RIGHT-OF-WAY

WORK BEGINS IN FEW DAYS

Willamette Valley Company Will Begin to Buy Land on Route of Trolley Line to Springfield. Magnates Visit This City Today

A. Welch, general manager of the Willamette Valley Company, accompanied by I. W. Anderson, of Spokane, J. H. Rhodes and S. D. Sinkler, all connected with the great syndicate which owns and controls many electric, gas and water plants in the Pacific Northwest, including those in Eugene, arrived here from the south last evening and spent this forenoon in looking over the company's properties in this city and Springfield. This is Mr. Rhodes' first visit to Eugene. He expressed himself today as being impressed with the appearance of the city and with the prospects for its future growth. The gentlemen were driven to the new city park site and all were struck with its advantageous location and beauty of its surroundings. It is probable that the company will build its street railway line to the foot of the hills on which the park is situated.

Speaking of the street railway system, Manager Welch stated that the first steel rails were due here by the first of March, but whether the railroad could deliver them by that time he did not know. The work of constructing the line will begin upon their arrival.

Right-of-Way Work. Mr. Welch informed a reporter that the work of securing the right-of-way for the line between Eugene and Springfield will begin within a few days. He expects to return here next week, at which time it is probable that operations in that line will be commenced. For obvious reasons he does not care at present to announce the route selected, but will give the information to the public within a short time.
