AN INDEPENDENT PAPER.

MONDAY, AUGUST 12

Why Guard Was Late

Saturday evening when the Guard went to press an accident to the press delayed the issue nearly two hours. While no serious damage resulted, the new press not having been thoroughly adjusted, it was nearly seven o'clock before the carrier boys began to leave the office with their papers.

In the meantime the Guard office telephone was kept ringing and there were a hundred calls from subscribers who believed that they had been missed in the delivery of papers. The moral to be drawn from this incident is that the Daily Guard is considered almost a household necessity in this city, and when people fail to get it they want to know the reason why.

Disaster constitutes the necessity that is the mother of a recent invention. The object of the inventor is to prevent collisions at sea. He has a very ingenious device and it is confidently expected it will prove a success in practical operation. It is described in this manner: By the inventor's system vessels are supplied with special wireless telegraphic apparatus which acts over a short circuit, even as short a distance as half a mile. As soon as a vessel enters within a certain distance of another vessel, this telegraphic apparatus acts automatically in such a manner as to close the steam tube to the screw on each vessel. The machinery is thus instantly checked, and the steamers have time to reverse their engines or reduce speed. Such an invention, if successful, will prove a boon to humanity. Recent sea tragedies have emphasized the proneness of man to be careless and his penchant for taking unnecessary chances, and if this invention will furnish an increased measure of protection automatically the travelers will be perfectly willing that the sea captain shall continue to occupy a position more ornamental than useful.

Here is one of the latest stories on Bryan—and it is a good one: The old gag of "seeing the next president" of the United States was sprung on the Nebraskan in London recently by a couple of ladies who called on him. "Yes," replied Bryan. Then speaking with charming good nature, he added: "If that's what you want, ladies, let me advise you to see all the Americans you can, because the more you see the greater will be the likelihood of your meeting the right person."

Governor Chamberlain thus expresses himself regarding a national divorce law: "I believe that there exists in the United States an urgent need of a uniform marriage and divorce law, and that the submission by congress of a constitutional amendment directing the enactment of such a law is desired by the people of the state of Oregon, and that such an amendment would be ratified by the legislature of this state"

Newspapermen are especially considerate of their fellow workers. Since Charlie Nickell has been convicted of land frauds no Oregon editor has arisen to remark that he "looks like five cents."

The democrats will make a mistake if they run Senator W. A. Clarke for vice president with Wm. J. Bryan. He has nothing but his money to recommend him and it is time the party learned that the people desire a man of second place as well as first. Democrats have frequently made the mistake of handicapping their presidential nominee by selling the vice presidency to the highest bidder.

The editor of the Salem Journal has been sitting up nights figuring of late and this is the result of his calculation: On or near the first day of September, 40,000 people will begin working in the hop yards of the Willamette valley. It will require about four weeks to harvest the crop and it is believed that $1,500,000 will be paid out by growers in wages.

The collectorship of the Port of Portland is the best political job in Oregon and the Journal thinks that Hop, J. M. Shelley will land it. Nothing is too good for a Eugene man—in fact it takes something more than an ordinary inducement to entice a resident of this city away from his home.

An island of volcanic origin has been discovered—first appearing in June it is now 900 feet high. Steam rises from its summit and the water around it boils continuously. This evidence, coupled with the recent hot spell, strongly substantiates the claim that hades is not so remote as many of our friends had hoped.

If Tom Lipton falls again this year to "lift the cup," plenty of men down in this dry section of Oregon will extend their heartfelt sympathy.

Portland has a reform administration. This probably accounts for the fact that there are only 422 saloons in the city.

Coming to Eugene

Mr. Schulbach, manager of the Portland auction rooms, of Portland, will be at the Hoffman House Saturday and Sunday, August 11 and 12. He says he'll buy anything, from a chair to a piano, in the furniture line or household goods. Also anything in store fixtures, such as show cases, cash registers, etc., etc. If you have anything to sell leave word or address at the Hoffman House.

METHODS of THE GRAFTERS

By FRANK MOSS of New York, Veteran Municipal Reformer

THIS country is not passing through a unique crisis. Other countries have passed through such conditions from time to time. PERHAPS MORE SERIOUS CONDITIONS were shown to exist in English life some years ago. I used to wonder how it was that New York police officers were able to do such things as they were guilty of and manage to survive a night in the face of the popular indignation. The time came when I was able to question the officers themselves as to why they were willing to follow vicious leaders and to accept dirty money. The answer I got was: "Wouldn't I be a fool if I didn't? EVERYBODY ELSE IS GRAFTING."

That is the secret of police corruption. If I should speak of the life insurance trustees and officials who have been exposed I would do so with pity. THEY ARE CREATURES OF CIRCUMSTANCES. They have done only what they thought all others were doing.

Years ago the Third Avenue Railroad company was considered as solid as a rock. The money of widows and orphans was heavily invested in its stock. The time came when it was necessary to change the motive power employed. Before it could get the license to do so it was forced by the politicians to give the work it was about to have done to a POLITICAL CONTRACTOR. Otherwise it would have been refused the use of certain streets. I had cause to investigate the affair, and I found that the grafting was not chargeable to one party only. Both parties had perpetrated that injustice. Soon after the stock of the road began to decline in value. A widow came to me and asked if she should sell. I went to a man who was on the "inside" and asked him. He told me to advise her to HOLD ON to her stock.

Then came a time when every one was saying, "Sell your stock." Still my friend on the "inside" said, "Tell her to hold on to her stock."

Then the Metropolitan Railroad company issued a statement saying that it would not have the property of the Third Avenue line as a gift. The stock went to nothing. Then the Metropolitan bought it up. Where was the money of the widows and orphans? Immediately the value of the stock went back to its former high figure. THAT WAS HIGH FINANCE.

THE POLICE AND THE POLITICIANS SAW THIS COMPANY TAKING THE MONEY FROM THE POCKETS OF THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS.

A Hymn for Today

WAGES

By Lord Tennyson

GLORY of warrior, glory of orator, glory of song, Paid with a voice flying by to be lost on an endless sea— Glory of Virtue, to fight, to struggle, to right the wrong— Nay, but she aimed not at glory, no lover of glory she; Give her the wages of going on, and still to be.

The wages of sin is death; if the wages of Virtue be dust, Would she have heart to endure for the life of the worm and the fly? She desires no isles of the blest, no quiet seats of the just, To rest in a golden grove or to bask in a summer sky; Give her the wages of going on and not to die.

Eugene-Fall Creek Stage

Barnard & West stages now leave Eugene and Fall Creek each morning except Sunday, returning in the afternoon.

Book and Art Goods Sale

While we are getting ready to move into our new building we will sell our books and art goods at very low prices. The cost of moving pictures, pottery, china, etc., is considerable on account of the danger of injury, and it will be better to sell these goods at cost than to move them.

Goods can be paid for by installments if desirable. This will be a good opportunity for those who enjoy good books and things.
