Day Is Clear and Sunshine Has Restored Confidence
Government Is Rushing Food, Clothing and Supplies Into Stricken Districts as Fast as Possible Over Crippled Railways
Naples, April 13.—The skies are clear this morning and the fall of ashes and cinders has ceased for a time at least. The number of bodies being found is constantly increasing. Animals in the stricken district are dying by the thousand. The carcasses are adding to the horror of the unhealthy condition. Order is rapidly being restored. The government is rushing aid with every facility through the military organizations. Clothing and food are being hurried into the stricken districts as fast as the still crippled railroad lines will permit. The king is personally directing operations.
