EUGENE FILTERED WATER IS PURE

Analysis Made by State Health Board From Unfiltered Water.

Report of Board Given Publicity to Detriment of City—Samples of Filtered Water Analyzed Often and Found to be Free From Contamination.

The state board of health has created some excitement by making public a report that Eugene's city water is full of disease germs and not fit for domestic use, and to make the matter worse a local paper comes out with misleading headlines, giving publicity to the report of the bacteriologist, Ralph Matson, a youngster who has sought to gain notoriety at Eugene's expense.

The water upon which the board has just reported was sent to Portland before the filters were put into use. The board should not have made public such a report at this time, knowing that the filters had been in commission two weeks or more. A sample of the water now running through the mains will at once be sent the board, and the board is confident that an analysis will reveal the fact that the water is pure enough for all purposes.

A Guard representative visited A. Welch, manager of the Willamette Valley Co., in his office at Portland a few days ago and learned that ever since the filters have been in use the water has been analyzed every day or two with the result that it has been found to be absolutely pure.

It is true that in the past Eugene has had impure water, and the recent typhoid fever epidemic was a result but now that the filtered water being supplied the people of Eugene has been pronounced pure, there is no call for the publication of such reports as just made by young Matson, and to accentuate them by sensational headlines. Eugene has already been given too many hard knocks by just such work.

VERY LITTLE TYPHOID.

In this connection it might be well to state that only three cases of typhoid fever have been reported to County Physician J. W. Harris during the present month and none of them are traceable to the city water.

GOOD BUSINESS AT KETSON SPRINGS

J. H. Warfield is down from Kitson Springs where he conducts a well known summer resort. He says business has been good so far this summer, people coming and going all the time. The roads are in first-class shape and the buildings at the springs are in good repair. Fishing, he says, is the best in years and many good catches are made daily.

WINDOW CLEANING.

Item of Expense That Mounts Up in the Case of Big Buildings.

The cost of having house or apartment windows of ordinary size cleaned by professional window cleaners is about 10 cents a window. So a man living, say, in an apartment having ten windows would pay $1 for having his windows cleaned; if he had them cleaned twice a month $2 and if once a week $4 a month—not a matter of very serious moment.

But when it comes to big buildings, with many windows, the window cleaning question may easily be a very different proposition. The most recently opened of the city's great modern hotels has about 3,500 windows. Obviously if it cost 10 cents each to have these windows cleaned the cost of a single cleaning of them would be $350.

If they were cleaned twice a month at that cost the expense would be $700 a month, or $8,400 a year, and to clean them once a week at 10 cents a window would cost annually $18,200.

As a matter of fact, the expense is much less than that, but still the actual cost of the work, done partly by contract and partly by the hotel's own labor, amounts to a sum that many a man would be glad to have for a salary or to have added to his annual income.

The cleaning of the windows of this great hotel from the ground floor up to and including the parlor floor is done by contract by a window cleaning concern. On the twenty floors above the parlor floor the window cleaning is done by men employed on the several floors, a man on each looking after the windows on that floor.

For its part of the work the window cleaning concern sends eight men, and the number of men employed by the hotel that work on the windows on the higher floors is twenty. Thus it takes a considerable part of the time of twenty-eight men to keep the windows of the big hotel in order, and the annual cost of the work of this one simple item of window cleaning is here about $6,500.—New York Sun.

The Wealth of Nations.

The latest estimate of national wealth by a competent authority was recently given before the British income tax committee by Mr. Mallet, one of the commissioners of inland revenue. Mr. Mallet placed the national income at $9,000,000,000 against the $3,500,000,000 of Prussia. The capital of the United Kingdom he estimated at $42,500,000,000, which was double that of France and four times that of Italy. According to his estimate, the number of persons possessed of fortunes of over $200,000 was in the United Kingdom 30,000, in France 15,000, in Prussia 11,000 and in Italy 1,500. An Englishman with an income of $5,000 pays $250 income tax, a Prussian pays $212.50 on $5,000 of unearned income and $150 in the case of earned income.

The wealth of the United States cannot be estimated from any official source, but at the observed ratio of increase noted in 1900 it cannot well be less than $10,000,000,000 and is probably considerably greater.—New York World.

The Motor Armchair.

Anybody who has had a good case of senilecness must have felt that he would welcome the electric chair as a relief. Now an electric chair for senilecness has been tested on an English channel steamer and an ocean liner. You sit in a snug armchair. A motor under the seat is connected with the ship's electric current. You sit and take vibratory treatment. Up and down and crosswise you are shaken. Most sitters need but one treatment. Their tendency to senilecness is vibrated out of them. Some need a second sitting. A few are senilec as soon as their treatment ends. It is a preventive, mark you, not a cure. The theory is that senilecness is essentially a nervous malady, and that vibration reduces the nervousness. Certainly imagination and expectation have much to do with the disorder. Blessings on the new armchair if it can block quick coming senilecness. But many believe and many doubt.—Everybody's Magazine.

Tough Greenbacks.

A little incident showing the gentleness and enduring quality of the paper on which our greenbacks are printed occurred up in the Maine woods last winter. Three years ago a lumberman who had been given a ten dollar bill on his wage account lost the money on his way home. One day in January last a friend found the bill in an open field, where it had been dropped, still intact and easily recognizable after having been drenched in the rains, frozen by the snows and bleached in the sun for three years. Being restored to its original owner, the bill was sent to the United States treasury, where it was promptly redeemed in new paper.—Lester's Weekly.

A Quaint Old Book.

A descendant of the ancient Babylonians, Mrs. Annie Nafarian of Nashua, N. H., has in her possession a book written in the language of the race and supposed by her to be dated many years before the Christian era. The book is 13 inches long, 8 inches wide and 5 inches thick. The covers are made of black walnut covered with leather. The leaves of the book are not of paper, but are made of some kind of skin. The printing is hand work and is legible. The book is believed to be a history and combination dictionary and grammar of the ancient Babylonians.
