RAISING OF GOATS.

American farmers have long been discussing ways and means to turn their farms to the best advantage, and it is a little surprising they have never turned more attention to the raising of goats, especially in some sections, remarks a Washington correspondent. When it comes to use for the table goat meat is not to be sneezed at, and goat milk cheese is always in demand, but a glance at the statistics of American importations of goat skins will give an idea of the immense demand for that article of commerce. The increase in quantity and value of these importations has surprised our customs officials.

It is said that but one article of import, pig tin, shows a greater increase during the last ten years than goat skins. In 1886, in round numbers, the import of goat skins amounted to 46,747,029 lbs., valued at $10,304,395, and for the fiscal year 1906, to 111,079,391 lbs., valued at $31,773,069. It will be seen that the amount in pounds has nearly trebled in the ten years, and the value was more than three times as great. In ten years, from 1896 to 1906, the total value of goat skins imported into the United States, omitting those imported in the form of leather, or kid gloves, amounted to more than $240,000,000.

These figures are worthy of attention, especially from those who have farms adapted to the raising of goats. The demand for goat skins increases yearly, and is likely to continue to increase.

The Dayton, Ohio, Journal, has been giving a practical illustration of the paying power of proper advertising. The Dayton Lighting Company conducted its business twenty years without any newspaper advertising, and at the end of that time had only 600 contracts for using 9975 16-candle-power lamps. A new management took hold in August, this year, and entered upon a vigorous campaign and in twenty-four days added more than half, or 55 per cent, to the volume of business that it had taken twenty years to build up without newspaper advertising. It was not a very good time of the year, either, for pushing the lighting business. Think of the loss to the company for all these years, and of the chagrin of the old managers, who thought that it did not pay to advertise and that they had the field entirely covered and supplied. There is nothing that can take the place of good newspaper advertising, and it should be remembered that a trade journal is only a newspaper for those in the field covered by the publication and that all the subscribers are possible buyers.

The morning paper complains because it has had to bid to secure the printing of the delinquent tax list, and again proclaims its belief in the theory that politicians should pay their debts to their newspaper organ with the money of the taxpayers. Also it misrepresents when it asserts Democratic newspapers got the patronage at their own price until Republicans came into power, after which the spoils were equally divided. As a matter of fact the Register made the first demand for a division of the tax list when Democrats, or fusionists, were in control of the county board, and Judge Kincaid and Commissioner Hill acceded to their wishes and gave the Register half of the tax list. Since that time, until this year, the Republican board has followed in the footsteps of its Democratic predecessors in respect to this portion of the county printing. The Register ought to make a correct statement editorially one in a while just as an experiment if nothing else.

One result of the late election is that it discloses the fact that organized labor is not ready to be turned into a political machine by one man, and to give up the individual judgment of the union workman to that of any leader. Mr. Gompers entered the campaign with a long blacklist of members who were candidates for re-election, and put all the machinery at his command to work to secure their defeat. Not a single success has greeted him, while, in fact, some of those he opposed were elected by increased majorities. It is evident that workmen will think for themselves.

Yesterday was a day of catastrophe and crime, half a dozen train wrecks in which over fifty people lost their lives, and a number of revolting crimes and suicides throughout the country. The year 1906 is not growing better as it draws toward its close.

The Guard's new typesetting machine is doing fairly good work, and in a few days more we expect to be able to make many noticeable improvements in the paper.

Alcoholism Is Only A Form of Insanity

By Dr. T. D. CROTHERS of Hartford, Conn.

THE term "inebriety" describes a condition which calls for alcohol for its anaesthetic effect and in reality means a disease or DISORDER OF THE BRAIN, for which alcohol is a most grateful remedy.

The use of alcohol is in most cases a symptom of some disorder and not, as supposed, the cause. The theory that the excessive use of spirits is a vice and MORAL CONDITION is not true. Great injustice and wrongs follow the efforts to correct this evil based on these false theories. A scientific study of inebriety indicates a definite disease, with distinct causes, progress and termination, THE SAME AS OTHER DISEASES.

Two marked symptoms of insanity are prominent. One is in the periodic drinker, who drinks to excess for a short period, then abstains. This drink period is practically an acute mania or INSANE IMPULSE, which resists all efforts of control. It is often preceded by insomnia, headaches and great irritability. Such persons drink both secretly and openly and act like insane persons. It resembles epilepsy in its sudden convulsive onset and inability to break up or control except by the harshest measures.

Cases have been noted where persons drank for two or more months, then abstained for five years, relapsing again as before. Another large class of patients are secret midnight drinkers WHO NEVER DRINK AT ANY OTHER TIME.

Certain atmospheric and electrical conditions seem to be active in precipitating the drink attacks. One man only drinks at the seashore, another on high elevations. One drinks in certain climates and seasons of the year and at no other time. Many persons drink heavily in large cities and are strict abstainers elsewhere.

Another form of insanity is seen in the constant drinker who daily drinks in so called moderation, and because he is not incapacitated or seems not to be changed in feeling or degree of comfort believes that he is benefited. Measurements by instruments of precision and careful studies of persons who drink regularly, EVEN IN SO CALLED SMALL QUANTITIES, indicate that they are the most degenerate and defective of all inebriates and the most positively insane in a GENERAL sense.

ACCURATE STUDIES AND MEASUREMENTS SHOW THAT THE STEADY DRINKER HAS ALWAYS DELUSIONS AND HALLUCINATIONS, WITH DEGREES OF DEMENTIA, WHICH HE COVERS UP AND CAN ONLY BE SEEN BY HIS INTIMATE FRIENDS AND ASSOCIATES. ALL SUCH PERSONS SUFFER FROM CHRONIC POISON AND STARVATION.

A Poem for Today

TOM BOWLING

By Charles Dibdin

HERE, a sheer hulk, lies poor Tom Bowling,
 The darling of our crew;
 No more he'll hear the tempest howling,
 For death has broached him to.
 His form was one of the manliest beauty,
 His heart was kind and soft;
 Faithful, below, he did his duty;
 But now he's gone aloft.

Tom never from his word departed,
 His virtues were so rare,
 His friends were many and truehearted,
 His soul was kind and fair;
 And then he'd sing, so blithe and jolly,
 Ah, many's the time and oft!
 But mirth is turned to melancholy,
 For Tom is gone aloft.

Yet shall poor Tom find pleasant weather,
 When He who all commands
 Shall give, to call life's crew together,
 The word to "pipe all hands."
 Thus Death, who kings and tars dispatches,
 In vain Tom's life has doffed;
 For, though his body's under hatches,
 His soul has gone aloft.
