MINING STOCK EXCHANGE AT PORTLAND
To be Opened Within a Few Days
—Herbert Leigh, Local Assayer and Mine Owner, Becomes Member of Stokers of World, New Order for Mining Men.

Herbert Leigh, the assayer and mine owner, returned last night from Portland where he went on business connected with mining properties in which he is interested. He told the Guard today of a new mining stock exchange which is to be opened in Portland within the next few days. The exchange is located on the first floor of the Commonwealth building at Sixth and Ankeny streets and has elegant quarters. The membership is composed of a large number of leading bankers and business men of Portland and will be operated upon a strictly legitimate basis as regards the listing of stocks. A committee will make a rigid examination of the condition and status of all properties before allowing them to be listed. The exchange will be brought up to the standard set by the mining exchanges of San Francisco, Los Angeles and Colorado Springs and will be conducted along similar lines. It will be a great benefit to the mine owners of Oregon.

A MINERS' ORDER.
Mr. Leigh while in the city became a member of the Stokers of the World, an order for mining men and similar to the Hoo Hoo, the lumbermen's order. Stope No. 1, or the grand lodge, will be located at Portland and it is intended to organize subordinate stopes all over the world. The order already has a large membership, including many leading mining men, business men and bankers of Portland. The membership is restricted to persons interested in mining and members of mining supply firms who have dealings with them. A subordinate stope will probably be organized in Eugene within a short time. The order has a sick benefit and accident insurance feature, the policies being underwritten by four of the principal banks of Portland.

Brevities
Weather prediction: Fair tonight and Thursday warmer.
Alt Walker has opened a soft drink and cigar establishment in the old Sneed bar.
Yesterday's baseball scores: San Francisco 2; Portland 1. Fresno 1; Los Angeles 2.

TAKES POWER FROM THE COUNTY COURT
Circuit Court Will Hereafter Issue Naturalization Papers to Aliens Under New Law
County Clerk Lee has received instructions to the effect that hereafter naturalization papers must be issued by the circuit court instead of the county court as at present. The naturalization law as enacted by the session of Congress, provides that the Federal Government, through an executive office, is charged with the general control of the naturalization of aliens. Only the courts of states and territories which have a seal, a clerk and a jurisdiction in actions at law or equity, or law and equity in which the amount in controversy is unlimited, can hereafter entertain applications for naturalization. This law has the effect of taking the issuance of naturalization papers to aliens out of the County Courts in this state and the duty devolves upon the Circuit Courts of the state, the clerks of which must apply for the necessary blanks.

SERIES OF SOCIALS
BY THE L. OF G. A. R.
The Ladies of the G. A. R. will give a series of ice cream socials at the Rest Cottage, beginning with Saturday evening, August 4. The proceeds will go toward the erection of a new hall. Come every one and help the ladies to get a home of their own.

A Splendid Attraction
Lorow's Glass Blowers opened their grand exhibition last evening in the Walton block. The room was crowded with enthusiastic visitors; many ladies and children being present. This certainly is the best and most instructive exhibition ever seen in Eugene. Six artists are employed in the manufacture of beautiful ornaments, out of common rods and tubes of glass, which are given to the victors. The glass steam engine, glass spinning and weaving, and the glass drosses are among the features. A present is given to each visitor, and the admission is but 10 cents. Doors open afternoons from 2 until 5, and evenings from 7 to 9.30.
