NEW BUSINESS HOUSES FOR SPRINGFIELD

Reported That a Furniture Store Will Open in New Fleming Building—Meat Market and Packing House

Springfield, Aug. 7.—It is reported that a Portland firm will install a large furniture store in the Fleming building in the near future. In order to accommodate the stock it will be necessary to remodel the lower story of the building and Mr. Fleming has expressed a willingness to do so.

J. U. Machen, of Eugene, is putting in a meat market and packing house in the building formerly occupied by Roberts & Plummer.

Workmen are now tearing out the partitions in the new building to accommodate Cox's new drygoods store.

The water has been turned into the mains and Springfield now has ample fire protection.

SURVEY WILL SOON REACH KLAMATH FALLS

The preliminary survey of the Oregon Eastern Railroad will reach Klamath Falls in about two weeks, and make connection with the survey of the California Northwestern road at Kottlesnake Point, says the Klamath Falls Herald.

The surveying party, with J. R. Graham, chief engineer, is now camped at Naylox, but will move to Klamath Falls shortly. A survey is being made around the marsh at Naylox, and has reached a point about opposite the Naylox hotel. After the survey around the marsh is completed it is likely another line will be run from Barkley Springs directly through to the point jutting out below the marsh. While the survey is only a preliminary one, yet all data for the building of a railroad is being gone into.

THE BOY MURDERERS ARE LANDED IN JAIL

Thomas Reeves and Hugh Saxon, Who Killed Wm. Powell, Caught

Brought Down From Cottage Grove This Afternoon—Bound Over Without Bail to Appear for Trial at November Term of Circuit Court on Charge of First Degree Murder

Sheriff Fred Fisk and Deputy District Attorney J. M. Williams arrived down from Cottage Grove on this afternoon's train with the two boys, Thomas Reeves and Hugh Saxon, who were arrested at Drain yesterday afternoon, charged with the killing of William Powell, the itinerant tinner and umbrella mender, near Cottage Grove Sunday night. The boys, who are aged 18 and 15 years respectively, were taken from the depot down Willamette street to the county jail. As they walked in front of the sheriff and the district attorney they attracted a great deal of attention and a large crowd of men and boys followed them to the jail. Remarks that they were tough looking characters were heard on all sides and they certainly look the part. The older one has a swarthy complexion and appears as if he might be of foreign parentage. He walked down the street in a bold and defiant manner, and occasionally smiled at the curious crowd that was following. The younger boy appeared to be in a more serious mood and seemed nervous, often looking around as he caught the remarks made about him and his companion by those following behind.

THE CAPTURE.

The boys were captured at Drain about seven o'clock last evening by Marshal Winant and a posse of citizens. The murderers were seen coming down the railroad track and they were at once covered with shotguns and rifles in the hands of the posse. The boys threw up their hands and submitted to arrest without resistance. Sheriff Fisk arrived at Drain just 30 minutes after the boys were captured, he and Warren McFarland, of Cottage Grove, having been hot on their trail for several hours. They set out from Cottage Grove in a buggy, and alternately walking and riding soon found traces of the young desperadoes and kept on their track till they reached Drain.

Reeves and Saxon were brought back to Cottage Grove and were arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. E. Young this forenoon on the charge of murder in the first degree. They were bound over without bail to appear for trial in the circuit court, which convenes in November.

THE BOYS IN JAIL.

Sheriff Fisk permitted a Guard reporter to talk to the boys in jail this afternoon. They were loitering in the hammocks in their cell reading novels, and the first thing they said as the sheriff and the reporter entered was that they wished they had some smoking tobacco and that they would go crazy if they did not get it. In speaking of the crime Reeves, who is the older, said that he did the shooting. They were "jolly" the old man, he said, about the meal he was cooking when he became angry and suddenly lunged at Reeves with a knife. Before he knew it, Reeves said, he had pulled out his gun and fired. It was not until the man had fallen to the ground and was groaning with pain that he realized what he had done. This happened about eight o'clock in the evening. The boys say they ran through Cottage Grove and then south on the railroad, going as fast as they could till three o'clock next morning, when they became exhausted and slept in a hayfield. They awoke late and started out again, but taking it easier than they did the night before. They say they wanted to be caught and Reeves declared this afternoon that he now wishes that he had turned and run when the Drain posse had their guns trained on him, so they would have killed him.

The Reeves boy says his home is in Portland, where he has a father and a brother. His mother is dead. The Saxon boy is from Texas, where his parents live. In speaking of them the boys' voices choked and he would say little concerning them. The boys started out from Portland Saturday night bound for California. They had "hoboed" their way to Cottage Grove, where they were put off the train. They say they had no particular object in making the trip, only to see the world and have a good time.

DALLAS MOB WANTED TO LYNCH FLOWER

A press dispatch from Dallas, Or., says: The preliminary trial of J. H. Flower for alleged assault on the 7-year-old daughter of James Ross, was held before Justice Hollman. The evidence was considered not sufficient to hold the prisoner and he was discharged, after which he disappeared. A mob soon formed and started for his house, but Sheriff Grant prevailed on the leaders to withhold their action until midnight, provided Grant would have Flower out of town by that time, which he did, and he was sent away, never to return to Dallas.

This morning Flower's office is closed and the town is quiet. The mob was orderly and sober, but determined. Rosa harangued the crowd before his stable to the effect that justice had not been done. The sheriff evidently saved the day and prevented a crime. Flower provided an alibi to the satisfaction of the court, but not of the mob.
