

SENIORS CANNOT HAVE THEIR ANNUAL BALL

The members of the senior class of the university are filled with gnashing of teeth, gloominess and all passions but those of gentleness toward the faculty, since last night at meeting of the professors the senior ball, which had been planned, was positively forbidden. The seniors, even since they gave their successful play, "Pygmalion and Galatea," had been speculating as to what they could do with the funds which they had acquired, for they do not believe that money should lie still in their treasurer's pockets long for fear that a little might be left at the end of the year—an unprecedented thing. So some time ago they voted with a little class dissension to give a ball this month after the "exams" and proceeded with their plans, until the faculty placed the ban on the entertainment last evening. Various schemes of retaliation are being passed around, and though none are likely to culminate, a major part of the class is taxing the refusal with bad grace.

BASKET SOCIAL AT THURSTON FEB. 22

On the 22d of February at the Thurston schoolhouse there will be a basket social in the evening for the purpose of raising funds for putting a belfry on the school house and placing a bell in it. A good program is being prepared by the young people of the neighborhood and all are invited to attend. The ladies are expected to furnish the baskets and the gentlemen to have the money to buy them with.

BASEKTBALL GAME WON BY SALEM GIRLS

The basketball game between the Eugene and Salem high school girls in the armory pavilion last night was largely attended, and despite the rooting for the local girls they could not hold the excellent visiting team down and were beaten by the score of 12 to 6. Salem clearly outplayed the locals in team work, and then they were much larger and stronger than our girls. For the visitors Miss Rudolph was the star, her basket throwing on fouls being very accurate and she made one goal from the field. Miss VanDuyn made the points in our city, and their opponents will be the local Friendly team. Both teams have good records so far this season, and a fast and snappy game is expected. As a preliminary to this game the local barbers and shoe men will clash in a battle royal. The barbers have promised to leave their razors at home providing the shoe men will not tickle them with their shoe strings. Both these teams have been practicing faithfully the past week and the way "Professor" Burden, Dave Graham, "Bill" Branster, Bert Vincent and the rest of the two teams have been tossing baskets is a revelation. There will be plenty of subs on hand and this game alone will no doubt be worth the price of admission, which is only 25 cents for both games. First game begins at 8 o'clock. Immediately after the game the Eugene theatre orchestra, con-

CATHOLIC FAIR WILL CLOSE THIS EVENING

The Catholic ladies' fair closes tonight. It has been the most successful thing of its kind ever held in Eugene, the receipts both from the sale of wares and from the dinners being away beyond expectations. The receipts from the dinners alone were in the neighborhood of $285, and those from the sales of wares have been several hundred dollars more. The last dinner was served last evening and it is said to have been the best of all. It was a Dutch dinner and was enjoyed by a big crowd. The

The district convention of the W. O. W., consisting of delegates from Lake, Klamath, Jackson, Josephine, Coos, Curry, Douglas and Lane counties, will be held in Roseburg on March 11 and the local camp of that order will seek to make the visit of the various neighbors to this city as pleasant as possible. To this end arrangements are now in progress.—Roseburg Spokesman.

William W. Baker, father of the late Frank C. Baker, died at the home of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank Baker, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. His death, which was caused by Bright's disease, was not unexpected, as he had been sick for some time. Mr. Baker was one of the pioneer editors of the state, and during the greater part of his life had followed the printing and publishing business. He was editor of the Rural Spirit for a number of years, and was also connected with a number of other agricultural publications. His son, Frank C. Baker, who for a number of years was state printer and chairman of the Republican state committee, learned the printing trade in the shop of the Rural Spirit.—Oregonian.

Probably the youngest railroad man in the United States is Robert Wilson of Corvallis. Though the snows and gales of only 13 winters have whistled through his locks, so to speak, he holds a permanent job as station agent, telegraph operator and Wells-Fargo express agent at Summit, a station on the line of the Corvallis & Eastern. His salary is $50 a month, to which there is an increment through the commissions of the express business. His mother is a widow and the earnings of her many boys are a valued asset in the household. In spite of his youth the boy handles the telegraph key with precision and is expert in the care of railroad reports and accounts. He passed his 13th milestone the 27th day of last July.—Corvallis Gazette.

for Eugene, all of them on fouls. Miss Goldsmith was excellent as a guard. The first half resulted in a score of 4 to 5 in favor of Salem, and the locals had hopes of evening up the score in the second half, but the visitors were too fast for them.

Steve Burton was referee and Hugo Bezdek umpire. The teams lined up as follows:

Salem—Forwards, J. Lick, F. Pohl; centre, L. Rudolph; guards, L. Gerardin and A. McCauley.

Eugene—Forwards, G. VanDuyn, Lillian Gilkey; centre, C. Hurd; guards, F. Goldsmith and V. Hurd.

The Game Tonight.

Eugene people have seen the Chemawa braves in action both on the gridiron and diamond, but as yet they have not had the opportunity to see their athletes heave for the basket. In other words tonight will be the first appearance of the Chemawa Indian School basketball team
