JENNINGS GETS NEW TRIAL FOR MURDER

Grants Pass Man Was Over Zealously Prosecuted Says Supreme Court--Accused of Murdering Father For Small Sum of Money He Had Saved Up

Salem, Or., Nov. 21.—The supreme court today in the appeal of Jasper Jennings, granted the defendant a new trial. The principal reason assigned was the over-zealousness of District Attorney Reames in his prosecution of the case.

Jennings was convicted of murdering his father, who had a wood-chopping contract near Grants Pass, for the purpose of securing about $600 which the elder Jennings had saved up. He tried to throw the blame upon his sister, Dora Jennings, who was tried for complicity and acquitted, following her brother's conviction.

DENNISON ALONE TO BLAME FOR COLLISION

Seattle, Nov. 21.—That Mate Dennison is wholly to blame for the loss of the steamer Dix, which caused the death of more than fifty men and women, is evident from the testimony taken before the United States marine inspectors today.

Captain Lermont testified that he had warned Dennison never to attempt to cross in front of another vessel, but to pass astern. Captain Mason, of the Jeannie, told of the efforts he made to avert the collision by reversing the Jeannie's engines, but could not do so.

TO PUMP WATER FROM CONDEMNED WELLS

Willamette Valley Company Digging Trench to Tap Old Supply

Intend to Take Water From Same Source That Caused Typhoid Fever Epidemic Last Winter. Business Men and Physicians Denounce Company for Action

The Willamette Valley Company, the concern that controls the light and water plants in Eugene, commenced yesterday evening to dig a trench to the station shaft leading to the old well below Midgley's planing mill, and will lay pipe and pump water for continuous use from this old well as soon as connections can be made.

It will be remembered that Eugene had a fearful typhoid epidemic a few months ago, and the local physicians and state board of health condemned the supply of water as being unfit for use, unless it was boiled. Notwithstanding these facts the Willamette Valley Company has a force of men working day and night digging a trench to the well condemned and known to contain typhoid germs. Business men generally condemn the action of the company as an outrage, and the local physicians denounce the action as a menace to the public health and the welfare of the city.

It is probable that a mass meeting will be called and the situation be discussed thoroughly, and it is likely that some action will be taken for consideration of a municipal light and water system for Eugene.

One of Eugene's prominent business men, a man who always opposed the municipal ownership idea, stated to a Guard representative today that he thought under the circumstances it would be best for the city to own its own system, that it did not seem possible for the present company to either keep its promises or to give us good light or water; besides, their prices were exorbitant.

Dr. Jno. Harris, the county physician, said: "The pumping of water from this old foul, condemned well must not be tolerated. In case the company insists on furnishing this water we must protect ourselves by boiling the water, as I consider it absolutely dangerous."

In speaking of the situation to several employees of the company all seemed to think it was a bad break, but orders must be obeyed. One employee, when told the public would not stand for such water, and that it was a useless expenditure of money, remarked: "Well, the company makes the people pay the bills."

JAMES J. HILL ON THE WITNESS STAND
 Minneapolis, Nov. 21.—James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern, took the witness stand today when the interstate commerce commissioner began its inquiry into relations between the railroad companies and grain companies of the Northwest. The hearing is held pursuant to the LaFollette resolution adopted by congress last session.

Hill proved a willing witness and answered all questions given without hesitation and in detail. He told of the tremendous grain traffic of his road, equalling each year twice as much as the grain hauled into Chicago by all the roads running into that city. In 1879 the Great Northern hauled 2,870,000 bushels and in 1895 carried 115,000,000. He said it had always been the policy of the road to aid the farmers whenever possible.

FAIR ACCUSER NOT TO APPEAR AS WITNESS

New York, Nov. 21.—Police Captain Stephenson said today that he was informed by a prominent business man that Mrs. Hannah Graham would not appear in court this afternoon when the case of Caruso, the eminent tenor, charged with insult to send a cablegram in the name of Graham objects to being "snap-shot" and having her name spread all over the city and country. Mrs. Graham is said to be a woman of eminent respectability.

The detective who witnessed the alleged insult will take the stand against the singer.

Policeman Cain, who arrested Caruso, gave sensational testimony. He said he watched Caruso following two girls, one aged about twelve years, and had followed his actions. He saw Caruso move up close to Mrs. Graham and saw one of his hands glide through a slit in his overcoat and pinch the woman. Mrs. Graham turned swiftly and struck at Caruso's chest, crying out:

"You brute! You beast!" Cain then arrested Caruso, Mrs. Graham accompanying them to the station, where Caruso pleaded with the woman to withdraw the charge, declaring his innocence of wrongdoing.

Caruso appeared nervous during the examination of Cain. Asked why he had not arrested Caruso when he first noticed his conduct with the girls and women, Cain replied that "he wanted to get his good." Caruso took the stand later in the afternoon.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP TRAIN AT HOOD RIVER

Twenty Sticks of Dynamite Placed On Track of Mt. Hood Railway, But Frozen Condition Prevented Explosion When Train Passed Over It--No Clue to Guilty Persons

Portland, Nov. 21.—A special dispatch to the Evening Telegram from Hood River, Oregon, tells of a fiendish attempt made Saturday night to blow up a train on the Mount Hood railway. Twenty sticks of dynamite were placed on the track, but owing to their frozen condition failed to explode when the train passed over it. Twenty-five passengers and the crew were on the train. The company has offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension of the guilty persons, but so far no clue has been found.

NEGRO TROOPS WILL BE DISCHARGED

Washington, Nov. 21.—The war department issued a statement today that the secretary of war, becoming convinced that the president will not recede from his position regarding the dismissal of the negro troops of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, had yesterday ordered that proceedings for the discharge continue without delay.

Secretary Taft says that immediate steps will be taken to recruit colored soldiers to replace the men discharged.
