COTTAGE GROVE WILL HAVE BIG ORCHARD

J. I. Jones Orders 1250 Apple Trees to be Planted this Winter.—Will Cover 30 Acres.

Cottage Grove has just as good opportunities for fame as a fruit section as any point, Hood River not excepted, but as yet no orchard has been started on a large scale, so J. I. Jones, owning a large tract of land partially within the city limits, has decided to make a test on a big scale. Mr. Jones has now 1250 Spitzenberg and Newton Pippin apple trees enroute, and has the holes all dug for these trees and probably 500 more, which will cover 30 acres. Mr. Jones would put in more trees now, were it not for the difficulty of digging the holes and the scarcity of labor, but he expects inside of a year to have 100 acres all set out in apples. With Mr. Jones making such a start it will not be a difficult thing to get many other men who have good orchard land to do likewise.—Nugget.
