice between the Astoria statesman and the Portland editor they took the politician—the man least capable of filling the high position to the full credit of the state.

These disappointed candidates for United States senator may get together and repeat: Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these, "It might have been."

Second Warden Dilley of the Oregon penitentiary has been exonerated by a joint legislative committee of the charge made against him by the woman prisoner. The committee says the woman positively declares the second warden responsible for her condition, but that she is unworthy of belief. A conveniently escaped trusty, the only other possible party, is blamed for the scandal.

Junction City Times: The Eugene GUARD has installed a new Simplex type-setting machine. It is a modern improvement and type can be set with it with wonderful rapidity. The GUARD has also a new dress of type which adds materially to the neatness of the paper.

The Simplex requires special type, each character with a different series of nick, thus permitting it to fall into the channel to which it belongs, and no other, while being "distributed."

land owners, then from twenty-five of the thirty members of the Oregon senate. That last was very potent opposition. The agitation by "thinkless newspapers" backed by strong public sentiment did the business for the bill very effectively. Such things don't stand discussion—publicity.

SUCH A QUESTION! Desoon—Little boy! Why are you not at church? The Little Boy—Why ain't I at church? Huh! Did you ever see trout ketched in a church?

Homes for Children. The Oregon Children's Home Society has children for placement in good family homes. Ages from one month to fourteen years. Five hundred children have been received by the society since 1895 and placed in homes on this upper coast. More than twenty thousand children have been placed in homes in twenty-five states in twenty years. Address Supt. I F Tobey at 605 Marquam Building, Portland, Or.

Bids for Wood. Sealed bids will be received at my office until March 1, 1903, for 45 cords of white oak grub wood, 4 feet long, not less than 3 inches in diameter at small end nor larger than 8 inches at large end; 40 cords of white oak grub wood, 4 feet long, not less than 2 inches in diameter at small end, and not larger than 5 inches in diameter at large end; 85 cords old growth red or yellow body fir wood, 4 feet long, to be delivered of the school houses in Eugene as directed by the board of directors on or before August 15, 1903.

Right reserved to reject any and all bids. A good and sufficient bond will be required for the faithful performance of the contracts. Dated January 22, 1903. FRANK RIBBEN, Clerk School District No 4, Lane County, Oregon.

BETTER THAN GOLD. "I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try it. Only 6c. Satisfaction guaranteed by W. L. DeLano, druggist.

NOTICE. The County Court of Lane County, Oregon, will receive bids up to 2 o'clock p. m. Wednesday, March 4th, 1903, for the furnishing of 100 cords good fir wood, said wood to be four feet long, and delivered at the court house in Eugene, on or before the 1st day of September, 1903. Also for the furnishing of 15 cords of good oak wood, to be four feet long and not less than three inches at the small end, and to be delivered at the county jail in Eugene, Lane County, Oregon, on or before the 1st day of September, 1903.

The Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids. A bond for the faithful performance of the contract will be required. Dated at Eugene, this 5th day of February, A. D., 1903. By order of County Court. E. U. LEE, County Clerk.

NOTICE OF STOCK HOLDERS' MEETING. Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stock holders of the North Fairview Mining Company will be held at the office of the North Fairview Mining Company in Eugene, Lane County, Oregon, on the 7th day of March, A. D., 1903, at the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day for the purpose of electing a board of directors, and for the transaction of such other business as may regularly come before this meeting of the stock holders. Dated at Eugene, Lane County, Oregon, this 13th day of Feb, 1903. WILLIAM FABER, President. L. T. HARRIS, Secretary.

ESCAPED AN AWFUL FATE. Mr. H. Higgins, of Melbourne, Fla., writes, "My doctor told me I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe my all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by W. L. DeLano, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

A Hint to the Wise. When the cry of fire is sounded then you happen to think about insurance. A hint to the wise is sufficient. The Oregon Fire Relief Association is mutual; is safe and does about one-half the rate of stock companies. $15,000 insurance in force. Address S K George, Eugene, Ore., agent for Lane county.

SLEEP ON A COLD SMOKE.

