RAILROAD LEGISLATION.

The Portland Chamber of Commerce has had prepared by its attorney a railroad bill which will be presented to the next legislature for enactment. It is designed to prevent unequal and excessive freight rates and wipe out discrimination in favor of or against communities or individuals.

The bill provides for reciprocal demurrage, requires that adequate equipment and adequate service be furnished, and that all charges for transportation of persons and property must be reasonable and just. Unjust and unreasonable charges are declared unlawful, and this provision applies also to joint rates. Discrimination, giving and accepting rebates are prohibited under heavy penalties, as is the giving of an undue and unreasonable preference and the taking of compensation other than specified in the lawful schedules. An anti-pass provision is incorporated, excepting from its operation the privileged persons listed in either the inter-state or Wisconsin acts.

Every railroad is required, under the provisions of section 45, to file on the first Monday of February of each year a verified list of all railroad passes, mileage books and tickets issued free or for any other than actual bona fide money consideration at full established rates during the preceding year, together with the names of the recipients thereof, the amounts received therefor and reasons for issuing same.

Wide latitude is given the railroad companies in the matter of the issuance of transportation, except for political purposes, and a commission, consisting of three members, to be appointed by the governor, is provided for.

Such a bill has many good features but it is doubtful if it will be enacted into a law, since, so far as the returns have been received, but one member of the legislature has declined to accept a free pass from the railroad company.

The state of Washington has suffered heavily by the recent floods, the heaviest loss falling upon the town of Castle Rock, which was half wiped out. Railroads also suffered heavily and farmers on the low lands lost nearly all their improvements and a great deal of stock. Oregon, slow and backward perhaps in many respects, is at least the securest place of residence, east or west.

The San Francisco grand jury has indicted one supervisor, Fred. P. Nicholas, and others are likely soon to be in the toils of the law. The present shakeup promises to produce greater consternation in certain quarters than did the big upheaval of nature.

The Guard's special edition will be printed mainly as an advertisement of Lane county, and matter best suited to setting forth the advantages and resources of this section of the Willamette valley will be chiefly selected for publication. The Guard does not expect to make any money on this edition and will be glad if it loses none, and this same spirit should, in a measure at least, be emulated by those who take space in the edition. They are doing a public spirited act by helping to pay for the publication of just such literature as Eugene and Lane county should send out to attract home seekers and investors. The thousands of copies that are printed will find their way into the hands of strangers, and the business man and property owner who does not receive a direct benefit from his advertisement is sure to share in the general profit that will accrue to the community by the splendid advertisement the Guard is enabled to put out because of the liberal patronage of the enterprising people of Lane county.

Wm. R. Hearst says that he will never again be a candidate for office. This statement will tend to relieve the anxiety of some ambitious Empire State politicians who will be glad to know that the editor is out of the running.

The city council is taking the right step in the purchase of horses for the fire department. It is always better to take these measures, dictated by good judgment, before a disaster occurs that might have been prevented.

Wm. R. Hearst and Dick Croker are still exchanging compliments. In a late interview the former advises Croker to remain away from this country "in these days of investigation and prison penalties."

Washington and Idaho have gone down before the prowess of the Oregon boys. That ought to be glory enough, even if Dan Kelly had failed to win the world's amateur athletic championship.

President Roosevelt is homeward bound, after having inspected the work done on the Panama canal. He probably used a microscope.

Wm. J. Bryan is coming to Oregon in January and will stop only at Eugene and Portland.

Government Supervision Versus Government Ownership
By United States Senator ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE of Indiana

GOVERNMENT ownership violates the American principle that government enterprise ought not to own and manage what INDIVIDUAL ENTERPRISE can own and manage.

Government supervision is a recognition of that American principle and the application of its corollary that a business which affects ALL THE PEOPLE should be REGULATED by the government of all the people.

Government supervision leaves business in individual hands, but requires that individual to act as a trustee for the people and thus PREVENTS ABUSES hurtful to the people. Government ownership takes business out of the hands of the people and substitutes for private abuses of railway management, which government supervision cures, bureaucratic abuses of railway management, which NOTHING CAN CURE.

Government supervision leaves the making of rates, local and general, over our maze of 250,000 miles of railways in the hands of men who are familiar with local and general conditions and have individual interest in the successful management of particular roads, and yet government supervision corrects those rates when they are UNJUST OR OPPRESSIVE. Government ownership puts the making of rates in the hands of an enormous crowd of government officials unfamiliar with local and general conditions and without INDIVIDUAL INTEREST in the management of particular roads.

Government supervision leaves the system of individual management, under which the country has been developed, but requires that management to act as a trustee for the people. Government ownership creates a vast machine so complicated that its workings would be cumbersome, so great as to be endangered BY ITS OWN WEIGHT.

Government supervision means the intelligence and conscience of the people laying their restraining hands on the WRONGS of railway management. Government ownership means an American BUREAUCRACY as much greater than any other bureaucracy on earth as the American railway system is as much greater than any other railway system on earth.

We passed a law requiring the products of every manufacturer of medicine and food sold to the people to be INSPECTED by the government of the people. But that does not mean that the factories which make the people's food and medicine should be OWNED by the people's government. And yet if the making of the people's food and medicine, which concerns the health and life of the people, ought not to be owned by the people's government, railroads, which affect only the BUSINESS of the people, should not be owned by the people's government. Government supervision naturally applies to all great industries affecting all the people. Government ownership could not possibly apply to all great businesses which affect all the people.

IF IT COULD, WE WOULD IN A HUNDRED YEARS BEHOLD THE GOVERNMENT DOING EVERYTHING AND THE INDIVIDUAL DOING NOTHING.

Instead of doing business under government supervision we would be doing business under government EMPLOY.

Instead of individual initiative we would have GOVERNMENT INERTIA. Instead of making profits as the owners and operators of legitimate industry, we would be earning salaries as the employees of GOVERNMENT industry.

INSTEAD OF THE GOVERNMENT BEING OUR SERVANT WE WOULD BE THE GOVERNMENT'S SERVANTS.
