Buster Brown

Boys and girls are now in town, All here to see our "Buster Brown"; Each one has heard the welcome news Of "Buster and BLUE RIBBON SHOES."

When "Buster and his Tig" appeared, The boys and girls exclaimed, "they feared That 'Tig' his precious health would lose Because he wore not 'BLUE RIBBON SHOES.'"

Then "Buster" smiled and looked so sweet And showed the crowd his little feet, And hoped that they would not confuse The shoddy kind with BLUE RIBBON SHOES.

Then "Tig" stood up and seemed to say, "My friends I'm present here today To break to you this bit of news That dogs don't wear BLUE RIBBON SHOES."

But boys of every class and creed, And girls, too, who chance to need, Will never once their health abuse, Who wear the well-made BLUE RIBBON SHOES.

We are sole agents in Eugene for the "Buster Brown" BLUE RIBBON SHOES.

HANDSAKER AND PEARCE ARE GIVEN SENTENCE

WILL SERVE SIX AND FIVE YEARS RESPECTIVELY AT SALEM FOR ROBBING URIAH GARL AT NATRON

Their Attorneys Asked for Parole Sentence But Judge Harris Refused—Bert Kelsay, Charged With Theft of John Tunnell's Check, Acquitted by Jury Today.

There was a sad scene in the court room this forenoon when the time came for sentencing Samuel L. Handsaker and Harold Pearce, the self-confessed robbers of Uriah Garl at Natron on the night of May 28. Among the audience in the room at the time sat a number of the relatives of the boys—neither one of them is over 21 years old, Handsaker being only 19—including Handsaker's young bride of only a few weeks, and his grandmother. As the judge commanded Handsaker to rise and asked him if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, the wife and grandmother could control their feelings no longer and burst into tears. The young man stood erect and in the midst of a death-like stillness he replied to the judge: "I have nothing to say except I am very sorry for the act and expect to do better in the future." At that moment L. Blyden put joy into the hearts of the anxious relatives by making a touching plea that the boy be given a parole sentence, reciting the fact that he was of a splendid family, that this was his first offense of the kind, that the money taken from the old man had been returned to him and the prisoner had made complete confession. The judge, after listening to the plea and remarks from District Attorney McFadden in which he said the matter rested with the discretion of the judge as to the kind of a sentence to impose, stated that he would defer sentence until this afternoon.

E. O. Potter, attorney for Harold Pearce, also made a plea for a parole sentence for him, and his sentence was also deferred until this afternoon. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the boys were again taken into court and Judge Harris, after dwelling upon the seriousness of their offense, pronounced sentence, giving Handsaker six years and Pearce five years in the penitentiary. The aged grandmother and the wife of young Handsaker followed the pair out of the courtroom to the jail, where they were allowed to linger awhile in the vestibule to bid him good bye, but were finally compelled to withdraw amid tears and heart-rending sobs.

Kelsay Not Guilty. The jury in the case of the state vs. Bert Kelsay, charged with the larceny of a $240 check from John Tunnell at Creswell, returned a verdict of not guilty this afternoon and the boy was discharged from custody.

Jury Disagrees. The Hoffman vs. Scott jury, after being out 15 hours, returned this morning at 2:15 o'clock and reported that they could not agree upon a verdict. They were discharged. It is said that at first the jury stood five in favor of Scott and seven for Mrs. Hoffman, but at the last it was reversed.
