Got Married on a Dog License

So long as they knew no different that Portland couple who got married on a dog license had no complaint coming and might as well have been left alone till the next day instead of being routed out of bed at midnight through the instrumentality of the excited preacher. Here is the Oregonian's account:

"Prospective rural bridegrooms frequently apply at the license department of the city auditor's office for marriage licenses, oblivious to the fact that the county clerk, at the courthouse, is the proper person from whom to secure the coveted document."

"Tuesday a verdant-looking couple presented themselves at the license counter in the city hall and timidly asked for a license, without specifying any particular kind. Deputy Auditor Pierce was on duty, and it being during the rush hours, was exceedingly strenuous. Owing to the activity of the poundmaster recently there has been an unusual demand for dog licenses, and without stopping to consider the matter Pierce hurriedly issued one of this kind and turned his attention to the next applicant."

"The couple sought the services of a minister, and after the divine had joined them in holy wedlock, was handed the paper purporting to be the license. This he thrust into his pocket as a matter of course without perusal, took his fee and repaired to the county clerk's office to record the instrument, when the startling discovery was made that the couple had been married on a dog license."

"Agitated beyond expression, the reverend gentleman promptly apprised Deputy Pierce of the situation, and the latter started off post haste to locate the couple. About midnight they were unearthed in an obscure downtown rooming house."

The legislature of Missouri, at its last session, adopted what is called the special jury law. Under it Judge McDonald, of the circuit court, in the exercise of the discretion the law reposes in him, has ordered a special jury to try a case against a physician for damages for malpractice. The order for the panel instructs the jury commissioner to select 35 persons from the jury lists who possess more than ordinary intelligence, the standard of which is to be their ability to understand and grasp testimony relative to the anatomy of the human body and the treatment of personal injuries.

RHEUMATISM THE TERROR OF WINTER

Rheumatism is usually worse in Winter because of the cold and dampness and other changed conditions of the climate. The occasional twinges of the disease that are felt during the warmer weather are changed to piercing pains, the muscles become inflamed and swollen, the nerves get sore and excited, the bones ache, and Rheumatism, the terror of winter, takes possession of the system. Then the sufferer turns to the liniment bottle, the tins of woolen clothes, the favorite plaster or some home remedy, in an effort to get relief. But Rheumatism is not a trouble that can be rubbed away or drawn out with a plaster; these things relieve the pain and reduce the inflammation, but do not reach the real cause of the trouble, and at the next exposure another attack comes on. Rheumatism is caused by a sour, acid condition of the blood. The refuse matter and bodily impurities which should be carried off through the channels of nature have been left in the system because of indigestion, weak kidneys, torpid liver and a general sluggish condition of the system. These impurities sour and form uric acid, which is absorbed by the blood and distributed to the different muscles, joints, nerves and bones, causing the painful symptoms of Rheumatism. S. S. S. goes to the root of the trouble and cures Rheumatism by cleansing the blood. It neutralizes the acids and filters them out of the circulation and sends a stream of pure, rich blood to all parts of the body. Then the pains cease, the inflammation subsides, the nerves are quieted, every symptom of the disease passes away, and the cure is permanent. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and does not injure the system as do those medicines containing Potash and other minerals. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice without charge.
