JEFFERSON J. HOWARD DIED NEAR JUNCTION

He Was a Sturdy Pioneer of 1853, and Was Living Alone at the Time of His Death, Which Occurred Wednesday

Jefferson J. Howard died Wednesday evening, July 18, 1906, at his temporary home on the Test farm some four miles southwest of Junction City. He was living alone and was almost dead when discovered by W. M. Pitney Wednesday forenoon, who owns a farm adjoining.

The immediate cause of his death is unknown, but he had been falling for some time past and his death was not unexpected. He was 75 years of age and had always been rugged and hearty until a few months ago. He was in town some ten days ago and appeared quite active.

He was one of the sturdy pioneers. He came to Oregon in 1853, and has been a resident of this county ever since. His wife and four grown children survive him.

Services were held at the residence of J. M. Howard, brother of the deceased, Friday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. N. J. Harbit. The remains were interred in Young's cemetery.—Times.

NIGHTSWANDER HAS ANOTHER ROAD PETITION

F. M. Nightswander is back to town again with another petition to the county court asking the opening of the Glenada-Wildcat road. This time the court is asked to accept the Waggoner survey. The petition bears 130 names, which is a clear majority of the legal voters in the districts along the road. Along the proposed road there are copper prospects, and it is near where gold was discovered recently in the vicinity of Saddleback mountain.

Died

Wm. R. Troxell, aged 44 years, died at his farm home a mile and a half south of Eugene early this morning of acute throat trouble. He leaves a wife and two children. The remains will be taken to Corvallis Monday for interment.

FELL ON SIDEWALK AND BROKE HIS HIP

Charles F. Muser, Aged Real Estate Dealer, Met With Serious Accident on East Ninth Street This Morning

Chas. F. Muser, the well-known real estate dealer, while going along the sidewalk in front of the Barker Gun Works on East Ninth street this morning about nine o'clock, stumbled over a coil of hose and fell forcibly to the walk. He felt a sharp pain in his left hip and was unable to rise. He called for assistance and was taken to his home at 178 West Eighth street. Drs. F. W. Prentice and T. W. Harris were called and after an examination announced that the hip bone had been broken. He was placed under the influence of an anesthetic and the bone set. Mr. Muser is 78 years of age.

NOTES AND PERSONALS FROM SPRINGFIELD

Springfield will soon have water running down main street for fire protection. The mains are now laid from the pumping station to Third street.

J. W. Smith, living four miles east of Springfield, sold his farm last week, and with his family left for a few days' outing at Newport, after which they will go to Grants Pass to reside permanently.

Dr. R. A. Jayne and sons expect to leave for Portland Monday, where they will be joined by Mrs. Jayne. From there they will go to Washington and will spend three weeks on the doctor's ranch.

J. J. Bryan, Chas. Bowman and J. L. Clark, of Springfield, and Nat Burch, of Rickread, started on their recreation trip across the mountains Monday morning. They expect to be away about six weeks and will visit Klamath Falls before returning home.

It has at last been decided by the council to let the S. P. Company complete the crossing on Mill street as first intended. The crossing instead of making an over grade will be a long cut. It makes but little difference how the crossing is fixed now, as the street is ruined for travel anyway.—News.

MORE HOMING PIGEONS TO BE SENT HERE

Young homing pigeons will be trained by the Oregon Homing Club in the near future. At a meeting of the club held in the Alisky building last night it was decided to begin a series of flights from Portland and Salem two weeks from Sunday. Inexperienced birds will be let loose at Salem, and later those that return will be taken to Albany, Eugene and Ashland in succession. The birds making the best record's win cups. Hunters along the route on dates of the tryouts are asked not to indulge in promiscuous shooting.—Portland Telegram.

WESLEY WIRE'S PRUNES DOWN AT NEWBERG

Newberg Graphic: Wesley Wire is down from Eugene looking after his prune evaporator located north of town, getting it in shape for the season's run. He says the problem of securing the necessary help looks rather serious, as there appear to be more jobs in sight than men to fill them.

BIG FIRE AT SPRINGFIELD THIS MORNING

Three Barns Burned to the Ground
 ---Entire Business Section of City Was Threatened but There Was No Wind - Old Hand Engine Refused to Work

The business portion of the city of Springfield had a narrow escape from destruction by fire early this morning and the absence of any wind was the only thing that saved it. Three barns, one belonging to J. A. Roberts, another at the Methodist parsonage and the third owned by Phil Gossler, were burned.

This morning about five o'clock as Dan Humphrey was on his way to work at the electric light station he discovered smoke and flames issuing from the hay loft in the Roberts barn. He turned in the alarm and soon several hundred people were on the scene. The old hand fire engine was hauled out and a line of hose laid, but on account of its long disuse the machine refused to work. After several minutes of pumping and tinkering with valves the citizens gave up trying to get a stream through the hose and turned their attention to some other means of extinguishing the blaze and protecting surrounding property. A bucket brigade was formed and men, women and children worked like Trojans to stop the flames. The barns were situated in rear of the buildings on the north side of Main street and west of the railroad. They were in close proximity to the Hotel Springfield and other business buildings, besides three residences. Wet blankets were spread over the sides of these buildings to prevent the flames from spreading to them, and several small sheds and outbuildings were torn down in an endeavor to stay the flames.

In the meantime the fire had spread from the first barn to the other two and the buildings were entirely consumed, together with two or three tons of hay. Several horses, vehicles and sets of harness were saved. The total loss will probably reach $700 or $800, with no insurance on buildings or contents.

THERE WAS NO WIND.

Had there been the least breeze it is thought that the whole business street would have gone up in smoke. The air was still, yet there was much difficulty in preventing the flames from spreading to other buildings.

The mains for the new water works have been laid down Main street, but the water has not yet been turned on. Had the fire occurred a few days later not more than the first barn would have been burned as a good stream from the hydrants would have kept the fire down.

LOCAL GAME NEAR BEING WRECKED

Running at a Speed of Fifty Miles an Hour Between Eugene and Irving - Brake Shoe on Engine Came Off and Was Run Over

Yesterday morning the northbound Cottage Grove local train came near being wrecked between Eugene and Irving. A brake shoe on the locomotive came off, one of the big drive wheels running over it and almost throwing the engine off the track. The shoe then flew up and hit a step on the engine cab, breaking it off. At the time of the accident the train was running at a speed of 50 miles an hour. The south bound local was two hours late last night on account of an accident to the engine near Canby. Another one was sent up from Portland to pull the train to its destination.

ELEVENTH STREET SEWER NEARING COMPLETION

Mummy Bros. have nearly completed the work of excavating for the big East Eleventh street sewer, having progressed as far east as the railroad with only a block further to go. The pipe is laid as fast as a section of the ditch is completed. Opposite the university buildings the workmen have encountered solid rock at a depth of about five feet and blasting has become necessary. Seventeen men are employed in the work.
