OREGON HOP CROP SHORT

Latest Advices Also Report a World's Shortage

Statement Made That Owing to Lice Ravages Many Yards Will Never be Picked Unless the Unforeseen Occurs

One of the best posted hop men on the Pacific coast in a personal letter to the Guard writes some interesting facts. He says:

"The market at London for the past two months for Pacifics has remained from 26¾ to 28¾. Latest reports from Germany say that markets are firmer owing to shortness of supply, which is estimated at 1200 bales in holders' hands. England's supply in first hands is estimated at two weeks for an average consumption. In the United States the unsold hops are sufficient only for 45 days' consumption, or about 2300 bales. Pacifics today are quoted in New York at 25c. Latest English reports show that the crop will not be over an average one, which means less than 400,000 cwt. Reports from Germany are not so favorable now that hops are uneven and in some plantations weak. The conditions on the rest of the continent are reported better. The New York crop will be a fourth less than last year. Even under the very best of conditions from now on the California crop will be short of last year.

OREGON CROP SHORT.

"Here in Oregon, owing to the ravages of lice and honey dew, not counting the missing hills, we fear, unless the unforseen occurs, that half of the crop will never be picked. Of course every one can judge for himself, but under the circumstances those who have hops on hand or a coming crop should not sell or contract for less than 30 cents a pound in my opinion. We have some 1904 hops and a coming crop, and under present prospects we expect to sell every pound at 30 cents or better."

Since writing the above cablegrams tell of a terrible storm that passed over Germany which practically annihilated the German hop crop, and advices from New York state that the hot wave has caused great damage to the growing crop.

Lane county is the only county that will produce a normal crop. Many other counties will not have a half crop according to present prospects.

FROM EUGENE'S SOLDIER LADS

Militia is Now Encamped at Portland—Boys Have Had Satisfactory Time

(Guard Special.)

Portland, July 20.—The state militia is now encamped near the Lewis and Clark fair grounds, after a very successful camp at Gearheart Park, on the ocean beach. The men seem to have had a very satisfactory time, but a soldier is not happy if he has not got somebody or something to growl at or "jolly," in fact, the monotony of camp life is made endurable in so much as the laughs are interspersed with kicks. The satisfaction to the soldier is in having done his best in either or both lines.

Private Purdy, of Co. A, was not happy until he could get a rake and give an example of how Eugene kept the streets clean.

Sergeants Robert E. Morris, Raymond Perdew and Corporal James Furnish, of Co. A, and Sergeant Gilbert and Private Fisher, of Co. C, remain in camp to shoot for a place on the state team that goes to Sea Girt, New Jersey, to be composed of 15 privates and three officers. The target practice was a disappointment on account of the wind, which blows the sand in to the pit and the difficulty in getting the windage. In explaining this to some visitors they were overheard to ask if the wind got too strong during a battle would the men quit shooting? This, of course, was quite amusing to the men.

Payrolls have been made out for the United States pay and signed, to be paid at Portland. The pay per day is as follows: Captains, $5 per day; first lieutenants, $4.17; second lieutenants, $3.89; first sergeants, 83 cents; sergeants, 6C cents; corporals, 50 cents; privates, 43 cents. The state pays the enlisted men the balance due for camp. The troops receive 10 days government pay and 7 days' state pay.

Co. A. has not had a man on sick report.

First Sergeant Coppernoll has been first with all his camp reports. H.

Society Events

The reception given by the Misses Hawley, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hawley, of Creswell, in honor of Miss Hawley, of Moscow, Idaho, on last Tuesday evening, was one of the largest, as well as one of the most pleasing functions of the year. The grounds surrounding the house presented a charming appearance, being lighted with many Japanese lanterns, and comfortable seats, easy chairs, divans and pillows being placed on the lawn for the comfort of the guests. Conversation, music and games were indulged in, delicious refreshments were served, and in every way the evening will be impressed on the memory of those in attendance. The following guests were present: Misses Clara B. Sly, Mabel Thompson, Jennie Thompson, Rena Scott, Elsie Weeks, Ruth Guiley, Katherine Shafer, Lula Gross, Mae Gross, Ada Smith, Gertrude Longmoor, Fanny Stone, Genevieve Howe, Irma Howe, Maude Catheart, Merle Scott, Anna D.
