Mexico's Statistics Boiled Down

There are 10 volcanoes in Mexico. Mexico has 50 lakes and great lagoons.

Mexico has a coast line of over 6000 miles.

Slavery was fully abolished in Mexico in 1837.

The "valley" of Mexico is 7500 feet above sea level.

Mexico is about ten times larger than Great Britain.

The rainy season generally lasts from May to September.

Mexico is the richest mineral country in the world, not excepting Peru.

It is said that no country in the world shows so great a variety of plant life as Mexico.

Which is the better weapon, an ax or a bowie knife? Two Mexicans fought over a girl with those weapons at Visalia, California, Saturday, the knife man killing his opponent.

With wool about the twenty-cent mark for Eastern Oregon and twenty-five cents for valley, owners of sheep are not losing much sleep over fluctuations. The price is not liable to drop, either, as the great sheep ranges all over the world are being eaten down closer and closer and circumscribed by agricultural use of the lands.

We are civilizing those Filipinos with a vengeance—nine hundred were killed or wounded during the four days' fighting last week. We keep the Chinamen, out but are over their right next China fighting the Asiatics—and killing them. A very Christian nation, truly! The great central figure of our religion commanded his disciples to go into all the world and preach his gospel. His latter day disciples go forth and kill. To say the least it lacks conscience—that sense of right that impelled the signers of the Declaration of Independence to risk their necks on the statement that this country three thousand miles away from England had the right to be free and independent. And yet their descendants would hold an alien people seven thousand miles from our shores in a latitude unsuitable for the white race, as subjects.

The Hoffman House

Wishes to inform its patrons that during the prevalent typhoid menace the drinking water served in the dining room is first boiled and the milk sterilized. The cuisine, as heretofore, is under the direct supervision of Mrs. Osburn, and hygienically conducted throughout.

For the Public Benefit

O. C. Mickelson would like the public to read what Dr. Harris says: "I have had the O. C. Mickelson & Co. dairy examined and find everything in a satisfactory condition."
J. W. HARRIS, Co. Health Officer.

$250 FOR LANE COUNTY

EXHIBIT

The county court today appropriated $250 for Lane county's exhibit at the state fair at Salem this fall. Upon request of Judge Chrisman S. H. Friendly, president of the Commercial Club, has appointed the following committee to handle the money: P. E. Snodgrass, Jasper Wilkins and E. M. Warren.

ANOTHER INCH OF SNOW FALLS

Inspector McCormack is Unable to Tell Extent of Damage to Fruit

Another inch of snow fell last night, but before the day was half over most of it had melted. About 1:30 o'clock this afternoon it began falling again and continued for some time, but did not remain on the ground.

It is hard to ascertain how much damage to fruit has been done. Dr. H. F. McCormack, county fruit inspector, says he has not been out to his orchard yet and says it is probable he couldn't tell whether or not any damage was done if he had seen the trees. However, he says that the early peaches that have already blossomed will be injured.
