REPUBLICAN PARTY SOLID FOR ROOSEVELT

Washington, June 7.—In a leading editorial, discussing the presidential outlook, the New York Sun, speaking of President Roosevelt, says:

"It is everywhere conceded that only by his own will or his own act can prevent his re-election, and there is a widespread impression that not even his own will or act may suffice to defeat the popular determination."

When a paper like the Sun, which is decidedly hostile to the administration, comes out with such an admission, after sizing up the situation throughout the country, it is time for the average man to sit up and take notice. No paper in the country would derive more enjoyment from the retirement of Roosevelt than the Sun. Hardly a day goes by that the Sun does not take a fling at Mr. Roosevelt, and in the very editorial in question this leading New York daily intimates what it believes to be good and sufficient reasons why he should not be renominated. Yet, in spite of its reasons and its desires, the Sun practically admits that the president will be renominated, even against his will, and that his election will follow.

Taft Boom Falls to Silence Call.

Further along in this same editorial, after caustically criticizing the president for his course during the past six years, the Sun significantly remarks that "the somewhat premature but attractive candidacy of the secretary of war has served as a very indifferent check on the popular insistence upon Mr. Roosevelt's perpetuation in question which it is inferred that the Sun fails to find that the Taft boom is making much of an impression outside of Ohio. As between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft the Sun would unquestionably prefer the latter, and if there was anything on the horizon to give hope that Taft sentiment would assume such proportions as to drown out the clamor for Mr. Roosevelt's renomination, the Sun would be quick to seize upon even a slight indication. But there is no such straw apparent. The breeze is unquestionably blowing in the other direction.

Illinois Not for Cannon.

Coinciding with the publication of the Sun's editorial was the published result of a poll taken by an Iowa paper which showed that the Republican state chairmen of Minnesota, Nebraska, New Mexico, South Dakota, North Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Florida, North Carolina, Colorado and Illinois had all declared that Mr. Roosevelt was the popular choice in their respective states, and that the overwhelming majority of the Republican party in each state favored his renomination as against every other candidate. It was not surprising that such sentiment should have been disclosed in the West, or in fact in the South, but the great surprise of that poll was the declaration of the Illinois state chairman that 95 per cent of the Republicans of his state are for Mr. Roosevelt. Illinois has been regarded as a Cannon state, and it has been generally believed that the Illinois delegation to the next convention would unquestionably support Mr. Cannon. Mr. Cannon's friends have intimated that there was no doubt whatever as to the position Illinois Republicans would take. Yet here comes the state chairman with a declaration that 95 per cent of the Republicans of Illinois are for Mr. Roosevelt. Either the chairman is prejudiced against Mr. Cannon or else the Cannon boomers have put forward misleading statements for a purpose.

BRYAN OPPOSES THIRD-TERM TALK

Baltimore, June 7.—W. J. Bryan in an interview yesterday said:

"When in congress I attempted to secure an amendment to the constitution making the president ineligible for a second term, and in both of my campaigns I also announced that, if I was elected, I would not be a candidate for a second term. I would hardly look favorable, therefore, upon a third term.

"I assume that the president will adhere to the opinion which he has expressed on the subject and will not be a candidate again. It would be a reflection upon the success of his administration if, coming in by an enormous majority, he had so reduced the popularity of his party as to make it impossible for any other Republican to be elected.

"If his reforms are of a substantial nature, there ought to be some other Republican sufficiently identified with him to represent them as a candidate. It would be strange if the president was strong enough to violate the anti-third term precedent set by Washington, Madison, Jefferson, Monroe and Jackson and yet was not able to develop a worthy Republican successor."

PLANS TO BREAK LAND MONOPOLY

A. W. Lafferty, Young Portland Lawyer, Goes to Washington to Seek Aid from High Officials—Government Should Sue.

Believing that the Oregon & California Railroad can be ousted from its remaining 3,000,000 acres of granted lands for refusal to dispose of them for $2.50 an acre to "actual settlers," according to the terms of the trust under which the railroad received the lands from the United States, A. W. Lafferty, a young lawyer of Portland, set out for Washington last night to persuade Senator Bourne, Attorney-General Bonaparte, Secretary Gekfield, Land Commissioner Ballinger and other administration officials that the surest way of opening the lands to settlement is to take them away from the railroad, first through a court decision, holding the railroad and not fee simple owner, and second, through a court order, removing the railroad from the trusteeship and appointing new trustee, say three prominent and disinterested citizens.

