Dunn's Sanitary Home Made Bread the Best--Why?

Because it is made from a combination of the best flour obtainable blended in our own bakery; made scientifically on the home made plan. After it is baked it is proved with steam, baked in an oven with steam injected thus doing away with the old time custom of washing the bread with grease. We strictly adhere to the pure food law. Sanitary methods are used in every thing. We would be glad to take orders for anything in the bakery line. Delivered free everywhere in the city any day in the week.

A BUTTERFLY.

Paste This in Your Hat.

It has come to my ears that a certain man, or rather an uncertain man, has been making it his business to stand on the street trying to knock mine. He says that all the talking machine records I have at present I have had on hand for years, and that they are "no account." I wish to say right here that there is not a word of truth in it. I got each month the new Edison, Victor and Columbia records as soon as they are brought out. Old records are called for by some of my customers and I am obliged to keep some for them, but I am not running them out, like some dealers do. If you hear that "fellow" talk, ask him what good reason he has for trying to knock me.

Faithfully yours,

F. A. RANKIN.

AMUSEMENTS

Mr. Wilfred Rogers, America's new tragedian with original cast scenery and mechanical effects of Oscar Wilde's greatest tragedy, "Salome," will be the attraction at the Eugene theatre for one night only.

Wilfred Rogers comes direct from San Francisco, where he created the part of King Herod, a characterization that won for him unanimous praise from the public and the press of San Francisco.

The first dramatic production in America of this sensational tragedy, "Salome," as produced by Mr. Rogers and the Salome company, was given in San Francisco at the Colonial theatre and the event created the first and only great dramatic sensation west of Chicago this season.

So thorough was the acting and staging of "Salome" that the tragedy ran for four consecutive weeks, an occasion for which the company should be proud, for it is very rare that some of New York's greatest productions ever please San Francisco's critical audience for more than two weeks.

Wilfred Rogers' impersonation of Herod Antipas is considered by dramatic critics of San Francisco the finest portrayal of a character of Herod's type ever seen in San Francisco.

Salome, as played by Elizabeth Stuart, received much favorable comment from the public and press of San Francisco. The dance of the Seven Veils, performed by "Salome" on the moonlit terrace before Herod and his court is one of the most beautiful features of the play.

Jokanaan, or John the Baptist, as the character is better known, is played by Bonediet McQuarrie, and his interpretation of the character is far better than it has ever been seen on the coast. "Salome," with the original cast, scenery and mechanical effects, will be seen in Eugene for one night only, Monday, May 6.

Seats on sale at box office. Prices for "Salome" engagement, 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.

We are to have on Wednesday, May 8th, at the Eugene theatre, "Around the Town," a new comedy. The more announcement that such a comedy is coming under ordinary circumstances would not create more than passing notice, but when it is known that our old friends, Murray and Mack, are at the head of the organization, local admirers of this famous team will no doubt begin to sit up and take notice. This is the most pretentious offering Murray and Mack have ever attempted, and their success along this line this season has been very gratifying. Whilst they have always been a record-breaking attraction, judging from newspaper exchanges, their success this season exceeds all previous years. This will make Murray and Mack's fourth consecutive year as stars at the head of their own organization, a record which has never been duplicated in farce comedy history. While Murray and Mack are comparatively young men, they are, in point of actual capacity, together the oldest team before the public. An entire new equipment of scenery and a complete set of new gowns has been provided for the chorus, and the stars promise a bully, hustling entertainment.
