THE CHRISTIAN CONVENTION AT TURNER

The Oregon Christian Missionary Convention will hold its seventeenth annual meeting at the Turner Memorial tabernacle, Turner, Oregon, June 29 to 30 inclusive. This gathering will represent the one-hundred congregations of the Christian church in Oregon, comprising a membership of about eleven thousand disciples of Christ.

It is expected that this convention will be the best in the history of this society. Its sessions will comprise those of the missionary society proper; the ministerial and Bible school associations; the woman's board of missions, the Y. P. S. C. E. and the Christian Educational Union.

During the convention special steps will be taken toward the calling of a similar convention to represent the whole Pacific coast membership and to meet every four years.

Aside from a large corps of able speakers residing in the state, the sessions will be made helpful and interesting by the presence and assistance of several workers of national reputation among the people, some of the names being as follows: Geo. B. Ranshaw, Cincinnati; Geo. W. Mackley, Kansas City; W. R. Warren, Pittsburg; J. H. Mohrhorst, St. Louis; President Albert Buxton, Canton, Mo.; W. A. Moore, Tacoma, Wash.; A. L. Chapman, Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. Ida W. Harrison, Lexington, Ky.

A large delegation from all parts of Oregon and Washington will be present and camp during the entire convention season. A goodly number of regular campers have cottages erected on the grounds for camping purposes. On the two Sundays of the convention these spacious grounds will be thronged with people who have come to join in the worship and hear the addresses of these two great days of the convention. These addresses will be worth going a long way to hear.

Programs and other information may be had from the corresponding secretary,

DEFENSE IN LAND FRAUD CASES

Moscow, Idaho, June 5.—An absolute denial of each and every allegation set forth in the indictment with the promise to substantiate that assertion with competent witnesses was the cardinal feature of the opening statement of the defense made by Attorney Moore, of Moscow, in the North Idaho land conspiracy case yesterday morning. The defense will seek to prove, Mr. Moore said, that W. Dwyer, defendant, and C. W. Robnet, co-conspirator, acquired lands upon their own responsibility, and that the money which they got from the Lewiston National Bank was a regular business transaction, in no way connecting either W. F. Kettanbach or G. H. Kester, president and cashier respectively, with the land acquisition negotiations.

At the conclusion of the statement more than a dozen witnesses were called, almost all of whom are closely identified with the bank, who testified that the general reputation of Mrs. Mary J. Harris, Frank Morrison and R. A. Lambdin, important witnesses for the prosecution relative to their truth and veracity was bad. Mrs. Jennie Robnet, wife of the co-conspirator, and William Benton, denied flatly important testimony given by H. H. Ferris and G. R. Robinson, government witnesses. Young Benton even went so far as to contradict without reservation testimony given by his father, Joel Benton, several days ago.

At the rate the prosecution is going relative to cross-examination, it is doubtful if the case can be concluded this week.

PROF. W. E. McELROY TO FURNISH MUSIC

The many friends of Professor W. E. McElroy will be pleased to learn that he has been awarded the contract to furnish the band music for the coming state fair. He was awarded the contract on a bid of $875.00. Mr. McElroy is a Salem man, although he is temporarily filling an engagement at Oakland, Cal. He owns a home in this city and his wife and three children reside here.

Probably the best music ever furnished at the fair was furnished under the leadership of Mr. McElroy, and the fair patrons may again expect the best band to be gathered in the state.—Salem Statesman.

FURNITURE DEALERS MUST APPEAR MONDAY

Unless the men who were indicted in the alleged furniture trust appear in court Monday morning at 10 o'clock, Assistant United States Attorney James Cole will ask that bench warrants be served upon the defendants as ordered by Judge Charles E. Wolverton yesterday.

One reason for doing this is to save time in reading the indictment which is a voluminous affair of 65 pages, ten of which are single spaced. Mr. Cole's idea is to have the defendants appear in groups, and if they insist upon the reading of the document it will be read once. It is estimated that it will require the clerk about an hour and a half to read the legal instrument. To read it to each defendant would require about 270 hours, or 54 court days.