Lafferty remarked that he believed suits brought by individual citizens to obtain land from the railroad would fail and that the government is the only plaintiff that can successfully bring suit to force the railroad to let go its grip.

Lafferty was formerly a special agent in the Northwest for the general land office, and claims to have sufficient knowledge of the land laws to warrant opinion about the railroad holdings. He said that while private land matters were the first object of his mission, he intended to devote a large part of his time to the railroad lands. Said he:

"There is a general demand in Western Oregon for the enforcement of the terms of this grant. Many citizens have even taken steps to institute suits on their own account, but my private opinion is that all such individual suits will fail. I am also convinced that all transfers of these lands made to innocent purchasers heretofore for a valuable consideration will be upheld by the courts. But if the railroad company can be forced to even partially comply with the terms of the act of congress, and shall be required to sell the remaining 3,000,000 acres of sold lands according to the terms of the grant, then a great deal will have been accomplished. And I am sure that this can be done. But it cannot be done, in my opinion, upon the suit of any private citizen. It will have to be done, if at all, by the government itself.—Oregonian.

SOCIETY

THIS has been a week in which there has been a diversion of society affairs—luncheons, a musical, dinner parties, a prominent wedding and a picturesque lawn party. The latter occurred on Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wilkins, when Miss Lucia Wilkins and Miss June Gra yentertained their class mates of the high school graduating class. Festoons of Japanese lanterns decked the lawn, and hammocks were swung between the trees. Supper was in the form of a picnic lunch and was spread on the grass by the guests themselves, assisted by Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Gray.

Mrs. Marietta Thurston entertained a few friends on Thursday afternoon at her home on East Ninth street. Needle work was the pastime of the afternoon, followed by an appetizing luncheon served by Mrs. Thurston, assisted by Miss Vernita Henderson. The guests were Mrs. F. G. Young, Mrs. Packard, Mrs. John Straub, Mrs. Wm. Polders, Mrs. J. F. Robinson, Mrs. C. H. Hales, Mrs. Odell and Mrs. Ed. West.

Mr. A. E. Bangs and Mr. R. D. Robinson were hosts at a dinner party given at the Smeede grill on Monday evening, in honor of Mr. Julian Whitman, of Berkeley, California. The invited guests, students of the University of Oregon, were the Messrs. Guy Mount, Webster Kincaid, Richard Hathaway, Virgil Cooper, Arthur Van Dusen, Grover Kestley, Roy Zacharias and Fred Moulton.

Little Miss Beatrice Wetherbee celebrated her eighth birthday on Monday afternoon with a lawn party, to which about fifteen of her friends were invited. Supper was served on the lawn by Mrs. Wetherbee, after which the children participated in speaking and singing.

Miss Bessie Day was hostess on Thursday afternoon to the Thimble club and a few invited guests, who were Mrs. Martin, Klamath Falls; Mrs. E. E. Mink, Mrs. Hugh Hampton and Mrs. Edith Miller. The event of the afternoon was the election of officers which resulted as follows: Mrs. Frank Page, president; Mrs. Frank Wetherbee, vice-president; and Mrs. Claire Willoughby, secretary.

Mrs. J. W. Kays and Mrs. Julius Goldsmith entertained again this week with two delightful card parties. That on Thursday afternoon was at the home of Mrs. Kays, when the lucky prize winners were Mrs. Laura Harris and Mrs. B. L. Bogart. The Misses Myrtle Kays and Vernita Henderson assisted the hostesses in serving. On Friday afternoon the entertainment was at the home of Mrs. Goldsmith. What was enjoyed by about forty guests; the first prize was awarded to Mrs. G. W. Smith, the second to Mrs. Geo. McMoran, and the consolation token to Mrs. L. L. Whitson. After the awarding of the prizes the hostesses were assisted in serving a dainty luncheon by the Misses Frieda Goldsmith, Vernita Henderson and Myrtle Kays.

