AN INDEPENDENT PAPER.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10

Penniless, sick and despondent, Charles Ladd, aged 75, cut his throat at Portland Sunday. Old age, coupled with ill health and poverty, sorely tries poor humanity.

Kubelik, the famous young violinist, played at the White House the other day, and on conclusion President Roosevelt made his heart glad with a copy of "The Rough Riders." Of course the young Bohemian could hardly contain himself till in the seclusion of his own room he could peruse the treasure page by page.

A Richmond, Virginia, dispatch the other day stated that Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., with a party of which the president was one, went hunting in that vicinity and accidentally wounded one of the hedges. Had it been some one else than the president's son we suppose it would have been plain dog that got the bird shot.

So far American building of the Panama canal has little to show except big salaries for the favored few at the head, and occasional scandals. The vivacious French nation, if its memory were not so short, could well recall the promises the United States made to have the canal dug on a purely business basis and pushed through with characteristic "American energy." Up to date, with ample funds at our disposal, we have done less than the unfortunate DeLeseps did in his last two years with bankruptcy already at hand.

The judges all over the country have come to look upon forgers and counterfeiters as most dangerous criminals, and when the chance occurs put them safely away where they will do no mischief for years. On this line a Portland judge Saturday sentenced James F. Hines, a good-looking young man who passed several small forged checks in Portland in November, to ten years in the penitentiary. The judges go on the principle that it is so easy to get money this way that the forger, like an egg-sucking dog, will not be cured—a short sentence only turns him out while in his heyday to again prey upon the unsuspecting.

Sickening Shivering Fits

of ague and malaria can be relieved and cured with Electric Bitters. This is a pure, tonic medicine, of essential benefit in malaria for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system. It is much to be preferred to quinine, having none of the drug's bad after effects. S. S. Munday, of Henrietta, Tex., writes: "My brother, who very low with malarial fever and jaundice till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life. At W. L. DeLano's drug store.
