ORIENTAL RUGS

Large Assortment Will Be Displayed
All This Week

Mr. N. L. Saleh arrived last Saturday evening with a large stock of oriental rugs. He is representing the firm of Aaltich Bros., at 324 Washington street, Portland, who handle the largest stock of any dealers in that line on the Pacific coast and are direct importers. They have been established in Portland five years and always have been successful. Mr. Saleh will remain in Eugene until Saturday afternoon, and has selected his location at H. Gordon's furniture store, where he will exhibit his beautiful rugs. Mr. Saleh expects to do a good business for he thinks Eugene people will never miss the opportunity of purchasing such handsome floor coverings, they are up-to-date. In addition Mr. Saleh says he will guarantee that your home will look five hundred per cent better than ever, providing that you use the magnificent oriental rugs. He hopes not to be disappointed, and cordially invites each and every admirer and all who are interested in oriental rugs to receive full information as to how oriental rugs are made by the women weavers in Persia on the hand loom. It is really an education by itself.

We will make that old summer suit look like a new one at the Eugene Dye Works, 450 Willamette street.

BOY KILLED BY A S. P. GRAVEL TRAIN

Evart Fisher Fell Beneath the Wheels of Heavily Loaded
Car

Both Legs Badly Crushed and Shortly
After Amputation He Died--Was Thirteen-Year-Old Son of Mr.
and Mrs. George Fisher -Funeral
Tomorrow

Evart, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher, of this city, was run over by a loaded car at the Southern Pacific gravel pit across the river Sunday afternoon about two o'clock and died at the hospital about three hours afterward. The boy had been watching the operation of the steam shovel during the afternoon. He was standing on the water tank car when several loaded gravel cars were bumped into it, the intention being to make a coupling and pull the water car out to refill the tank. The coupling failed to work and the train was again bumped into the car, this time with such force that the boy lost his hold and fell to the track below. The train kept on backing and before the boy could get out of the way the wheels of the loaded gravel car had run over his right leg, crushing it to a pulp, and partially over the left leg, badly mangle it but not breaking the bone. Evart's cries for help attracted the notice of the trainmen and the cars were immediately stopped. The boy was at once placed in the cab of the locomotive and taken to his home and thence to the Eugene hospital, where both legs were amputated above the knees by Drs. W. Kuykendall, F. M. Day and Ira Bartle. Before the operation the boy, while suffering intense pain, bore up manfully, never shedding a tear, and was conscious up to the time the anesthetic was administered. A few minutes after the operation was completed he expired.

The boy's father, who had been at the Blue River mines for some time past, arrived home only a few minutes before death came. The shock was terrible and the father, as well as the mother, is almost prostrated with grief. Evart was their only child and was aged 13 years and four months to a day. He was a good boy, was industrious and well liked by his young companions as well as by the older persons who knew him. Being very fond of machinery he had spent much of his spare time about the steam shovel at the gravel pit, and all the trainmen knew him well and liked him. He had started to school only a week ago.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the family home, 143 East Sixth street, and the remains will be interred in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. Rev. J. S. McCullum, pastor of the First Christian church, will conduct the services.

She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by W. L. DeLano druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
