AN INDEPENDENT PAPER. Member of Associated Press. SATURDAY, JULY 13

EVERYBODY MUST ASSIST IN CARRYING OUT RAILROAD PROGRAM

The important announcement is made in today's Guard that the Siuslaw railroad stock subscription has been fully subscribed. This means that work upon a railroad will begin from this city immediately that will reach the big timber district to the west during the coming year, and in due time will give interior Lane county a direct connection with the water on the Siuslaw. It is also reasonably certain that a branch line will be constructed to Corvallis, where connection will be made with the navigable waters of the Willamette river. This is understood to be part of Mr. Carver's plan to make his road absolutely independent of other lines, while not included in his proposition to the people of Eugene, and work upon this part of the system will probably be carried on simultaneously with the construction of the Eugene-Siuslaw section.

Not only will the construction of an independent line of railroad be of vast benefit to this city, making it an important jobbing and business center, but it will prove a boon to every section of Lane county and the upper Willamette valley. For this reason it should be borne in mind that this railroad movement and its promoters deserve the heartiest support of all the people, during the progress of building operations, because it is to be a road owned and managed by the people, through a local board of directors. During the preliminary work of securing rights-of-way and preparing for actual construction the good will and co-operation of the people is especially to be desired, and at all times the direct interest of the public in the great enterprise should be uppermost in the minds of all.

Those who have worked so untiringly to induce the people of Lane county to comply with the terms of Mr. Carver's proposition deserve at least the gratitude of the community if no more substantial recognition or reward for their services may be extended.

With the signs propitious for a new and unparalleled growth along all lines, the people of this city should pull together long and stoutly to bring about the consummation of our hopes for a greater Eugene, not only the most beautiful, but the best and biggest town in all Oregon with the single exception of Portland.

GOOD LUCK TO THE BOY WHO SAYS "WE."

Don't laugh at a boy who magnifies his place. You may see him coming from the postoffice with a big bundle of his employer's letters, which he displays with as much pride as though they were his own. He feels important and looks it, but he is proud of his place. He is attending to business. He likes to have the world know that he is at work for a busy concern. The boy who says "we" identifies himself with the concern. His interests are his. He sticks up for its credit and reputation. He takes pleasure in his work and hopes to say we are in earnest. The boy will reap what he sows if he keeps his grit and sticks to his job. You may take off your hat to him as one of the future solid men of the town. Let his employer do the right thing by him. Check him kindly if he shows signs of being too big for his place, counsel him as to his habits and associates, and occasionally show him a pleasant prospect of advancement. A little pride does an honest boy a heap of good. Good luck to the boy who says "we."

The members of the city council are anxious to have the county court pass upon the matter of the proposed paving of the park blocks and county buildings without further delay. The paving district has already been enlarged by an ordinance passed at the last council meeting, and it is desired to finally settle the boundaries so that the contracts may be executed, enabling the paving company to adjust their plans to the amount of work to be done this year. The Guard thinks that the taxpayers of the county will endorse the action of the board if it is decided to authorize the paving proposed, since it is in the nature of a public improvement that cannot long be deferred, owing to the location of the county property in the heart of the city and the desire of private owners in the vicinity to have the work done now, while the Warren Construction Company has its plant here, and are prepared to do the work at a cost probably lower than it can be done for at some future time.

Western railroads are complaining of labor difficulties. The large amount of building going on needs more men than can be found. Laborers are independent as a result and do not remain at one job any time. W. H. Bancroft, vice president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line, says 120 men who were brought out from New York to Battle Mountain, Nevada, by the railroad, jumped their jobs and went on to San Francisco. The railroads are bringing men clear from New York, paying their fare, so scarce are laborers throughout the West. Making it harder for railroads building in Nevada are the inducements offered in a mining way. Laborers go prospecting when they have secured a "grub stake."

Even at this quiet season of the year, with all the numerous educational institutions of Eugene closed, the "for rent" signs that in former years were wont to adorn the windows of residences in this city during the summer months are unusually scarce, all of which indicates that the demand for houses will be great when the university opens. Those who are now recreating in the mountains or at the seaside will return and the fall and winter activities promise to be exceptional this year. This condition is no doubt due to the many large projects now under way, or in immediate prospect, and it is safe to say that there will have to be an active building season or a genuine house famine will be on before next winter.

