

BRYAN'S SUBJECT "THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"

W. J. Bryan, who speaks at the university Thursday night, has announced that his subject here will be "The Old World and Its Ways." This is an address in which it is said Bryan is at his best. The seat sale is reported as being very rapid and from all appearances Villard hall will hardly accommodate the crowd. The Royal Male Quartette, a traveling company of singers with a considerable reputation, will sing at the lecture.

Miss Stinson Will Sing.
Miss Eve Stinson, of the University School of Music, will sing tomorrow at the regular assembly, when N. J. Levinson, of the Portland Oregonian, arrives in Eugene this evening. He comes very highly recommended.

New Courses for Freshmen.
The university will offer to Freshmen who desire to enter the second semester, February 18, a number of courses. These make it possible to take up the work in most of the departments of the school, and will add greatly to the convenience of the new students. In botany a four-hour course is open, while others may be taken up if sufficient preparation has been made. With some preparation considerable work is now open to new students in chemistry; the languages, Greek, Latin, French and Spanish; mathematics and physics. Courses will also be open in English, economics, psychology, literature, history, education and philosophy, public speaking, and in ship practice, iron, machine and wood working in the engineering departments. The School of Music also holds open its entire curriculum. It is expected that between forty and fifty students will enter next month. All, however, will not be new.

NEWS NOTES

The executive committee of the board of education of the South Methodist has decided to build at some Pacific coast point a high grade training school, and to expend $120,000 upon buildings and site.

The body of Charles Cogan, the playwright and actor, which has been lost since the great storm of September 8, 1900, which overwhelmed Galveston, has been found in its metal coffin on the mainland in an out-of-the-way place. Hunters came on the coffin almost buried in a marsh, hidden by the weeds. It had been lifted by the flood and carried nine miles from the cemetery.

A great automobile track is going to be constructed in the Crystal Palace, London, where world's championships can be run.

During the coming summer there will be a big American tour of automobilists, through Europe, the distance to be covered to be 3000 miles. Arrangements are being completed in New York for the tour.

Former Governor Higgins, of New York, is lying at the point of death.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the county commissioners' court of Lane county, state of Oregon, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of 125 cords of old growth body fir or 125 cords of second growth fir, said wood to be four feet long and delivered at the court house in Eugene, Lane county, on or before the first day of September, 1907. A certified check for five per cent of the amount of the bid must accompany each bid. All bids to be filed with the county clerk on or before the 6th day of March, 1907, at one o'clock on said day. The court reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the court this 2d day of January, A. D. 1907.

COOPER'S SUCCESS IN ST. LOUIS PHENOMENAL

St. Louis, Jan. 21.—The remarkable results that are being accomplished in St. Louis by L. T. Cooper have become a topic of universal interest during the past week.

Reports that preceded his visit to this city told of Mr. Cooper's great success in the East. But the man and his medicines did not attract the widespread attention until the beginning of the second week here. Then the interest in him became very noticeable and has steadily gathered headway until his preparations are now being sold in enormous quantities and his headquarters are a most interesting place to spend a half hour.

People are coming from all parts of the city to see him. The young man and his assistants are surrounded by swarms of humanity from early until late—some to tell what has been accomplished for them by the Cooper medicines, others to buy the remedies.

Perhaps nothing has done more to arouse this interest than Mr. Cooper's statement concerning internal parasites, or tapeworms, as they are commonly called. At the commencement of his visit to this city he claimed that these creatures were responsible for much of the ill health of this generation; he claimed that a large percentage of all chronic stomach trouble was caused by them; he stated that his "New Discovery" medicine would prove this theory to be correct, as it would remove hundreds of these tapeworms before he left the city.

These statements seem to have been completely verified. During the past two weeks hundreds of people who have been taking the Cooper preparation for some form of stomach trouble have been relieved of one of these parasites. In consequence Cooper and his theories have been growing into greater prominence each day.

Mr. Cooper's statement that a general lassitude was the surest indication of this trouble seems to be correct. Statements by people who have had this experience seem to be very much alike. All say that a feeling of extreme weariness and a lack of energy, which they attributed to stomach trouble, had afflicted them.

A statement of this character, which is almost identical with those given by people who have had the same experience, is as follows:

Mrs. B. Prengel, living at 4040 St. Ferdinand street, who was relieved of one of these parasites by the Cooper preparation, when seen by a reporter, said:

"I have been in poor health for six years. I was in a general rundown condition. I attributed this to stomach trouble, as I had a very irregular appetite and would have a bloating sensation after my meals. My chief trouble was that I felt tired all the time. Even in the morning, after a night's sleep, I would wake up feeling no more refreshed than when I went to bed. I had dizzy spells and would see spots before my eyes, and the least exertion would tire me. It was an effort to attend to my duties and even my mind seemed dull and sluggish.