Putting an Empty Pipe Said to be an Infallible Cure. After giving a fair and patient trial to each of many alleged cures for sleeplessness the writer stumbled across a simple method of inducing somnolence that has the merit of being harmless and inexpensive. To smoke the remedy involves no cost whatever, but of nonsmokers the capital outlay of the price of a pipe is required. It must be a wooden pipe and curved, not straight.

Having retired for the night, the sufferer should lie perfectly flat on his back, discarding pillow rests, and puff steadily at an empty pipe until he feels thoroughly drowsy. The desired result usually is achieved after from about sixty to a hundred puffs have been made. The puffing should be done slowly, with a deep inhaling movement. The expelling motions must be made deliberately with narrowed mouth. During the entire operation the pipe should not be removed, as each displacing and replacing movement tends to wakefulness.

Those capable of great concentration of thought should, if smokers, imagine they see volumes of smoke, and those who eschew the burning weed will be helped by counting the puffs. As sleep is often successfully wooed while yet the pipe is in the mouth, bowls of meerschaum or clay are not recommended, since these are liable to be broken when the coming of slumber allows the pipe to slide from the mouth. Nervous people may be reassured that there is no danger in falling asleep with the stem edge of a curved pipe caught between one's teeth. Sleep always occasions the grip to be removed. That may hold also of straight pipes, but for other and obvious reasons these are less suitable than those with curved stems.—New York Mail and Express.

LONDON'S LORD MAYOR. His Power as Well as the Area He Rules is Limited. The lord mayor of London is not the all powerful official he is thought to be on the continent. He is not the mayor of all London, but only of the city of London, and the City is but a fraction of the whole. Greater London has, roughly, a population of 6,000,000, but in the 550 acres that comprise the City there is a resident population at night of only 38,000 and by day of little over 200,000. And even within this area the powers of the lord mayor and of the twenty-six aldermen and the two hundred odd common councilors are by no means autocratic.

Much of what used to be within his and their province has been taken over by the London county council. In fact, the average Londoner never thinks of the lord mayor as an edifying making, law giving official. He stands altogether apart in the popular mind from questions of rates and assessments, schools and police. Very few people could say what legislative functions, if any, he fulfills. They may have heard that he is the chief magistrate of the courts, but beyond that their knowledge of his precise duties does not stray. It is the social and decorative side of his position that impresses the public. The lord mayor is never without his badge and rarely without his robes and chains of office. He rides abroad in a magnificently gilded coach, with powdered coachmen and footmen in cocked hats and silk knee breeches, sending a gleam of gold through the dirty drab of London.

The lord mayor's show on Nov. 9 is one of England's few annual pageants and, uncounted as it is, has a warm place in the hearts of the populace, and, besides all this, he has some rights and privileges of 400 years' standing. No troops may pass the City boundaries without his leave. The sovereign himself has to ask permission to enter the city walls, just as he has to ask for permission to enter the house of commons.—Harper's Weekly.

Mer Trick. A cantankerous old farmer, who hardly ever agreed with anything his wife said to him, came home one wet day and, placing his back to the fire, stood up to dry. After some little time his wife turned to him and said: "John, you'd better watch yourself or you'll burn your flames." To which John replied: "I think I'll need to burn my trousers first."

Indeed, John, you'll need to do nothing of the kind. They're burnt already.—London Tit-Bits.

Improve. It is a solemn duty devolving on all to make the utmost possible out of themselves. Men seek the highest development of their flocks and herds and grain and flowers. The result is the improved flora and fauna of these days over those of prior ones. But should this evolution cease with the lower order? Should the body of creation improve and not the head, which is man?

His Line. Hook—So he is a poet, eh? What is his particular line? Nye—The Market street line principally, although I occasionally see his verve in some of the other cars.—Philadelphia Record.

What Did He Mean? Patient after giving the doctor $3 and receiving a prescription—but suppose, doctor, this doesn't cure me? Doctor—In that case come back, and I'll deliver you again.—Detroit Free Press.

It is stated that on the lower Elbe no village or farm is free from malaria. Malaria mosquitoes abound.
