TRUSTS AND "BUSINESS INTERESTS."
HOW THEY WORK TO DOMINATE POLITICAL AFFAIRS.
If the primary law and Statement One thereof shall finally become established in Oregon, no one need imagine that it will put the special privilege class out of business. It will prove effective for that purpose only to the extent that the people may prove their intelligence and ability to use it. The agents of special privilege classes and looters of the public will pose as candidates for office, and will be backed by the money and influence of those interests in order to still hold their grip on the powers of government. At this time the tobacco trust, the sugar trust, with all other trusts, and the adulterated food manufacturers and vendors, are entrenched in the United States senate. A pure food bill cannot pass the senate.
No measure of relief for the people from the exactions of the tobacco, whisky, sugar or any other trust is to be hoped for until such time as the people may own the senate. Bearing the foregoing facts in mind, let us see if we can figure out what the following letter signifies:
Mason, Ehlman & Co.,
Portland, Or.
M. Ehlman & Co.,
San Francisco, Cal.
Branch Clear Department, Seattle, Wash.
MASON, EHLMAN & CO.
Importers, Wholesale Grocers, Cigars and Tobacco Dealers.
Portland, Or., March 8, 1906.
Dear Sir:—We are much interested in the election of Mr. H. M. Calk, of Portland, to the United States Senate. Mr. Calk has never been in politics, and is a clean, able man, and has proved his fitness for the place by the interest he has taken in the development of the state.
The business interests of Portland desire the election of Mr. Calk, and by giving him your support you will confer a great favor upon us.
Yours very truly,
MASON, EHLMAN & CO.
Per E. E.
This is a copy of a circular letter being sent out by the firm of Mason, Ehlman & Co., to their customers all over the state. The word comes up from the valley and down from the mountains that this vendor of groceries and tobacco is in politics as well as business. It speaks for "the business interests of Portland" by whose authority? Can it be by authority of the tobacco trust, the sugar trust, the glucose trust, the beef trust, the baking powder trust, or all of them, or is it by authority of the Board of Trade?—Labor Press, Portland.
