NEW ZEALAND IDEAS

We read in the magazines a great many articles on New Zealand. It is a new country, but it seems able to furnish many new ideas of government. Some of these, as detailed by a prominent official of that country, not long ago, might be profitably imitated in this country.

New Zealand, it seems, is governed on the idea which is gradually assuming controlling strength here, that the people really rule. There they do it in fact; here they have only done it in name. We do it out of the mouths of our rulers, who too often have fallen into the habit of regarding themselves and their own interests as the people's—and of ruling accordingly. Here the corporation has risen to the control of things from which it is now to be torn down.

New Zealand seems to have taken it by the ear in time, and to have secured the development of industries without undue cost to the people, by the simple expedient of stepping in with government operation of monopolies and government hand on conspiracies seeking to suppress competition in business.

The government operates the railroads and telegraphs and such things as need to be monopolies for their successful and cheap development. The government keeps the manufacturers in check by its duties and taxes. It is seemingly a very paternal government, but perhaps not more so than is necessary to secure to the individual citizen his liberty and equality, which we declare for them, but fail to secure to them.

We will get there after a while, but New Zealand seems to have stolen a march on us. They have street car fares for a penny, which is two cents; and a seat for every passenger. When the seats are full no more are taken aboard, an arrangement recommending itself to the good sense of every one save the transporter, no one of whom has ever seen its propriety. They say the proposed passenger would howl if excluded; and so he might; but the way to pacify him is to give him a seat in another car—which is also a remedy which the transporter in this country finds too costly.

Another Smith is out for national political honors, in the person of Senator W. A. Smith, of Michigan, now being boomed for the vice presidency. The family is rapidly developing a tendency to demand its own.

A negro editor, after calling the temporary commissioner of internal revenue a "two-faced political pirate," naively adds: "We don't abuse."

Recent news from Japan and the continued silence of Captain Richmond P. Hobson seems to make it in order to ask: Who did the muzzling?

If any man has stopped trying to accumulate money for fear of its being taken away from him by the government, the public hasn't found it out.

After all it isn't much consolation to think that the weather of 1907 may be an interesting subject of conversation with the grandfathers of 1957.

Woman's spellbinding is both at its best and its worst when exercised upon an audience of one. As a rule it is at its best before and at its worst afterward.

The pure food law has worked so satisfactorily that President Roosevelt is encouraged in his belief in the possibility of a pure money law.

HOW TO KILL YOUR TOWN

Kick. Keep kicking. And don't quit kicking. Go to other towns and buy your goods.

Denounce the merchants because they make a profit on their goods. Knife every man that disagrees with you on the method of increasing business.

Make your own town out a very bad place, and stab it every chance you get. Refuse to unite with any scheme for the betterment of the material interests of the people.

Tell your merchant that you can buy your goods a good deal cheaper in another town and charge him with extortion. Keep every cent you get and don't do anything of a public nature unless you can make something out of it directly.

When you say anything of your town say it in such a way that it will leave the impression that you have no faith in it.

Patronize outside newspapers to the exclusion of your own, and then denounce them for not being as large as the city papers.

COLDNESS.

What words of sweetness meaning. What wistful, pleading gaze. Can draw the alien spirit To love, and love's embrace?

For hearts will not be bidden And love no spell doth know To rouse the fire that's hidden Beneath a robe of snow.

The planets in their courses Might easier bend to earth, There are no words, no force, To call love into birth.

Oh cease your mute appealing, And looks that soft entreat, No power can waken feeling In hearts that coldly beat. —Elizabeth French.

DON'T DO ANY GOOD TO GET MAD AT S. P.

(Albany Democrat.) The people of Eugene are becoming impatient because the S. P. does not do certain things, says a local paper. Well, just get mad and see what good it does. The madder you get with the S. P. the slower will be the response. Just keep cool and out the R. R. boys on the back and it will come just as quick. We are almost past the mad stage.

A LONG FELT WANT

While working in the largest dyeing and cleaning works on the coast and while there seeing lots of garments shipped from Eugene to be dye-cleaned, or dyed, and after investigating and going over the ground thoroughly we saw at once that there was a good opening for a first-class cleaning and dyeing works in Eugene, so we decided to put in a first-class plant and are doing well from the start. We are the only experts in this line north of San Francisco, and have had over 12 years' experience and guarantee all work. All articles dyed and cleaned by us are treated separately for sanitary purposes and done by hand. In this way we obtain good results and as no machinery is used in our work that will tear or injure the fabric.

HALL FOR MUSIC RECITALS NEEDED IN EUGENE

One of the things needed in Eugene is a regular recital hall for music recitals and occasions of this kind along educational lines. This need was brought to our notice by the conditions as they existed at the music recital at Eilers Piano House one evening this week. The large room was crowded to the doors by those anxious to participate in the pleasure of the occasion and while seating space had been provided for a large audience yet the accommodations were insufficient for many stood up throughout the entire entertainment. In front of the building the walk was all occupied by listeners, who, while they could not see the performers, listened attentively. Also the street in front was lined with carriages loaded with people whose tastes were musical, and the splendid order and quiet that prevailed showed plainly the appreciation of Eugene musical talent along these lines, and the Eilers Piano House is to be congratulated on the recognition of the needs of our people in this respect. The utility of a recital hall in connection with the branch here is beyond question, and the feature is under consideration by the local representative.

TRIMMING SHADE TREES.

All property owners must within 15 days from notice heretofore cause all shade trees in front of their premises, and on their premises overhanging the street, to be trimmed to a height of not less than fifteen feet, so as to afford to travelers an uninterrupted view of street lights, or be subject, for failure to do so after notice, to a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $20. Take warning.

J. P. TURNER, Street Commissioner. Dated this 17th day of June, 1907.

Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. This instant relief came. The coughing soon stopped, the bleeding rapidly diminished, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1 at W. L. DeLano's drug store. Trial bottle free.

ONLY HALF FORCE AT FRUIT CANNERY

The Allen fruit cannery is working only half force now, on account of inability to get enough cherries to keep them going. At that 200 cases of twenty-four cans each are put up each day. Of the fifty persons now employed about thirty-five are girls and to watch the ripe fruit go through the various processes would convince any housewife that it is easier to buy canned fruit than spend hot mornings in the kitchen. Next week the full force will be working. As soon as the cherry crop is canned, peaches and other fruit will be ready. After them come pears, prunes and apples.

S. P. CO. MAY PUT LOCAL STUB TRAIN

May be Forced to Accommodate Traveling Public in Western Oregon.

The matter of poor passenger service on the Southern Pacific, especially south to north, having been taken up with the company's officials by the railroad commission, after the numerous complaints had been lodged, and the company having failed to remedy the conditions complained of within a reasonable time the commission will likely set a hearing for compelling the company to put on a stub train service from Roseburg to Portland when scheduled passenger trains are reported more than one hour late. If the company is compelled to put on an extra train when the regular passenger is late, it will be of great convenience to valley people.

The S. P. company has completed the Divide spur track for which shippers have been so long beseeching. This week track layers are at work on the Curtin spur, adding to the length of the siding. At one time shippers were minded to carry the matter of putting in these two spurs to the State Commission, but now that they are in such a step is unnecessary.
