The New Method

Oregonian.

Of course the legislature is to elect the senator of the United States. But is the legislature to be guided by the expressed will of the people, or to adhere to the old way of traffic, of bargain and sale, employed at the state capital time out of mind?

This method enabled unscrupulous aspirants, partly by direct purchase, partly by promise of office and favors, not only to control the election of senators, but to corrupt the life of the state in its domestic policy, and to control the official life of the state in its relations to the national government at Washington.

He who was responsible, chiefly, for this system in Oregon has passed away. Had he lived the abuse could not have been carried much further. The new legislation that Oregon has enacted was the effort of a people to rid themselves of the consequences of this corruption.

The primary election law, with the obligations it imposes, was adopted and enacted as a means of raising our political life out of this corruption and degradation. It is not perfect, and it is easy to find fault with it. But honest adherence to it, and enforcement of it, will cut off the old traffic at Salem.

As the Salem Capital Journal expresses it: "There are graft, venality, fraud and corruption on the side of the old way of electing senators. The office is put up at bargain and sale, raffled off to the highest bidder, the greatest corruptionist. This has been the rule, not the exception. Nine times out of ten money and patronage have carried the day instead of honesty and principle."

The results of this system—its legitimate consequences—have at last overtaken it and those who have employed it. The results are collapse of the system, disgrace to those who have pursued it, dishonor, infamy and death.

But a new light appears. We shall not say it is a clear and perfect light. It is easy to find fault with it; easy to say it does not answer every purpose of illumination and reform. But at least it will shut off or put an end to the old system of purchase, bargain and sale.

The February number of Good Health, Battle Creek, Mich., says: Professor Washburn, formerly of the Oregon State University, has been studying the effect of the cigarette upon the pulse. By means of the spmograph he obtained a clear tracing of a normal pulse, then had the same person smoke a cigarette, with the effect that the pulse rate was increased from seventeen to twenty-two during a given time. This is not an evidence however, of increased work done by the heart, but rather of heart weakness; for a heart beats slowly when it is strong, and rapidly when it is weak. The weaker the heart, the more frequent are its beats. Tobacco is not a stimulant, but a paralyzer.

Two young men fought a duel over a girl at San Francisco Saturday night, and now neither will get the lady. One was instantly killed by a shot in the eye and through the brain, and the other is a fugitive from justice with at least a life sentence in the penitentiary before him if apprehended.

The Wilhoit Springs for which the Eugene Soda Co. are agents, are located in the foothills of the Cascade mountains, Clackamas county.

NEW SYSTEM IN BREAD TICKETS

The University Home Bakery shows commendable enterprise in putting out a new sanitary bread ticket. The ticket is so arranged that a new ticket is furnished each customer, doing away with the system formerly in vogue whereby old tickets were used and re-used from family to family, spreading contagious diseases.

Mr. Condon also has the exclusive control of the manufacture of Butter-nut bread in Eugene. This bread sells in the East for one cent a loaf more than other makes, but Eugene consumers get it at the regular price of other bread.