"My eyesight has been getting poorer lately, and I noticed that my memory was not as good as it used to be. If I stood for any length of time I would have a dull pain in the back and if I ascended the stairs quickly my heart beat very rapidly.

"I tried every sort of preparation, hoping to throw off this dull feeling. I heard so much about this man Cooper that I decided to try his preparation. I bought two bottles of his New Discovery. I took only a few doses of the preparation and a tapeworm left my system. It was about fifty feet in length, as near as I could judge. Now I know what has been the matter with me all these years and I am sure I will be all right again."

The success of these new preparations in St. Louis is confined largely to cases of stomach trouble, but the medicine seems to be remarkably successful in cases of rheumatism. Mr. Cooper ascribes this to the fact that stomach trouble is indirectly responsible for many diseases, rheumatism being among them.

Nobel Prize

Origin of the Famous Peace Trophy Recently Awarded to President Roosevelt—Alfred Nobel, Inventor, Who Sought to Abolish War by Making It More Destructive

IN the award of the Nobel peace prize to President Theodore Roosevelt for his services in bringing the Russo-Japanese war to an end this distinguished honor has come for the first time to the United States. The prize is as likely to go to a person in a comparatively humble position as to one who occupies a post of high rank or enjoys exalted station. The sole test is achievement of some important step toward universal peace and good will among men. The prize consists of a diploma, a medal and 138,536 crowns ($37,127.35).

Five years ago the peace prize went to a man comparatively unknown and so poor that he was at the time an inmate of a home for the aged. This was Henry Dunant, "Who is Dunant?" asked some one when the report of the award of the prize to him was published, and the reply was, "He founded the Red Cross." "Then," said the questioner, "he must be a saint." And so he has been regarded, for he spent a fortune in getting the nations to treat the wounded as neutrals and recognize the work of his society, and in his old age, infirm, almost blind and unable longer to make a living, he was almost forgotten. But when the honor of the Nobel peace prize came to him, with its accompanying sum of money, an amount ample to supply his needs for the balance of his days, he felt himself fully rewarded for all his sacrifices.

The Nobel prizes are unique among institutions of their kind. They were established by Alfred Nobel, the Swedish engineer, and it is a singular coincidence that the man who instituted the great prize for the encouragement of peace should have been the inventor of that most deadly agency of warfare, dynamite, and the first manufacturer on a large scale of smokeless powder.

There is a seeming inconsistency in the thought that a man who so much loved peace should have devoted his life to making the materials of war, but Nobel believed that the best way to abolish war is to make warfare as terrible as possible by means of the most murderous inventions. He regarded his own inventions as so many steps toward the goal of disarmament. It was Nobel's ambition to bring the Scandinavian peninsula into closer intellectual touch with the rest of Europe. He belonged to a family prominent in Sweden for the past century, but was brought up in Russia and educated at St. Petersburg. He did not believe in leaving great fortunes to relatives, though he gave much to deserving members of his family during his lifetime. At his death, in 1896, he bequeathed his fortune, amounting to nearly $9,000,000, for the support of five great annual prizes, each valued at nearly $40,000. These were to be awarded for the most important discoveries in physics, in chemistry and in physiology or hygiene, for the most distinguished work of an idealistic character in literature and for the best effort toward the fraternity of the nations and the promotion of universal peace. The last named prize is awarded by the Norwegian storting, the others being conferred by various institutions at Stockholm, Sweden. Last year the peace prize went to the Baroness Bertha von Suttner, author of "Down With Arms." The year previous it was awarded to William Randall Cremer, secretary of the International Arbitration league and a member of the British parliament. In 1902 it was conferred on Professor Frederik de Maartens of The Hague tribunal, who advised the Russian commissioners in the peace conference at Portsmouth. In 1901 it was won by Dunant. Mr. Cremer devoted his prize money to promote the work of the International Arbitration league. Mr. Roosevelt has announced that he will use the money he will receive to establish at Washington a permanent industrial peace committee with the view of maintaining peace in the industrial world, which he regards as equal in importance to maintaining peace between the nations.

If you want your oyster stew to be good, you must first be sure that your oysters are good. Always use Sealship Oysters and then you can be sure of their quality. All others are so full of stale water and foul "embalming" powders that they are apt to make the milk curdle.

Sealship Oysters have come from the oyster-beds in a porcelain, enamel-lined case, as clean and wholesome as any dish in your kitchen. They are sealed as soon as shucked and ice is packed around them—not in them.
