

DEVELOPMENT WORK GOES ON AT BOHEMIA

Rich Properties Are Being Worked Scientifically--New Sawmill Being Placed in Position at the Combination--Mill at Oregon Securities Hung Up for Few Days

Bohemia, Oct. 15.—Steady development work is going on at the North Fairview mine, under the management of Herbert Leigh. Work will be pushed all winter in the main drift and much free-milling ore blocked out.

Work is progressing nicely on the crosscut at the Twin Rocks mine, and the management expects to strike their fine ledge before Christmas. This ledge shows up eight feet of free-milling ore on the surface, and the present tunnel will strike the ledge at a depth of over 150 feet and is expected to show up some good ore.

Frank Flusher has just finished packing in his winter supply of provisions, and will soon be at work on his claims again. His property lies near Little Rock creek.

The mill at the Oregon Securities is hung up for a few days for repairs. The water is now plentiful for all purposes and the electric power plant is in good shape to stand fall rains.

The sawmill at the Combination mine is being placed in position, and will soon be cutting timber for the buildings which are to be erected at the mine. The mill is small having a capacity of about 1,500 feet per day but is large enough for mine use.

The first work after the mining cabins and millhouse are provided for will be cutting lumber for the flume and a water wheel. The power for the sawmill is a small gasoline engine but power for the ore works will be obtained from an overshot wheel, which gives a very steady power, and is economical in its use of water.

The stockholders of the Le Roy Mining company held the annual meeting on October 4 in Cottage Grove. The former board of directors was reelected, namely: J. L. Le Roy, Dr. L. W. Brown, C. O. Tobey, W. A. Wann, R. M. Veatch and Henry Veatch. The board of directors afterwards held a meeting and elected J. L. Le Roy president, and Henry Veatch, secretary and treasurer.

LOGGING RAILROAD STILL TALKED OF

The Guard and the Corvallis Times several weeks ago printed an exclusive story concerning a proposed railroad to be built from Junction, Corvallis or Eugene to a large body of timberland being purchased by the Monroe Mill Company of Monroe, Wash., in southern Benton and northern Lane counties. S. A. Buck, representing the company, has been in Eugene at different times since then and spent last night in the city. It is not yet certain whether the road will be built, all depending on whether enough timber can be secured to justify it.

CATARRH SEASON

Disease Most Prevalent in the Fall Months. Simple Way to Cure

With the cool nights of fall, catarrhal troubles in Eugene are becoming more and more prevalent, and Mr. Hull, as a consequence, finds his sales of Hyomel increasing.

At the first warning of catarrh one should begin using Hyomel. A few days' treatment at this season of the year will often prevent a serious and chronic attack of catarrh.

There is no stomach dosing with Hyomel. The virtue of its healing oils and balsams are breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and in that way the medication penetrates to the most remote cells of the nose, throat and lungs, killing catarrhal germs whenever present, and soothing and healing any irritation there may be in the mucous membrane.

If you have a cold, or there is any offensive discharge from the nose, or tickling or dropping at the back of the throat, if there is offensive breath, raising of mucous, and smarting or irritation in the throat, if there are any of the symptoms that indicate catarrhal troubles, begin the use of Hyomel at once.

You take no risk in paying $1 for a Hyomel outfit, as Mr. Hull gives his personal guarantee that if the remedy does not afford satisfaction, your money will be refunded at once. Extra bottles of Hyomel, if needed, cost but 50 cents, making this the most economical treatment for catarrh, as well as the most reliable.