Mrs. Adelaide Church charmingly entertained with an afternoon party on Friday. The guests brought their needle work and passed several pleasant hours in this manner, after which an elaborate luncheon was served. Plates were laid for fifteen around a large table with an elegant center piece with white roses. Miss Ermine Church and Mrs. Lawrence Harris served the luncheon. The guests present were the Mesdames L. G. Adair, Martha Chambers, T. F. Hendricks, F. M. Wilkins, J. F. Robinson, Laura Harris, O. E. Smith, S. F. Kerns, C. M. Collier, J. M. Shelley, S. M. Moran, Geo. T. Hall, C. S. Dunbar and A. S. Patterson.

Thursday evening the teachers of the Patterson school gave a pleasant little surprise to City Superintendent M. H. Arnold at his home on Pearl street. They invaded his home unawares and spent a very enjoyable evening with him and his wife. Mr. Arnold was presented with a very beautiful book, "Good Cheer."

The dance in Davies' hall after the band concert last night was largely attended and was a social success. This was the first one for a long time and the young people are hoping that the orchestra may give them often during the summer until the weather gets too hot.

Friendly-Harris.

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock was solemnized the wedding of Miss Carrie Friendly, of Eugene, and Mr. Fred Harris, of San Francisco, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Friendly, at the corner of Tenth and Willamette streets. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with cut flowers and vines. Promptly at 8 o'clock the mandolin club began Mendelsohn's wedding march and the bridal party entered, preceded by Rabbi Jonah Wise, Portland, who performed the ceremony. The bride, attired in a beautiful gown of white muscadine and duchess lace, carrying a bouquet of white rose buds, entered on the arm of her father, and was attended by Miss Therese Friendly as maid of honor, gowned in pompadour crepe de chene and carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses, and by Miss Rosalie Friendly, as bridesmaid, gowned in pink muscadine and carrying a shower bouquet of pink carnations. Little Miss Vera Rosenblatt acted as flower girl and Miss Arlene Rosenblatt as ring bearer, both nieces of the groom. Mr. Sam Herman, of Portland, was best man and Mr. Mark Green, San Francisco, also attended the groom. The ceremony was performed in a bay window underneath a canopy of smilax, the wedding party standing on a carpet of white rose leaves. Following the ceremony, the guests adjourned to the Commercial club, where an elaborate banquet was spread on a horse-shoe shaped table, beautifully adorned with rhododendrons and La France roses. Mr. E. H. Lauer acted as toast-master and seven or eight good toasts were responded to. When the cake was cut the ring was awarded to Miss Lauer, of Portland, the thimble to Miss Ella Doble and the coin to Miss Lou Renshaw. The gifts were numerous and magnificent. That of the groom to the bride was a beautiful diamond and pearl crescent. A number of smart toilets were in evidence, the bride's mother wearing black silk crepe de chene. Mr. and Mrs. Harris left on the early train Thursday morning for a trip through the South, after which they will reside in Southern California. There were no cards. The out of town guests were from San Francisco—Mrs. Frank Topping, Mr. A. A. Brown, Mark Green, Dr. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenblatt, the Misses Vera and Arlene Rosenblatt; from Portland—Mr. and Mrs. S. Herman, Miss Herman, Mr. Sig Herman, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Harris, Miss Ann Harris, Mrs. Charles Lauer, Miss Lauer, Mrs. Sol Baum, Mr. E. H. Lauer, Miss Amy Lauer, Mr. Teddie Baum, Mr. Sam Hirsch, Dr. Jonah Wise, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. Bessinger, Mrs. C. A. Macrum, Mrs. J. E. Bronaugh, and Mrs. R. S. Smith, of Klamath Falls.

Silver Wedding at Springfield. Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Gorrie were tendered a very pleasant surprise party at their home May 25th, the event being the 25th anniversary of their wedding day. Surrounded by their family of nine children they spent a very happy afternoon with the friends who had met to offer their congratulations and share their joy on the happy occasion. Games and social chat were enjoyed by all present and lunch was served on the lawn. Mr. and Mrs. Gorrie received some very beautiful and appropriate presents. About 6 o'clock the party broke up and returned to their several homes, leaving behind them their hearty wishes to the worthy couple for a long continuation of their journey through life together.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Ruddiman, Mrs. Sinner, Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Armitage, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Levinger, Mrs. McBea, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Dodd, Miss Kirkland, Miss McBea, Miss McPherson, Miss Douglas, Miss Ramsey, Archie Carpenter, Dori McBea, Alice McBea, Marie Sinner, Little Miss Mathey.—News.
