BIG DEMAND FOR ICE IN EUGENE

Local Plant Unable to Manufacture Enough—Price Advanced Half a Cent a Pound Yesterday

There are prospects for an ice famine in Eugene. The Weinhard works in this city are operating day and night to their full capacity but are unable to supply the demand during this extremely hot weather. If the temperature remains a few days longer as high as it has during the past two weeks and the demand for ice continues to increase at the rate it is at present many will have to do without or send away for it.

Otto Kaufmann, the confectioner has ordered a car load of ice from Portland for his own use, being unable to secure enough here.

The local ice works yesterday advanced the price one-half cent a pound on lots in less quantities than lot pounds, it being one cent a pound before.

GRAVEL BAR WILL AT ONCE BE OPENED

Southern Pacific Company Has Ordered Men to Be Here Within Few Days to Build Trestle Across the River—Ground Leased for Period of Two Years

J. B. Eddy, right-of-way agent of the Southern Pacific Company, was in Eugene today closing up the deal for the lease of the land across the river from the old Haines tannery on which is situated a big gravel bar.

As announced by the Guard early in the spring, the company will use the gravel on the bar across the river in rebuilding the main line and in ballasting the Drain Coos Bay line, now building, and the Natron Klamath Falls extension when that work is commenced.

The leases on the land were all made out today and are ready for filing with the county clerk. The land is owned by Carson Mathews, Chas. F. Croner, A. C. Woodcock and others. The company leases it for a period of two years.

Mr. Eddy informed a Guard reporter today that the company had ordered a force of men to come to Eugene at once to begin the work of building the spur and trestle to the gravel bed. The trestle will be a temporary structure and will be torn down when the company gets all the gravel it wants. The men are expected here within a week, and the work will be rushed to completion.

Through this enterprise Eugene will be headquarters for several train crews and a large number of other workmen for some time to come, and much money will be circulated as a result.

ORDER OF WASHINGTON OFFICERS INSTALLED

The new officers of the local lodge of Order of Washington, as printed in the Guard a few days ago, were installed last night by Mrs. S. C. Adams, of Portland, supreme drill master. They are as follows:
