NEW GAS PLANT WILL START UP TOMORROW

Louis B. McLean, Former Manager of the Salem Plant, Will Have Charge of Operations Here. Commercial Club Quarters First to Connect Up

A. Welch, general manager of the Willamette Valley Company, came up from Portland last night to look after the company's affairs here. He will remain several days to personally superintend the beginning of operations at the company's new gas plant here. Louis McLean, who has had charge of the Salem gas plant for several years, arrived in Eugene this afternoon and will manage the works here. He is thoroughly acquainted with the business, having had years of experience in the manufacture of gas. Immediately upon his arrival here Mr. McLean had the furnaces fired up and it is expected that the first gas will go through the mains tomorrow. The Commercial Club quarters will be the first to be connected up, and others will follow immediately. Two carloads of coal for use in the manufacture of gas are at hand and by the time they are used up more will be here, and it is thought that there will be no trouble in securing it on account of the car shortage.

The company has built a first-class plant of sufficient capacity for a city twice the size of Eugene, having expended $50,000 in its construction. Mains have been laid through the business portion of the city and extending out into portions of the residence districts and as fast as there is a demand for gas they will be extended to other districts.

FANATICS GIVE UP MISSION

"Tongues of Fire" Worshipers Gather at Private Residence.

Albany, Jan. 28.—In response to officers' warnings Saturday night the "Tongues of Fire" sect Sunday abandoned its First street mission. Meetings were held in the forenoon and afternoon at the mission, but they were subdued affairs, most of the worshipers gathering at private residences. Last night the mission was abandoned entirely, and the worshipers met at the residence of S. W. Moore, where it was rumored customary seances were held.

Rumors had been rife of mob law if the orgies continued at the mission, and there is talk of tar and feathers for the leaders.

GANG OF THIEVES JAILED AT PORTLAND

The police and federal authorities at Portland late Saturday made further arrests in the Sellwood postoffice robbery case. The arrests are interesting because one of the men taken into custody, Captain Archie Turnbull, is a member of Chemical Company No. 1, of the Portland fire department. Turnbull has been an employe of the department for ten years, and was considered one of the most faithful and efficient men in the service. He is a married man and has a reputation for sobriety and industry. The others arested are Frank Wane, a steamfitter by trade, who is credited by the authorities as being the leader of the gang of men who are under arrest; Louis L. Smith, an electrical worker, bartender and alleged vagrant, and "Toots" Bryant, a bartender in a North Third street resort. The four men are held without bonds.

The Bank Habit

The bank habit is easily acquired by starting an account. When the amount begins to grow, you begin to grow with it. You enjoy the comfort of feeling that you are independent—financially sufficient unto yourself—abundantly able to provide for yourself and family in every emergency; to meet the growing demands of your business.

A bank cultivates and encourages thrifty habits, places you in touch with successful people and gives you a strong financial standing in the community.
