Note and Comment

The late Henry G. Hadley had a good story of an experience while on the peddling wagon in Vermont, that state where they made their fences of stones to get rid of them, then usually had plenty left to build piles thereof there and there through the fields. In a hard section of country even for that state they came to a place that looked even worse than others. Mr. Hadley's employer stopped his horses to take a look over the surroundings, at the same time remarking, "That must be a terribly poor man that lives there." The words were barely spoken when from behind the stone fence not ten feet from them arose a tall, gaunt form with the remark: "Stranger, I am not so poor as you may think. I only own five acres here."

A writer in the Bohemia Nugget indignantly says men get more than their share of the blame in regard to the "vices of young women." Indignantly, we say, for the woman when misfortune overtakes the indulgence must suffer all, social ostracism, perhaps death, while her partner loses no smiles of society, no social prestige, the excuse invented by Adam, "the woman gave me of the tree of life and I did eat," being generally accepted even though known to be false in fact.

Young Mr. Mizner, who married the Yerkes widow and with her the Yerkes millions, has had his trunk rifled of jewelry and precious stones to the value of $7500, at least that is the young fellow's tale. The old lady, his wife, having shut off his allowance, the story may be regarded with suspicion. Maybe the jewels could be found in a pawnshop.

On the Policeman

It was washing day in the domestic establishment of a suburban sportsman, and the servant girl was regaling her favorite policeman with bread and cheese in the kitchen. Her mistress called from upstairs: "Mary, isn't it about time you started your washing?" "Yes, mum," shouted back Mary; "I'm just bilin' the copper!"—Sporting Times.

Is the Moon Inhabited

Science has proven that the moon has an atmosphere which makes life in some form possible on that satellite; but not for human beings, who have a hard enough time on this earth of ours, especially those who do not know that Electric Bitters cure headache, biliousness, malaria, chills and fever, jaundice, dyspepsia, dizziness, torpid liver, kidney complaints, general debility and female weakness. Unqualified as a general tonic and appetizer for weak persons and especially for the aged. It induces sound sleep. Fully guaranteed by W. L. DeLano, druggist. Price only 50 cents.

Torture By Savages

"Speaking of the torture to which some of the savage tribes in the Philippines subject their captives, reminds me of the intense suffering I endured for three months from inflammation of the kidneys," says W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me. "Nothing helped me until I tried Electric Bitters, three bottles of which completely cured me." Cures Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Blood Disorders and Malaria; and restores the weak and nervous to robust health. Guaranteed by W. L. DeLano, druggist. Price 50c.

Dr. Ward,

Many are now on the high road to health and happiness.

Dr. Ward cures permanently all cases he undertakes and sends the incurable away without taking a fee from them.

That he is an eminently successful specialist in all chronic diseases is proven by the many cures effected, which have baffled the skill of all other physicians. His vast and extensive practice has made him so proficient that he locates and names a disease in a few minutes. No experiments or failures. He undertakes no incurable cases.

No matter what ails you or what others may have said, call and get his diagnosis, as he often succeeds where cases have been called incurable by those of less experience.

All long standing diseases are treated and at prices within the reach of all.
