KANEKO VISITS PRESIDENT

Oyster Bay, Aug. 21.—Kaneko made a fifth visit to the president this morning. It is believed the president asked him to secure greater concessions from Japan for Russia, notably the lowering of the demand for indemnity by a few millions.

PEACE RESTS WITH RUSSIA

Envoys Are Communicating With Their Governments

The President Did Not Interfere With the Negotiations But Japanese Ask His Aid

Oyster Bay, Aug. 21.—Kanako, before leaving, said: "Japan has offered Russia the fairest terms any victorious nation could be expected to make." Although he did not say in so many words that these terms constituted an ultimatum, his manner seemed to bear out the impression that the question of peace or war rested with Russia alone. Kanako was asked if he brought to the president a message from the Tokio government on the question of indemnity, and answered "No." He also denied that the president communicated anything important to him. Secretary Loeb returned today from his vacation in Yellowstone Park.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 21.—A correspondent of the Sentinel at Portsmouth says he is able to state authoritatively that the last few days have brought to a focus important phases in the peace conference, and as a result of these developments it may be that the United States will on its own initiative or through the request of one of the belligerents, assume a protectorate over Sakhalin Island. It is reported that this was the object of the conference of Rosen and Roosevelt, and the president similarly discussed this phase of the situation with Kanako today.

Indianapolis, Aug. 21.—It is stated that the president has sent messages to every member of the foreign relations committee of the senate, asking their opinion on what would be the result if this country took this stand. It is stated that Cullom, the chairman, received such a telegram yesterday.

Portsmouth, Aug. 21.—The envoys today are discussing by cable with their governments the suggestions made by President Roosevelt. The president did not interfere with the negotiations, but whatever action he has taken has been upon the initiative of Japan. The reason for the circuitous route and the natural hesitation of the Japanese envoys to approach the Russians directly is that their efforts might be misconstrued.

Portsmouth, Aug. 21.—Witte said this morning that it was idiotic to talk of submitting to the Hague tribunal the questions of indemnity and Sakhalin. Sato said: "It maybe that concessions will be made before final adjustment, but neither side will submit to the Hague any questions involving the principle. The Japanese and Russians can settle their differences without the aid of European countries or there will be no settlement." Partial arbitration of points that the commissioners are unable to settle may result in a legal advisor. One commissioner thinks a board appointed by the belligerents may decide upon the value of concessions, remissions and kindred things.

Portsmouth, Aug. 21.—Witte stated this afternoon that Roosevelt had tendered his good offices through Baron Rosen in the interests of peace. Hard as the Japanese terms may be and unyielding as the Russians are said to be, the personal influence of the president is counted here as most powerful. There have been a number of situations during the conference apparently just as hard as the present threatened deadlock, but they have been smoothed over by the president's tact, and it is believed he will do as much this time.

HOP CROP IS SHORT

Today's Oregonian places estimates from a reliable survey of Oregon's hop crop at 80,000 bales, practically the same as last year. From what we have seen in Marion and Clackamas counties we believe the estimate is too high. Lane county's yield is placed at 500 bales less than last year, an estimate which is low. The Portland Journal should copy the Oregonian's statements and give at least one reliable report. The Journal has recently furnished hop news through Julius Pineus & Sons, of Tacoma, the Judas' disciples of the Pacific coast hop pool, the individual who attempted and succeeded in burning the hop-growers of this coast far worse than all insects and droughts.

FIGHT IS FOR THE CHILDREN

Divorce Is a Secondary Consideration With the Taggarts

Taggart Wants Decree According to Evidence—Hesitatingly Admits He Desires Legal Separation

Wooster, Aug. 21.—Taggart's attorneys this morning filed a motion to throw the wife's cross petition out. Anticipating such a motion, Mrs. Taggart's attorneys recalled the captain and asked three questions. First, "Do you want a divorce should your grounds prove sufficient?" It is known that both are fighting for the custody of the children rather than divorce. He hesitated, then answered "Yes." Next, "If you cannot have a divorce and your wife has grounds do you want her given a divorce?" Taggart was not allowed to answer. Answering the third question, Taggart said he wanted the decree granted according to the evidence. The court refused to dismiss the cross bill.

The deposition of Captain Poor was read concerning the trouble after he had taken Mrs. Taggart home. He said he heard the sounds of a struggle and loud voices, which soon ceased. "Next morning Mrs. Poor went to Taggart's home and I was called upon to procure protection for Mrs. Taggart. Taggart said he was nearly crazed, and feared he had used violence, but asked condonement and promised never to repeat the offense. Later I saw Taggart at the hospital. He cried and asked me to take a letter to his wife begging her not to take the children from him. I told him I would take the message but would use my influence to have her leave so both might think over events. Taggart drank about the same as other officers." Mrs. Poor told of her visit to Mrs. Taggart the morning after the quarrel and said her body was bruised and her hair pulled out. Her hands were black and blue. It was previously testified by another witness that Mrs. Taggart had said Mrs. Poor had defeated her in a drinking bout at Fort Thomas. Mrs. Poor said she never heard of such a contest. Taggart's attorneys will renew the motion that Mrs. Taggart's cross bill be thrown out.
