Latest Ocean Grayhounds

A steamship that could run away from a subway express train and race over the seas from New York to Queenstown in 3 days and 18 hours, or there and back in a week, will be an accomplished fact when the Cunard line's turbine vessels, Lusitania and Mauritania, begin their ocean express traffic next winter. They will be the longest boats, by almost 100 feet, in the world, broader than any of the German Liniathans, at the same time possessing the shapely lines of the grayhounds like the Lucania.

The Lusitania is building on the Clyde and the Mauritania on the Tyne. They are expected to develop a speed of 31 statute miles an hour, making it possible to cover the distance from New York to Queenstown in 3 days and 18 hours. The new turbine steamers are 770 feet long between perpendiculars, or 800 feet counting the stern overhang.

The new Cunard twins will carry 300 first-class passengers, 400 second-class and about 1000 third-class passengers.

The interior furnishings and appointments will be the finest of any ship in the world. All the woodwork will be of mahogany, walnut and satinwood. There will be a system of elevators carrying the passengers up and down the greater part of the ship's depth of 60 feet.

Table Mountain, on the Washington side of the Columbia where it cuts through the Cascade range, rises in steep acclivities and towering pyramids from the water's edge 4300 feet. The summit is a mile long. Just think of the age of this world, for here there is every evidence that the water and ice of the ages past cut through this great mountain range. How long ago was it that the great inland lake that covered a great part of Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington first overflowed and began to cut away the great mountain barrier? Had the stars voices they might tell you. All man knows is that the cliffs and sides of the mountain give indisputable evidence that the great river cut its way through from the height of the mountain range.

Torture By Savages

"Speaking of the torture to which some of the savage tribes in the Philippines subject their captives, reminds me of the intense suffering I endured for three months from inflammation of the kidneys," says W. M. Sherman, of Clatskanie, Me. "Nothing helped me until I tried Electric Bitters, three bottles of which completely cured me." Cures Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Blood Disorders and Malaria; and restores the weak and nervous to robust health. Guaranteed by W. L. DeLano, druggist. Price 50c.
