ORCHARD CONTINUES STORY OF FEDERATION PLOTS AND MURDERS

TELLS OF ATTEMPTS ON LIFE OF PEABODY

Boise, June 6.—The Steunenberg murder trial was resumed this morning with Harry Orchard on the witness stand. He began his testimony by giving the names of several persons he met in San Francisco, where he went to assassinate Fred Bradley, formerly manager of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines in the Coeur d'Alene district.

Leaving San Francisco, he went to Denver in the uniform of a soldier and telephoned to Pettibone, whom he told of Bradley's injuries, saying he would probably lose his sight and be deaf for the balance of his life. Pettibone said these injuries were better than killing him, as Bradley would be a living example. Orchard got $125 from Pettibone with the assurance that he would get more when he wanted it.

Hayward then asked him to go after Judge Gabbert, who was rendering decisions against Moyer. He went to Gabbert's house with Adams, armed with shotguns, but did not see the judge. Hayward next urged their trying again at Governor Peabody, and Adams, Billy Ackerman and Orchard made a bomb and put it under the sidewalk at Thirteenth and Grant avenue, Denver, where the governor often passed. Just as Peabody passed over the spot two heavy coal wagons passed over the wire and the plotters could not pull it. Orchard removed the bomb and threw it into the river. He then tried to shoot Peabody, but got no opportunity. He also tried to shoot Frank Hearne, of the Colorado Iron & Fuel Company, and Dave Moffatt, president of the First National Bank, who was believed to be fighting the Western Federation. They were also told to "get Judge Godard," whom Hayward said was instrumental in defeating the eight-hour bill.

After Peabody was succeeded by Governor McDonald he went to live in Canyon City. Moyer, Hayward and Pettibone told Orchard to keep after Peabody, and arranged for Orchard to become a life insurance solicitor so as to be better able to carry out his plans. Orchard declared he got a recommendation to become an insurance solicitor from Hawkins, an attorney, and his partner, E. F. Richardson, one of the attorneys now representing Hayward, and from J. C.

KNOX IS FAVORITE SON OF QUAKER REPUBLICANS

SENATOR PHILANDER KNOX

Harrisburg, Pa., June 6.—The endorsement of United States Senator Knox for the presidency, the nomination of John O. Sheatz, of Philadelphia, for state treasurer, and the endorsement of the policy and administration of Roosevelt were the net results of today's Republican state convention.

FEDERATION NOT SURPRISED AT TESTIMONY

Acting President Mahoney Says Orchard Probably Committed Crimes But will Not Be Able to Implicate Miners' Organization - Cheyenne Man Denies Knowledge of Orchard's Acts

Denver, June 6.—"Nothing which Harry Orchard may testify to will surprise us," said C. E. Mahoney, acting president of the Western Federation of Miners.

"He probably committed the crimes to which he lays claim, but neither he nor the state will be able to implicate the Western Federation of Miners or any of its officers in any way as being connected with his criminal acts."

Saloonkeeper Denies.
Cheyenne, June 6.—Pat Moran, the Cheyenne saloonkeeper mentioned in Orchard's testimony yesterday as having gone to Denver to get $500 from Pettibone for Orchard and Neville, denies that he ever saw Orchard or went to Denver for him or any one else on such an errand.

WILL MOVE LIGHT POLES NEXT MONDAY

The work of moving the electric light poles on Williamette street so that they will be a foot inside the new curb line, which will be two feet further out into the street when the pavement is laid and the sidewalks widened, will begin Monday under the direction of the street committee of the city council. Enough men will be put on the work so that the poles on one entire side of the street in the paving district, which is from the depot to Eleventh street, will be moved in one day. The next day those on the other side of the street will be moved and the work will not be an inconvenience to any one except for a short time.

MRS. M. T. AWBREY'S COLLAR BONE BROKEN

Mrs. M. T. Awbrey, residing at 622 High street, while at the Awbrey farm below Irving yesterday, fell out of a buggy and broke her left collar bone. She and her husband had driven to the farm and

SCHOOL TEXT BOOKS RADICALLY CHANGED BY COMMISSION

Salem, Or., June 5.—All but four books now in use in the common schools of Oregon have been changed by the state text-book commission and new textbooks will be substituted at the beginning of the school year. The fourth and fifth grade readers, the Thomas elementary history and the Reed spelling are the books retained.

Civil government has been dropped entirely as a separate subject, and will hereafter be taught in connection with history. The mental arithmetic has also been dropped and the mental exercises will be given with the aid of books on written arithmetic. In the place of the two subjects dropped an important one has been added, that of elementary agriculture. This addition has been made in response to a very general demand.

The principal changes are the substitution of Wheeler's readers up to the third book for the Cyr readers;

WILL ERECT BIG FEED AND SALE STABLES

A. M. Gilbert, who recently came to Eugene from Bow Bells, N. D., and who is a brother of Councilman A. W. Gilbert, has purchased a lot 70x90 feet in the rear of J. W. White's grocery store and facing on West Fifth street, from John F. Kelly for $2000, and will at once begin the work of erecting a big sale and feed barn on the lot, the building to be the same dimensions as the lot and 24 feet high. Mr. Gilbert has not let the contract for the erection of the building, but several contractors are now figuring on it and the successful bidder will be announced within a few days. The lot extends from a few feet west of the White building to the alley, and is directly across the street from the Hotel Gross. The building will be a big one and will be substantially built of lumber.

JAPAN HAS REGULAR AMERICAN STRIKERS

Tokio, June 6.—Troops have been dispatched to the Boshu copper mines, where strikers are using dynamite to destroy the mine.

EX-TAMMANY BOSS ACHIEVES GREAT AMBITION

Yesterday at Epsom Downs, England, Richard Croker's horse, Orby, won the English Derby, thus achieving a long cherished ambition. It is believed the victory netted Mr. Croker not less than $250,000.

A carload of cement for L. N. Roney arrived here this morning.

CHARLES S. MELLEN.

Friend of President Roosevelt and president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

the adoption of Smith's arithmetic in place of Wentworth's; the adoption of Buehler's grammars in the place of Reed & Kellogg's; the adoption of the Natural geographies in the place of Fry's, and Doubt's United States history in the place of Thomas' advanced history.

Cost of Books Compared.
The total cost of the books used in the schools under the list in force up to the present time was $9.80, this list not including the books on nature study. The prices of those newly adopted, not including the nature study, aggregate $9.14, or a reduction of 66 cents. If nature study be included the new list will cost $9.89, or an increase of 9 cents in the cost of all the books a child must use in his eight years of schooling.

EDWARD P. RIPLEY.

President of the Santa Fe system, who is not in accord with President Roosevelt on the question of government supervision of railroads.

JOHN J. ESCH.

Wisconsin congressman, who sought the seat of Senator John C. Spooner when the latter resigned.

she was getting out of the buggy when her foot slipped and she fell heavily to the ground. She was brought home and Dr. T. W. Harris called to attend the injury. She was badly bruised up besides, and will be confined to her home for several weeks. She was in much pain all of last night and her daughter, Mrs. Burke, of Reno, who is visiting here, was compelled to sit up with her, but she is resting easier today.