Several of the indicted men have already appeared at Mr. Cole's office to learn the disposition of their cases, one of whom was J. Goldstein, who stated that he was no longer in the furniture business, having sold out his store on Front street about a month ago.

In regard to the stories that have been circulated since the return of the indictment to the effect that certain ones who were indicted did not belong to the trust, Mr. Cole refused to say anything save to remark that the grand jury must have had evidence against the parties, else they would not have been included in the list.—Journal.

HENEY WILL COME NORTH NEXT MONTH

Trial of the land fraud cases against ex-Congressman Blinger Hermann and others will probably begin in July, says the Portland Telegram. Francis J. Heney has announced in San Francisco that it is his intention to return to Portland this summer to try these three cases, and it is thought probable that as soon as he has finished with the trial of Mayor Schmitz and the San Francisco courts adjourn for the summer, he will resume the fight against land frauds in Oregon.

Yesterday United States Attorney Bristol had all the government cases continued for the term, because of a lack of witness funds to bring the cases to trial; but another appointment is due by July 15, and it is thought by the time this is available Mr. Heney will be ready to resume his connection with the cases.

When Heney comes Mr. Bristol will give him a clear docket. The cases Mr. Heney wants to try, and which are still under his control, have been long pending and are first on the list. Therefore Mr. Bristol will lend every energy to help him try the cases. Mr. Heney would not be able to be here at any other time than during the summer, when the Bay City courts are taking a rest.

It is my purpose to displace the government's business as quickly as the condition of funds will permit," said Mr. Bristol this morning, when asked regarding the resumption of investigations and prosecutions.

The federal grand jury was dismissed yesterday against Mr. Bristol's wishes, but he was forced to discontinue the investigations because of the exhaustion of the witness fund. Every effort was made to prevent the unexpected end of the investigations, and before the grand jury adjourned Bristol made a requisition on the department, through Marshal Root, for $50,000. Additional funds, however, were not allowed; and inasmuch as the United States attorney intended to call something like 900 witnesses in investigating land fraud and other cases, and had less than $90 to pay them with, he was forced to throw up his hands and quit, until the condition of the exchequer will permit another start.

BABY WASTED TO MERE SKELETON

In Torments a Year and a Half with Terrible Sores on Face and Body
—Hands Tied to Stop Scratching and Tearing at Flesh—But

CURE BY CUTICURA COMPLETE AND SPEEDY

"My little son, when about a year and a half old began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk. My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. So great was her faith in it that she gave me a small piece of Cuticura Soap to try on a little Cuticura Ointment. I took it home without any faith, but to please her I tried it, and it seemed to dry up the sores a little. I sent to the drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and followed the directions, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since. He is now strong and healthy, and I can sincerely say that only for your most wonderful remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. I used only one cake of Soap and about three boxes of Ointment. Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D., No. 1, Woodville, Conn., April 22, 1905."

The King of Diamonds

BY LOUIS TRACY

Author of "The Wings of The Morning," "The Pillar of Light," etc.

ILLUSTRATED BY BERGER

This, like many of the best stories you have ever read, begins with a boy. Philip Anson's mother, to whom he is devoted, dies in poverty leaving her boy of fifteen alone in the world.

Just when he has determined to commit suicide he comes into the possession of diamonds of fabulous value in such a strange manner that they seem to be sent from heaven the gift of his mother.

To secure his vast wealth in spite of enemies and the persecution of the law is a problem that would tax older and wiser heads.

But the stars in their courses fought for Philip. His adventures in his new position make a story of extreme fascination—even if a high born little lady had not appeared to him in his poverty to fill his soul with a vision which he carried until it became a reality.

We will not ask you to read this story. We are going to publish the first chapter in a few days. If you can refrain from reading it or stop when you have begun you will be a greater wonder than Philip's fortune