The increase in the stamp sales at Eugene's postoffice for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907, was $2,581.21 over the previous year. While this city is not booming, such a decided increase in postal receipts indicates that it is after all "going some." Eugene now has four city mail carriers.

Those who criticize jury verdicts of acquittal under so-called "unwritten law" and demand that our laws be reformed are barking at the wrong knot hole. It is human nature that will have to be re-formed to stop such verdicts.

At least one Philadelphian is doing his best to pull the town out of the slow class—he proposed to and was accepted by a pretty nurse the day after his wife's death. Even in Chicago that would be considered as going some.

Marie Corelli may be counted upon to deny that she proposed marriage to Mark Twain, while driving through Stratford-on-Avon in an open carriage with him, if she has to write a novel to do it.

One thing must be credited to the nature-fakirs—they have made all the stock sea-serpent yachts look like plugged nickels. And anyway, they'll soon be devoting their talents to politics.

One of our scientists has secured successful photographs of the canals on the planet Mars, but it's dollars to brass buttons that no Marlin has got any of the Panama canal.

His Olliness has been accused of many shortcomings, and that he has been short of most of them is doubtless true, but inability to keep business secrets is not among them.

All our battleships are to be mounted on wheels and sent overland to the Pacific. This is about as authentic as most of the stuff that is being printed on the subject.

There's no politics in the suggestion that the immense treasury surplus be put back into circulation—it's big enough to give every man, woman and child a dollar. Senator "Bob" Taylor of Tennessee see predicts a war with Japan and advocates a navy second in size to that of no nation. And "Bob" is a good democrat, too.

With Booker Washington sawing wood and "Teddy" chopping wood, within three miles of each other, there should be something doing ere the dog star wanes.

Why should Bryan worry about who is to be the democratic candidate for president, when so many other men are willing to do it for him?

A little straight-from-the-shoulder, shirt-sleeve diplomacy might prove to be the most soothing medicine Uncle Sam could hand the feverish Japs.

That's a fool idea, evolved by a St. Louis Solomon, to fine attempted suicides $500. Nobody with that much coin is likely to attempt suicide.

Canon compels the admission that as a rule those who are taking a conspicuous part in the anti-thesis crusade are personally unkillable.

The call of the harvest, which is as insistent as usual, must be hard on the nerves of the gamblers who tried so hard to kill the crop.

No wonder dollar-chasing is Chicago's specialty seven days a week—the police of that city are jailing men found without money.

THE STREET CAR BABY

It's just a round bundle of flannels and lace, Two fat little feet, pudgy hands and a face, And, kicking and rolling, grows bolder and bolder, Till it crawls from its mother's embrace to her shoulder, And there it surveys all the folks in the car, And crows as if pleased with all things as they are: It chuckles and gurgles and smiles in a way, That means "All you kind people, I bid you good day." Then mothers observe it and say it's well grown, But of course not a patch on the kids of their own. While a school girl examines the shapeless wee boot, And declares that the darling's too sweetly cute; And the crusty old healers look up from their papers With a half-frowning smile at the baby-kid's capers, Half afraid if they catch those round eyes of deep blue, The fat little baggage will gurgle "Pop-goo." And then, as the bundle of coolings and charms, Is borne from the car in its mother's proud arms, A fatherly man says, "Your boy is a peer," And coldly the mother replies, "She's a girl." —Toronto Telegram.

WHEN YOU THINK ABOUT IT

When you come to think about it—on this old terrestrial ball, Rimmed with roses in the springtime, heaped with fruitage in the fall; Though we all were born a growlin'—though we're axle deep in doubt; There is really very little for the world to growl about.

When you come to think about it—did your growlin' ever pay? Did it ever head a rainbow—chase a thunder cloud away? Don't it deafen all the angels when they try to sing an' shout? Don't they know that there's but little in the world to growl about?

When you come to think about it—but the best way's not to think! There's a spring there by the way-side—stop ye, travelers, and drink! There's a green tree in this desert, 'neath a firmament of blue, An' a hive that's drippin' honey for the famished lips of you! —Atlanta Constitution.

The Smile that won't come off, appears on baby's face after one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, the great worm medicine. Why not keep that smile on baby's face? If you keep this medicine on hand, you will never see anything else but smiles on his face. Mrs. S., Blackwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. Would not eat and I feared he would die. I used a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he has not had a sick day since." Linn Drug Co.
