MR. BLACK GIVEN

PLEASANT SURPRISE

Sunday, May 6, was the 37th birthday of D. D. Black, who resides on East Fourteenth street. On that day a number of his many friends gave him a pleasant surprise by going to his home in a body and opening a greater part of the day. At the noon hour an elegant dinner was enjoyed. Late in the day the guests left for their homes, wishing Mr. Black many happy returns of the day.

VIEWS OF HAMPTON BROS'. BIG DEPARTMENT STORE.

Above are printed several views of Hampton Bros' department store, one of the largest and most complete establishments of its kind in the state. This firm has advertised in the Daily Guard for many years, having always occupied a position at the top of the first page, left hand corner, never missing a single issue. When their advertisement appeared there first on August 19, 1897, Hampton Bros. took a small double column space. This space has been increased with growing business until today it fills three full columns. In this form the big store will make its announcements to the public through the Daily Guard for a year to come, having contracted for this space for every issue of the paper during that time—probably the largest newspaper advertising contract ever made in Eugene, or possibly in western Oregon south of Portland. Hampton Bros. have made advertising pay by backing it up with good business methods and fair treatment of the public.
