AN INDEPENDENT PAPER.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 16

Express Monopolies

One of our newspaper exchanges calls attention to the fact that the express companies form about as complete a monopoly as could be organized. It asserts that they have divided up the territory among them and do not compete over the same lines or within the same area. Their operations extend over 158,000 miles of railroad and there are only four of them, the Adams, the American, the United States and the Wells Fargo. These are said to do 90 per cent of all the express business and they also exercise control over some of the smaller companies outside of their exclusive fields but having connection with them. This virtual monopoly of the express business has been under no sort of control, but will now like the railroads have to file their schedule of rates and make account of their business to the interstate commerce commission, so we shall soon know more about these close corporations and may hope to have their exorbitant rates modified to a reasonable extent.

The express companies are common carriers, as the railroads are, and with whom they are closely allied. The reports of the railroads for 1904 show that the express companies paid the railroads $41,000,000, which is said to be about 50 per cent of their gross earnings. That there is a close alliance between the railroads and the express companies is shown, as several directors of each are directors or officers of railroad companies. There is a strong suspicion that when the inside affairs of the express companies are exposed, that it will be found that large amounts of money have been paid to campaign funds and for lobbying purposes to prevent hostile legislation, such as the life insurance companies have been exposed in doing.

And still the Portland papers refuse to do Eugene simple justice by publishing the truth about the city's water supply. The only object that these papers seem to have in continually misrepresenting this city is a desire to some day secure the removal of the state university to Portland—a desire that will never be gratified. A number of Eugene people continue to take the Daily Oregonian, but if that paper's open fight on local interests continues much longer its subscription list will feel the effect of it in Lane county. Its spleen was so apparent that the Eugene contestant in its fake Yellowstone Park contest was snubbed when the list of complimentary excursionists was made out.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon paid his respects to President Sam Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, in his speech at Danville today, in which he sounded the keynote of the Republican congressional campaign. It's Sam's turn next, and he may be expected to come back at the Danville statesman in his usual straight-from-the-shoulder method.

Linn county wants the next legislature to give her a slice of Lane county. Naturally our neighbors are envious of the resources of this county and would like a division of good things—sort of a socialist idea—but we are not ready to part with any of them just at this stage of the game; besides, the people of the coveted sections are contented and happy wher they are and prefer Eugene to Albany as a capital city. Our delegation at Salem will be wideawake and alert to the interests of Lane county and our Linn neighbors will be disappointed in their desire to possess the land of milk and honey that lies so near—and yet so far.

PATRONIZE THE MERCHANTS WHOSE ADVERTSEMENTS YOU READ IN THE DAILY GUARD. THEY CALL YOUR ATTENTION IN THE GUARD'S ADVERTISEMENTS THEY HAVE TO OFFER IN A MODERN, UP-TO-DATE MANNER. THE GUARD'S ADVERTISINIG COLUMNS GIVE A COMPLETE PRESENTATION OF THE STORE NEWS OF THE DAY, AND THE BUSINESSMAN WHO DOES NOT TALK TO THE PUBLIC THROUGH THAT MEDIUM EVIDENTLY HAS NOTHING OF INTEREST TO SAY TO THE BUYERS.

The Daily Guard gives "today's news today," and it leaves nothing for the morning paper to do but to rehash it and try to pick flaws in its report. We are willing to have it that way—it gives them something to do, and does us no harm. By the way, over one hundred new daily subscribers have been added to the Guard's carrier lists in Eugene the past week—and we had a whole lot more than any other paper here before that. Looks as if the plain people like our way of dishing up the news, eh?

The same old story of car shortage, and the same old excuses, varied by the San Francisco tale of woe. Why does Harriman persist in monopolizing the Oregon territory when he lacks the facilities for handling half the business properly?

The Pendleton Tribune thinks that the ornamental Nicholas Longworth should be re-elected congressman from Ohio because of the "nice way he treats his wife." Oh, Lordy; what will the Roosevelt worshippers spring on us next!

The Daily Guard will be a big paper tomorrow—eight pages, 56 columns, chock full of good reading matter and live store news—no dead ads just printed to "fill up."

"Only eight days till the circus" is the ecstatic gurgle of the kid who edits the Albany Democrat. Oh, joy; almost too good to be true!

Some Fits and Misfits

(Albany Democrat.)

Talk of yellow journalism. The Telegram's big header about the forest fires causing more damage than the San Francisco fire makes the Hearst papers look sick.

A former Albany man writing from Bend says: "Since the Albany pool has sold for $1000 per claim the price being paid now is $2000. This is straight."

Henry Meldrum is preparing to take an outing of some time on McNeill's Island, a popular resort. Charley Nickel may also go there for twelve or thirteen months, and it is possible Binger Hermann may select it.

The sawmills up the Santiam will continue to run, though some of the papers have pretty thoroughly burned up the timber. There is plenty left. Parties from up the road declare that the green timber actually burned is not so very extensive.

Millionaires and Jury Duty

By W. K. VANDERBILT, Jr., Who Recently Served as a Petit Juror at Mineola, N. Y.

EVERY citizen should do his duty on the petit jury when called upon. His wealth or social position should not sway him. While jury service is not particularly pleasant, it is necessary, and the man summoned should serve without grumbling OR HESITATION. I could be excused, as I am a volunteer fireman, but I do not think it PROPER to beg off.

A Poem for Today

CHILDREN

By Longfellow

COME to me, O ye children!
For I hear you at your play,
And the questions that perplexed me
Have vanished quite away.

Ye open the eastern windows,
That look toward the sun,
Where thoughts are singing swallows,
And the brooks of morning run.

In your hearts are the birds and the sunshine,
In your thoughts the brooklet's flow;
But in mine is the wind of Autumn
And the first fall of the snow.

Ah! what would the world be to us
If the children were no more?
We should dread the desert behind us
Worse than the dark before.

What the leaves are to the forest,
With light and air for food,
Ere their sweet and tender juices
Have been hardened into wood—

That to the world are children;
Through them it feels the glow
Of a brighter and sunnier climate
Than reaches the trunks below.

Come to me, O ye children!
And whisper in my ear
What the birds and the wind are singing
In your sunny atmosphere.

For what are all our contrivings,
And the wisdom of our books,
When compared with your caresses,
And the gladness of your looks?

Ye are better than all the ballads
That ever were sung or said;
For ye are living poems,
And all the rest are dead.
