AN INDEPENDENT PAPER. Member of Associated Press.

MONDAY, MAY 13

AS TO PRESIDENT KERR

The Oregonian takes exception to comment made by the Eugene papers on the election of Mr. Kerr to the presidency of the Oregon Agricultural College, who it is admitted was a Mormon polygamist, up to the time congress passed a stringent law making plural marriage a felony.

Cheer up, all ye maidens handicapped by age! If Ellen Terry, owing up to fifty-nine summers, could pull off the love-at-sight thing and matrimony, on a kid of thirty-five why can't you do something equally as good?

Bishop Candler, of Georgia, now in Japan, is the latest reputable witness to take the stand and testify to the general all-around cussedness and moral worthlessness of the Japanese as a people.

The hoodoo is still doing business with poor San Francisco, which is now wrestling with a big bunch of strikes—things which may become as costly and as dangerous as earthquakes.

Should Boss Diaz, of Mexico, decide that he needs Guatemala in his business will Uncle Sam look the other way or say nay? This is rather an important question in Central America just now.

Those North Carolina moonshiners who raided a lot of revenue officers and released prisoners held by them doubtless believe in an occasional change of program to vary the monotony.

A community that upholds the unwritten law can always be depended upon to produce a non-convicting jury as often as it may be needed.

Gates, John W., denies that his retirement from active business was brought about by broken hinges.

THE GOOD OLD WAY. Some years ago David Baker, a distinguished poet of Maine, after the birth of his first child, wrote and published the following pretty poem:

One night as old St. Peter slept He left the door of Heaven ajar. When through a little angel crept And came down with a falling star.

God grant but this—I ask no more That when he leaves this world of pain. He'll wing his way to that bright shore And find his way to Heaven again.

John G. Saxe, not to be outdone and deeming that an injustice had been done to St. Peter, wrote the following as St. Peter's reply:

Full eighteen hundred years or more I've kept my gate securely fast. There was no "little angel" strayed Nor recesed through its portals.

I did not sleep, as you supposed, Nor left the door of Heaven ajar. Nor has the "little angel" left And gone down with a falling star.

God grant the blushing bride and see If she don't frankly own and say That when she found that angel babe She found it in the good old way.

God grant this—I ask no more— That should your number still enlarge You will not do as done before And lay it to old Peter's charge.

How Education Pays. (Exchange.) Seventy per cent of the prisoners in the Walla Walla penitentiary have not a fourth grade education. Out of 807 prisoners, 573 have had a high school education and only two college educations, and the statement is made that twenty-five out of twenty-six people in the insane asylum are ignorant people. Does an education pay?

Build the Eugene-Siuslaw electric highway, or the Eugene-Corvallis canal, or both, and it will add prosperity and population to the upper Willamette valley. United, persevering effort is necessary to do this. But all the time bear in mind that the upper Willamette river should be opened to navigation and that this will be done by the federal government without expense to the people, when a sufficient showing of its practicability is made. While we are agitating and working for the other great enterprises we may all use our influence with the Oregon delegation to secure examination by government engineers of the river from Corvallis to Eugene. Once a favorable report is secured the battle is more than half won.

It may be well to state for the benefit of those who have expressed surprise because Bellamy Storer has not jumped into the midst of the Oh'fray, to "even up" that Bellamy is the sort of fool who invites new bruises before the old ones stop hurting.

The administration has shown, by the agreement with Germany, that it can revise the tariff to a limited extent without congressional action; but how the demonstration will strike Joe Cannon and the other stand-patties is another story—not yet told.

The Wilkesbarre (Pa.) jury which convicted eleven dozens of membership in the notorious blackmailing organization—the Black Hand—didn't scare so it could be noticed when confronted with the evidence and its duty to the public.

The hoodoo is still doing business with poor San Francisco, which is now wrestling with a big bunch of strikes—things which may become as costly and as dangerous as earthquakes.

The First Need Of Modern Mankind. By MAX NORDAU, Philosopher. Image of a man's face.

WHAT which mankind needs first of all is to make it possible for it to live ACCORDING TO ITS CONVICTIONS. The old forms must go. They must make way for new ones which will satisfy the REASON. The individual must be cured of his internal malady. He must become true and sincere again. Man even then will not have attained to the complete happiness of the Nirvana, the rest without effort, the content without desire, for he is debarred from this absolute happiness by his ORGANIC LIFE.

Organic life is synonymous with DEVELOPMENT. But this is the impulse to attain a standard which the organism has not yet reached.

DEVELOPMENT IS THUS A STRIVING TOWARD THAT WHICH IS NOT YET ATTAINED, BUT DISSATISFACTION IS INCOMPATIBLE WITH A SENSATION OF COMPLETE HAPPINESS.

The single individual experiences this dissatisfaction the more keenly as he is a fragment of the great whole, the race, and as in his own development he is working LESS FOR HIMSELF than for this whole.

The results of his efforts toward perfection do not benefit HIM, but his descendants. Every generation toils for the next, every fragmentary, individual organism for the race. The individual can therefore never attain to a sensation of completion, of perfection, of having realized his own ideal and of FEELING RECOMPENSED for his efforts.

This sensation, if such a thing can be imagined at all, can only be experienced by the race, which is a whole, but never by the individual, WHICH IS A FRAGMENT.

Perhaps the day will come after mankind has attained to an ideal stage of development when this sensation will be experienced by the race as a tone of thought and sentiment characterizing the whole race and finding a reflection IN EACH INDIVIDUAL CONSCIOUSNESS as a more cheerful background and brighter tints throughout the entire inner world.

But if absolute happiness is beyond the reach of humanity, if the organic process of its development renders it impossible, the individual can at least obey his impulse of development and feel that he is moving TOWARD HIS GOAL, the ideal.

THE FEELING THAT WE ARE DRAWING NEAR TO THIS GOAL OF DEVELOPMENT IS A FORETASTE OF THE FEELING OF HAVING ATTAINED TO IT, AND WE MAY FIND IN IT A SUBSTITUTE FOR THE ABSOLUTE HAPPINESS BEYOND OUR REACH.

Keep the Balance Up. It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. Nobody can be too careful to keep this balance up. When people begin to feel the least imprudence brings on sickness, weakness or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it, and should not be denied it, and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healthy, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distinction as a preventative that it enjoys as a cure. Its early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite, strength and endurance.
